Review Of The Youth Situation Policies And Programmes In Asia And The Pacific:

Review of the Youth Situation, Policies and Programmes in Asia and the Pacific United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, 1997 It is important to recognize youth as a unique group in society due to the many aspects of vulnerability they face while passing through a major stage of their lives This study on youth takes the reader inside Asia the Pacific to such countries as China Vietnam Sri Lanka Malaysia discusses among other things education health employment effective participation Population, Resources and Development Shripad Tuljapurkar, David Ian Pool, 2005 In the 21st century the populations of the world's nations will display large and long lived changes in age structure Many of these began with fertility change and are amplified by declining mortality and by migration within and between nations Demography will matter in this century not by force of numbers but by the pressures of waves of age structural change Many developing countries are in relatively early stages of fertility decline and will experience age waves for two or more generations These waves create shifting flows of people into United Nations Documents Index Dag Hammarskjöld Library, 2006 Annual Report - Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific United Nations. United Nations Publications, 2000 Yearbook of the United Nations, Volume 41 (1987) United Nations, 2023-11-27 Issued annually since 1946 47 the Yearbook is the principal reference work of the United Nations providing a comprehensive one volume account of the Organization's work It includes details of United Nations activities concerning trade industrial development natural resources food science and technology social development population environment human settlement children and legal questions along with information on the work of each specialized agency in the United Nations family Yearbook of the United Nations, Volume 50 (1996) United Nations, 2023-09-20 The 1996 edition of the Yearbook of the United Nations is the single most comprehensive and authoritative reference book about the work of the United Nations and related international organizations and bodies Fully indexed and reproducing all major General Assembly Security Council and Economic and Social Council resolutions the volume is not only useful for diplomats government officials and scholars but also for researchers writers journalists teachers students and others with a serious interest in international and UN affairs This volume of the Yearbook details the many activities of the Organization and its organs programmes and bodies as they are carried out in all corners of the globe It gives an account of their endeavours to create better and more peaceful conditions for all mankind and records their efforts to deal with matters of pressing concern in a variety of areas including peacekeeping and peacemaking disarmament human rights trade and development control of drug abuse and illicit trafficking crime prevention assistance to refugees and other vulnerable populations Building on the experience of its first 50 years the United Nations continued in 1996 to confront major global challenges The observance of the International Year for the Eradication of Poverty can be seen as a benchmark for action to address a plethora of global ills that beset the majority of Earth's nearly 6 billion inhabitants: hunger, inadequate housing, disease, the deterioration of the environment, unemployment. During the year the United Nations convened two major conferences: the City Summit in Istanbul centering on the two themes of adequate shelter for all and sustainable human settlement development in an urbanizing world and the World Food Summit in Rome whose main goal was food security for all. The Yearbook chronicles these events and many other milestones reached, making it an invaluable tool for anyone seeking in-depth information about the United Nations family. Also available from the UN Sales No. E 97 I 1. As of volume 51, 1997, the Yearbook of the United Nations will no longer be published by Kluwer Law International. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, United Nations Population Fund, 1998      Asian Bibliography, 1997      International Labour Documentation International Labour Office. Central Library and Documentation Bureau, 1998      The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur, Lily Kong, Florence Lo, David M. Malone, 2023-01-20. Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic. Asia Pacific's share of the world's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050. With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world's population and three of the world's five largest economies, Asia is soon poised to home half of the world's middle class, a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education. The quality of a country's system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects. It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region's higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics: a fixation with credentials and engineering, high technology especially among male students and business degrees while at the same time are also highly differentiated not only across countries but also within. As such a better understanding of higher education achievements, failings, potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative. This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross-cutting trends relating to among other things the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access, accessible cost and quality, the balance between teaching and research, the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred.

fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research university in Asia the lure of institutions of international reputation within the region new education technologies and their effects and trends in government policy within the wider region and sub regions Official Records ,2002 New Life Courses, Social Risks and Social Policy in East Asia Raymond K. H. Chan,Jens Zinn,Lih-Rong Wang,2015-10-30 Social policy in modern industrialised societies is increasingly challenged by new social risks These include insecure employment resulting from ever more volatile labour markets new family and gender relationships resulting from the growing participation of women in the labour market and the many problems resulting from very much longer human life expectancy Whereas once social policy had to be in step with a standardised relatively stable and predictable life course it now has to cope with non standardised individual preferences life courses and families and the consequent increased risks and uncertainties This book examines these new life courses and their impact on social policy across a range of East Asian societies It shows how governments and social welfare institutions have been slow to respond to the new challenges In response we propose a life course sensitised policy as an approach to manage these risks Overall the book provides many new insights which will assist advance social policy in East Asia

Resources in Education ,1998 Social Work in Context Kalyani Mehta,Ann Wee,2004 This book locates social work in the Asian context and discusses the applications of theories principles and values according to the socio economic and cultural context of Southeast Asia As social work as a profession is very closely related to the context in which it operates this book will prove very useful for undergraduates as well as students who are studying diplomas in social work Yearbook of the United Nations, Volume 48 (1994) United Nations,2023-09-29 Fully indexed the 1994 edition of the Yearbook is the single most current comprehensive and authoritative reference publication about the work of the United Nations other international organizations and related bodies The book is designed not just for use by diplomats officials and scholars but also by other researchers writers journalists teachers and students The year 1994 was a remarkably eventful one for the United Nations and in the conduct of international relations This volume of the Yearbook details the activities of the United Nations its many organs agencies and programmes working together to rekindle a new form of multilateral cooperation for a better world It records the diverse and globe encompassing activities of the United Nations and its enduring efforts to deal with the world s pressing concerns particularly matters of international peace and security disarmament human rights the settlement of regional conflicts economic and social development the preservation of the environment control of drugs and narcotic substance abuse crime prevention adequate shelter youth and the ageing and humanitarian assistance for refugees as well as disaster relief
