Fisher III, 2018-06-05 This anthology presents for the first time full texts of the twenty most important works of American legal thought since 1890 Drawing on a course the editors teach at Harvard Law School the book traces the rise and evolution of a distinctly American form of legal reasoning These are the articles that have made these authors from Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr to Ronald Coase from Ronald Dworkin to Catherine MacKinnon among the most recognized names in American legal history These authors proposed answers to the classic question What does it mean to think like a lawyer an American lawyer Their answers differed but taken together they form a powerful brief for the existence of a distinct and powerful style of reasoning and of rulership The legal mind is as often critical as constructive however and these texts form a canon of critical thinking a toolbox for resisting and unravelling the arguments of the best legal minds Each article is preceded by a short introduction highlighting the article's main ideas and situating it in the context of its author's broader intellectual projects the scholarly debates of his or her time and the reception the article received Law students and their teachers will benefit from seeing these classic writings in full in the context of their original development For lawyers the collection will take them back to their best days in law school All readers will be struck by the richness the subtlety and the sophistication with which so many of what have become the clichés of everyday legal argument were originally formulated
