Retribution Repentance And Reconciliation:

Change and Transformation Thomas P. Power, 2013-08-21 The integrative theme of this collection of essays is change and transformation explored in the context of diverse expressions within the context of Anglican Church history It addresses some central themes notably the sacraments liturgy biblical interpretation theological education the relationship of church and state governance and authority and Christian education The volume traces Anglican Church history chronologically It includes a comparative study of penance in the thought of John Wyclif and Thomas Cranmer The book also treats the dispersal of authority evident in the development of the Book of Common Prayer and the King James Bible consensus in eucharistic theology in the seventeenth century and developments in biblical interpretation in the early eighteenth century This book also discusses a vision for the Christian education of children change in theological education in the 1830s the metanarrative of continuity developed by High Church historians in the late nineteenth century increasing self government in the Church at the outset of the twentieth century and models of governance at the outset of the twenty first While this collection highlights aspects of change and transformation as an integrative theme it is not its premise that change was normative or pervasive perpetual or constant within Anglicanism Nevertheless these essays raise some new lines of inquiry make some suggestive interpretations or propose revision of accepted views Reforming Reformation Thomas F.

Mayer, 2016-12-05 The Reformation used to be singular a unique event that happened within a tidily circumscribed period of time in a tightly constrained area and largely because of a single individual Few students of early modern Europe would now accept this view Offering a broad overview of current scholarly thinking this collection undertakes a fundamental rethinking of the many and varied meanings of the term concept and label reformation particularly with regard to the Catholic Church Accepting the idea of the Reformation as a process or set of processes that cropped up just about anywhere Europeans might be found the volume explores the consequences of this through an interdisciplinary approach with contributions from literature art history theology and history By examining a single topic from multiple interdisciplinary perspectives the volume avoids inadvertently reinforcing disciplinary logic a common result of the way knowledge has been institutionalized and compartmentalized in research universities over the last century The result of this is a much more nuanced view of Catholic Reformation and once that extends consideration much further both chronologically geographically and politically than is often accepted As such the volume will prove essential reading to anyone interested in early modern religious history A Theological Odyssey John W. De Gruchy, 2014-09-01 John de Gruchy is one of the greatest and most respected South African theologians of the past five decades His work has left an indelible mark on both the South African and international theological landscapes In this book he describes his theological journey revisiting core themes periods and sources This is an enriching read as De Gruchy engages with some of the greatest theologians in the history of the church notably John Calvin Karl Barth Karl Rahner Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Reinhold Niebuhr as well as with a wide selection of his fellow South African theologians Cas Wepener Three Theological Mistakes Ric Machuga, 2015-01-05 Is the existence of God a matter of faith or knowledge Does God sometimes act miraculously or are there physical causes for everything Is morality absolute or relative Are humans truly free or does God's sovereignty determine everything When bad things happen is God the cause or are they the fault of humans Too frequently Christians answer these questions with a Yes to one side and a No to the other side Thomas Aquinas and Karl Barth answer Yes to both Following their model Machuga defends a third way which transcends the Enlightenment dichotomies of fideism vs rationalism supernaturalism vs naturalism relativism vs absolutism free will vs predestination and God's justice vs his mercy Machuga begins by showing how these false dichotomies grew out of the Enlightenment assumptions of mechanism universal quantification and mono causation He then corrects these demonstrably dubious assumptions by articulating a theory of dual causation The result is a thoroughly biblical understanding of God miracles and free will that can withstand the contemporary criticisms of both science and philosophy

Liberalism and War Andrew Williams, 2013-04-03 Military power is now the main vehicle for regime change The US army has been used on more than 30 different occasions in the post Cold War world compared with just 10 during the whole of the Cold War era Leading scholar Andrew Williams tackles contemporary thinking on war with a detailed study on liberal thinking over the last century about how wars should be ended using a vast range of historical archival material from diplomatic other official and personal papers which this study situates within the debates that have emerged in political theory He examines the main strategies used at the end and in the aftermath of wars by liberal states to consolidate their liberal gains and to prevent the re occurrence of wars with those states they have fought This new study also explores how various strategies revenge restitution reparation restraint retribution reconciliation and reconstruction have been used by liberal states not only to defeat their enemies but also transform them This is a major new contribution to contemporary thinking and action This book will be of great interest to all students and scholars of politics international relations and security studies Pain, Penance, and Protest Sara M. Butler, 2021-11-18 In medieval England a defendant who refused to plead to a criminal indictment was sentenced to pressing with weights as a coercive measure Using peine forte et dure strong and hard punishment as a lens through which to analyse the law and its relationship with Christianity Butler asks where do we draw the line between punishment and penance And how can pain function as a vehicle for redemption within the common law Adopting a multidisciplinary approach this book embraces both law and literature When Christ is on trial before Herod he refused to plead his silence signalling denial of the court's authority England's discontented subjects from hungry peasant to even King Charles I himself stood mute before the courts in protest Bringing together penance pain and protest Butler breaks down the mythology surrounding peine forte et dure and examines how it functioned within the medieval criminal justice system

Missions, 2023-03-13 Pacifying Missions provides the first sustained examination of peace and missionary work in the context of the British Empire. It interrogates diverse missionary projects from Africa and the Pacific region, unfolding a variegated world of ideas, discourses, and actions. The volume yields compelling evidence for a reconsideration of peace as a vital focus for analysis in the history of Christian mission. It also reveals a landscape of peace that was plural, dynamic, and contested, worked out in specific contexts and deeply entangled with understandings and experiences of violence. Contributors to this volume are Geoffrey Troughton, Elizabeth Elbourne, Jane Samson, David Maxwell, Norman Etherington, Esme Cleall, Amy Stambach, Joanna Cruickshank, and Bronwyn Shepherd.

