The Invention of Good and Evil Hanno Sauer, 2024-09-17

What makes us moral beings How do we decide what is good and what is evil In the vein of Sapiens comes a grand history of our universal moral values at the moment of their greatest crisis How did we learn to distinguish good from evil Have we always been capable of doing so And will we still be in the world to come In this breathtaking book ethics expert Hanno Sauer offers a great universal history of morality in the era of its darkest crisis He finds that morality existed long before there was talk of God religion or philosophy Its history is first of all the fruit of a process of natural selection going back to the dawn of humanity in the forests of East Africa which five million years ago thinned out owing to climate change Among the early humans that came down from the trees there were also our ancestors who adapted to open spaces by organizing themselves into large groups Under the pressure of environmental factors morality emerges as the foundation for cooperation a quality that is as precarious as it is essential to the survival of the species Moving between paleontology and genetics psychology and cognitive science philosophy and evolutionism Sauer traces a genealogy of morality and along the journey marks the main moral transformations in the history of humanity In the end he concludes that millions of years of stratifications has led to the moral crisis of our present and the only way to build a future together is to retrace our history

Pojman,Jeffrey Reiman,2000-01-01 Two distinguished social and political philosophers take opposing positions in this highly engaging work Louis P Pojman justifies the practice of execution by appealing to the principle of retribution we deserve to be rewarded and punished according to the virtue or viciousness of our actions He asserts that the death penalty does deter some potential murderers and that we risk the lives of innocent people who might otherwise live if we refuse to execute those deserving that punishment Jeffrey Reiman argues that although the death penalty is a just punishment for murder we are not morally obliged to execute murderers Since we lack conclusive evidence that executing murderers is an effective deterrent and because we can foster the advance of civilization by demonstrating our intolerance for cruelty in our unwillingness to kill those who kill others Reiman concludes that it is good in principle to avoid the death penalty and bad in practice to impose it      Inferno Ellen Datlow,2023-11-14 This multiple award winning anthology of twenty psychological and supernatural horror stories explores the outer limits of fear To create this volume renowned horror editor Ellen Datlow wrote to her favorite authors asking for stories that would provide the reader with a frisson of shock or a moment of dread so powerful it might cause the reader
