Watson, 1998-01-01 Combines historical research and philosophical analysis to cast light on why and how Cartesianism failed as a complete metaphysical system Far more radical in its conclusions than his 1966 study The Downfall of Cartesianism a slightly revised version of which forms the main body of the current work Watson argues that Descartes's ontology is incoherent and vacuous his epistemology deceptive and his theology unorthodox indeed that Descartes knows nothing

Knowledge and Indifference in English Romantic Prose Tim Milnes, 2003-02-27 This 2003 study sheds light on the way in which the English Romantics dealt with the basic problems of knowledge particularly as they inherited them from the philosopher David Hume Kant complained that the failure of philosophy in the eighteenth century to answer empirical scepticism had produced a culture of indifferentism Tim Milnes explores the way in which Romantic writers extended this epistemic indifference through their resistance to argumentation and finds that it exists in a perpetual state of tension with a compulsion to know This tension is most clearly evident in the prose writing of the period in works such as Wordsworth's Preface to Lyrical Ballads Hazlitt's Essay on the Principles of Human Action and Coleridge's Biographia Literaria Milnes argues that it is in their oscillation between knowledge and indifference that the Romantics prefigure the ambivalent negotiations of modern post analytic philosophy
