Revisionary History Of Portuguese Literature:

A Revisionary History of Portuguese Literature Miguel Tamen, Helena C. Buescu, 2021-10-28 First published in 1999 this volume is a collection of papers on Portuguese literature giving a historical and more updated review Included are twelve essays presented in chronological order providing students with a series of assessments and developments

A Companion to Portuguese Literature Thomas Foster Earle, Stephen Parkinson, Cláudia Pazos Alonso, 2013 An essential chronological framework for students of Portuguese literature This companion volume offers an introduction to European Portuguese literature for university level readers It consists of a chronological overview of Portuguese literature from the twelfth century to the present day by some of the most distinguished literary scholars of recent years leading into substantial essays centred on major authors genres or periods and a study of the history of translations It does not attempt an encyclopaedic coverage of Portuguese literature but provides essential chronological and bibliographical information on all major authors and genres with more extensive treatment of key works and literary figures and a particular focus on the modern period It is unashamedly canonical rather than thematic in its examination of central authors and periods without neglecting female writers In this way it provides basic reference materials for students beginning the study of Portuguese literature and for a wider audience looking for general or specific information The editors have made a principled decision to exclude both Brazilian and African literature which demand separate treatment

STEPHEN PARKINSON CLAUDIA PAZOS ALONSO and T F EARLE are all members of the Sub Faculty of Portuguese at the University of Oxford

Re-exploring the Links Jorge Manuel Flores, 2007 The island of Ceilao occupied a permanent and singular place in the political imagination of early modern Portugal Concurrently the Portuguese left a strong imprint in the Sri Lankan collective memory of the period Five centuries later a group of historians art historians anthropologists and linguists reflect on the multiple dimensions of this phenomenon by rethinking texts and maps ruined churches and ivory caskets oral tales and Creole communities Authored by 15 international scholars Re exploring the Links is divided in four parts Political Realities and Cultural Imagination Religion Con ict and Interaction Space and Heritage Construction Representation Language and Ethnicity Identity and Memory While published on the occasion of the Portuguese arrival in Sri Lanka five centuries ago this book is far from being a celebratory piece Re exploring the Links does not conform to nationalist models of historical interpretation and refuses both the rhetoric of discovery and the rhetoric of aggression The aim of the volume is not to celebrate encounters but to reinvent an academic debate independent of any political agenda and concerning a history that is Portuguese and Sri Lankan alike

Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula Fernando Cabo Aseguinolaza, Anxo Abuín González, César Domínguez, 2010 A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula is the second comparative history of a new subseries with a regional focus published by the Coordinating Committee of the International Comparative Literature Association As its predecessor for East Central Europe this two volume history distances itself from traditional histories built around periods and movements and explores from a comparative viewpoint a space considered to be a powerful symbol of inter literary relations Both the geographical pertinence and its symbolic condition are obviously discussed when not even contested Written by an international team of researchers who are specialists in the field this history is the first attempt at applying a comparative approach to the plurilingual and multicultural literatures in the Iberian Peninsula The aim of comprehensiveness is abandoned in favor of a diverse and extensive array of key issues for a comparative agenda A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula undermines the primacy claimed for national and linguistic boundaries and provides a geo cultural account of literary inter systems which cannot otherwise be explained

Genealogical Fictions Jobst Welge, 2015-02-16 Explores the enduring link between national space and genealogy in the modern novel Winner of the CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title of the Choice ACRL Taking its cue from recent theories of literary geography and fiction Genealogical Fictions argues that narratives of familial decline shape the history of the modern novel as well as the novel's relationship to history Stories of families in crisis Jobst Welge argues reflect the experience of historical and social change in regions or nations perceived as peripheral Though geographically and temporally diverse the novels Welge considers all demonstrate a relation among family and national history genealogical succession and generational experience along with social change and modernization Welge's wide ranging comparative study focuses on the novels of the late nineteenth century but it also includes detailed analyses of the pre Victorian origin of the genealogical historical novel and the evolution of similar themes in twentieth century literature Moving through time he uncovers often unsuspected novelistic continuities and international transformations and echoes from Maria Edgeworth's Castle Rackrent published in 1800 to G Tomasi di Lampedusa's 1958 book Il Gattopardo By revealing the family resemblance of novels from Great Britain Italy Spain Portugal and Brazil this volume shows how genealogical narratives take on special significance in contexts of cultural periphery Welge links private and public histories while simultaneously integrating detailed accounts of various literary fields across the globe In combining theories of the novel recent discussions of cultural geography and new approaches to genealogical narratives Genealogical Fictions addresses a significant part of European and Latin American literary history in which texts from different national cultures illuminate each other in unsuspected ways and reveal the repetition as well as the variation among them This book should be of interest to students and scholars of comparative literature world literature and the history and theory of the modern novel Latin American Literature and Mass Media Edmundo Paz Soldán, Debra A. Castillo, 2001 This volume examines Latin American literature in the context of a complimentary audiovisual culture dominated by mass media such as photography film and the Internet The articles gathered here all of them published for the first time critically assess Latin American media theories Garcia Canclini et al pointing out their strengths and shortcomings show how literary works have been able to sustain their visibility in a highly competitive media ecology accommodating to pop and mass culture while at the same time reaffirming the authority of the literary intellectual Overall the book's foregrounding of the impact of mass media on Latin American literature opens the critical debate on an increasingly essential subject

Tradition, Translation, Trauma Jan Parker, Timothy Mathews, 2011-06-30 Tradition Trauma Translation is concerned with how Classic texts mainly Greek and Latin but also Arabic and Portuguese become present in later cultures and how they resonate in the modern A distinguished international team of contributors and responders examine the topic in different ways Some discuss singular encounters with the Classic those of Heaney Pope Fellini Freud Ibn Qutayba Cavafy and others and show how translations engage with the affective impact of texts over time and space Poet translator contributors draw on their own experience here Others offer images of translation as movement of a text over time space language and culture Some of these images are resistant even violent tradition as silencing translation as decapitation cannibalistic reception Others pose searching questions about the interaction of modernity with tradition what is entailed in The Price of the Modern Drawing as it does on Classical Modernist Translation Reception Comparative Literary and Intercultural Studies the volume has the potential to suggest critiques of practice in these disciplines but also concerns that are common to all these fields
