Forget Them Not Joanne M. Hemenway, 2010-07-09 To witness effectively and powerfully to Christian testimonies of care and compassion of justice and mercy of healing and wholeness it is necessary to foster awareness of the realities of the present system of retributive justice if there is to be any hope of transformation to a system of justice which is restorative Forget Them Not provides a history of the prison system as a means of punishment contrasting it with the relatively recent but growing practice of restorative justice Joanne Hemenway explores the concept of disconnection as radical evil as a separation from God who is the source of our being and shows how our present approach to punishment fosters this evil The present system with its motif of retributive justice generates shame rejection and loneliness which stokes the fires of anger and rage This breeds deep disconnection which only serves to fuel further cycles of violence Hemenway presents three vignettes designed to help explore forgiveness in the context of both retributive and restorative justice To promote healing and connection Forget Them Not introduces compassionate witnessing in prison ministry as a way to develop awareness and empowerment

Free in Deed Craig L. Nesson, 2022 Free in Deed provides an imaginative and succinct introduction to Lutheran ethics which the author contends is finally neighbor ethics The gospel of Jesus Christ sets us free to serve neighbors including all creation and their well being This Lutheran framework provides a distinctive approach for navigating social issues in tumultuous times Pleiadian Perspectives on Human Evolution Amorah Quan Yin, 1996-05-01 The Pleiadian Emissaries of Light provide this fascinating chronicle of human spiritual evolution from a galactic perspective This wider history of our solar system restores the long forgotten connection of humankind with Venus Mars Maldek and Earth The truth about our ancient past is uncovered helping us to remember the experiences that have caused us to function dualistically and guiding us toward karmic wholeness as unified and divine beings Healing Violent Men David J. Livingston, Violence forgiveness and healing Domestic violence is a widespread though largely invisible problem often exacerbated by the pastoral urge to keep the family together at all costs Yet if that is not a solution how should the church relate to batterers I believe that the Christian community if it is to be genuinely a community of healing and hope must attend to both the victims and the perpetrators of domestic violence says David Livingston Addressing the complex phenomenon of intimate violence against wives lovers and children Livingston profiles batterers and battering and traces it to larger cultural pathologies He explores the ambiguous role of religion and then offers practical advice of pastoral and programmatic efforts to embrace simultaneously the twin Christian imperatives of forgiveness and responsibility Dimensions Of Forgiveness Everett L. Worthington, 2009-06-14 The scientific study of forgiveness is a new approach to an age old problem For thousands of years people have practiced forgiveness within religious systems Now the new field of scholarly research of forgiveness reveals the beneficial aspects of the process This volume draws from papers presented by research scientists and theologians at a conference on forgiveness sponsored by the John Templeton Foundation Contributors include Elliot Dorff and Martin Marty discussing religious interpretations followed by social implications explained by Kenneth Pargament and Mark Rye Roy Baumeister Julie Exline and Kristin Sommer present the victim s point of view Other contributors focusing on the forgiveness research are Everett Worthington Robert Enright Catherine Coyle Carl Thoresen Frederic Luskin and Alex Harris An annotated bibliography by Michael McCullough Julie Exline and Roy Baumeister covers the empirical literature on the subject Lewis Smedes concludes with the four steps necessary for forgiveness moving from estrangement to forgiveness to reconciliation to hope The flames of violence engulfing the world have prompted social scientists to look for fresh solutions one of which is forgiveness Although theologians and philosophers have written much on the subject social scientists subjected it to benign neglect until 1985 when some empirical research began This is a collection of papers from a symposium convened to define the field and lay the foundation for future research The authors are major contributors in the field and they have succeeded admirably in their mandate Library Journal Christian Theism and Moral Philosophy Michael D. Beaty, Carlton D. Fisher, Mark Nelson, 1998 These seminal essays will be of interest to scholars and students of religious ethics but also of interest to those of mainstream moral philosophy who work from a Christian worldview as well as to non Christians with an interest in the relation between Christian theism and moral philosophy Authentic Forgiveness John C. W. Tran, 2020-01-31 No one can avoid conflict sin and evil or the hurt and brokenness they cause The best way to transform conflict and hurt from being life destructive to being life constructive is to forgive and to be forgiven Authentic biblically based forgiveness is a gift that God offers to humanity so that hurt can be healed the cycle of retaliation broken a painful past soothed and estranged relationships reconciled and restored Dr John Tran explains how forgiveness in both Western and Chinese cultures differs from the practice outlined in God's word Authentic Forgiveness calls us to examine our own cultural traditions and points us towards the search for true reconciliation where people risk to communicate extend trust and work through anger and pain Combining biblical and theological understanding with practical strategies for local church ministry Tran offers an inspiring paradigm of action for Christians in urban Asian contexts and beyond recommendations are posited as new policies practices and research are being proposed in this grey area of restorative justice The book is backed up with a lecture and original evidences collected by the author in four countries To watch the lecture that was held in Vancouver as part of the Simon Fraser University Bruce and Lis Welch Community Dialogue https://www.sfu.ca/dialogue/programs/welch_dialogue/riots_restorative_justice.html Gavrielides research also appeared in The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/public-leaders-network/blog/2011/aug/12/listen-young-people-break-cycle> It is a great honour for the Centre for Restorative Justice at Simon Fraser University in Vancouver Canada to be partnering with Theo Gavrielides to better understand and respond to street group violence as characterized through riots Both Vancouver and England experienced the devastating impact of riots in the summer of 2011 Other cities and countries have also felt the heavy impact of riots while police and the justice system brace themselves for more The time is ripe to be asking different questions building new partnerships and exploring innovative solutions This book represents a first step in that direction and opens the door for further partnership and collaboration Professor Brenda Morrison Director of the Centre for Restorative Justice Simon Fraser University To cite this e book Gavrielides T 2021 Restorative Justice and Street Group Violence London RJ4All Publications ISBN 978 1 911634 39 3 DOI 10 13140 RG 2 2 30094 33608

Victim Organisations and the Politics of Reparation Heidy Rombouts, 2004 Reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations is a contemporary issue gaining increased attention in both national and international politics Post conflict societies have to face the legacies of the dark past and dealing with a large group of victims is one of them Transitional justice mechanisms trying to cope with the past should not overlook the issue of reparation This research demonstrates how reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations differs from reparation for isolated violations The Rwandan case study unveils the role of victim organisations in and the competition and politicisation of the reparation debate Although reparation for victims is a crucial element in transitional justice it becomes clear that the way in which the reparation debate unfolds does not necessarily contribute to the peaceful future of a post conflict society This study argues that remedying the process and debate of the search for reparation will lead to an improved and more constructive reparation policy Heidy Rombouts is a legal and social scientist 1997 Master of Laws 1999 Master in Social and Political Sciences Catholic University of Leuven In 2004 she obtained a PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the University of Antwerp for her research on victim organisations and the politics of reparation For several years she has been conducting research on transitional justice human rights and post conflict situations including extensive field research in South Africa and Rwanda