Beyond Retribution Christopher D. Marshall, 2001. Recently a growing number of Christians have actively promoted the concept of restorative justice and attempted to develop programs for dealing with crime based on restorative principles. But is this approach truly consistent with the teaching of Scripture? To date, very little has been done to test this claim. Beyond Retribution fills a gap by plumbing the New Testament on the topics of crime, justice, and punishment. Christopher Marshall first explores the problems involved in applying ethical teachings from the New Testament to mainstream society. He then surveys the extent to which the New Testament addresses criminal justice issues, looking in particular at the concept of the justice of God in the teachings of Paul and Jesus. He also examines the topic of punishment, reviewing the debate in social thinking over the ethics and purpose of punishment, including capital punishment, and he advocates a new concept of restorative punishment. The result of this engaging work is a biblically based challenge to imitate the way of Christ in dealing with both victims and offenders. Publisher: Confession and Criminal Justice in Late Medieval Italy Lidia Luisa Zanetti Domingues, 2021. This monograph provides an in-depth comparison of lay and religious sources produced in Siena 1260-1330 on criminal justice, conflict, and violence. Memory and Commemoration in Medieval Culture Elma Brenner, Meredith Cohen, Mary Franklin-Brown, 2016-04-22. In medieval society and culture, memory occupied a unique position. It was central to intellectual life and the medieval understanding of the human mind. Commemoration of the dead was also a fundamental Christian activity. Above all, the past and the memory of it occupied a central position in medieval thinking, from ideas concerning the family unit to those shaping political institutions. Focusing on France but incorporating studies from further afield, this collection of essays marks an important new contribution to the study of medieval memory and commemoration. Arranged thematically, each part highlights how memory cannot be studied in isolation but instead intersects with many other areas of medieval scholarship, including art history, historiography, intellectual history, and the study of religious culture. Key themes in the study of memory are explored, such as collective memory, the links between memory and identity, the fallibility of memory, and the linking of memory to the future as an anticipation of what is to come.

Religious Conflict at Canterbury Cathedral in the Late Twelfth Century James Barnaby, 2024. Documents a long-running dispute between the archbishops and monks of Canterbury throughout the 1180s and 1190s. For fifteen years, the monks of Christ Church, Canterbury, waged a war against their archbishop over a plan to build a church to provide funds for their administration dedicated to Thomas Becket Fearing the loss of their most beloved and lucrative saint to this new institution the monks embarked on a course of action which saw rioting in the streets of Canterbury their excommunication and the cathedral placed under siege by the archbishop Although at first glance an internal dispute between the archbishop and his cathedral chapter it had a wide ranging impact The monks travelled thousands of miles in support of their cause enlisting the backing of popes cardinals and the elites of Europe In England the kings during the period took a personal interest in the dispute sometimes attempting to resolve it and sometimes hindering any chance of peace This book the first full account of the conflict draws on the huge collection of letters it provoked one of the largest compiled in the twelfth century alongside other sources such as monastic culture to offer a detailed narrative of this complicated feud between Archbishops Baldwin of Forde Hubert Walter and their cathedral monks it also considers the continuations of the dispute in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries In addition it analyses the key themes of the conflict the role of royalty travel and the deployment of Thomas Becket

Gratian the Theologian John C. Wei, 2016-02-19 Gratian the Theologian shows how one of the best known canonists of the medieval period was also an accomplished theologian Well into the twelfth century compilations of Church law often dealt with theological issues Gratian's Concordia discordantium canonum or Decretum which was originally compiled around 1140 was no exception and so Wei claims in this provocative book The Decretum is the fundamental canon law work of the twelfth century which served as both the standard textbook of canon law in the medieval schools and an authoritative law book in ecclesiastical and secular courts Yet theology features prominently throughout the Decretum both for its own sake and for its connection to canon law and canonistic jurisprudence

The Death of Christian Britain Callum G. Brown, 2009-01-26 The Death of Christian Britain examines how the nation's dominant religious culture has been destroyed Callum Brown challenges the generally held view that secularization was a long and gradual process dating from the industrial revolution Instead he argues that it has been a catastrophic and abrupt cultural revolution starting in the 1960s Using the latest techniques of gender analysis and by listening to people's voices rather than purely counting heads the book offers new formulations of religion and secularization In this expanded second edition Brown responds to commentary on his ideas reviews the latest research and provides new evidence to back his claims
