Revolution Wasnt Televised:

The Revolution Wasn't Televised Lynn Spigel, Michael Curtin, 2013-10-08 Caricatures of sixties television called a vast wasteland by the FCC president in the early sixties continue to dominate our perceptions of the era and cloud popular understanding of the relationship between pop culture and larger social forces Opposed to these conceptions The Revolution Wasn't Televised explores the ways in which prime time television was centrally involved in the social conflicts of the 1960s It was then that television became a ubiquitous element in American homes The contributors in this volume argue that due to TV's constant presence in everyday life it became the object of intense debates over childraising education racism gender technology politics violence and Vietnam These essays explore the minutia of TV in relation to the macro structure of sixties politics and society attempting to understand the struggles that took place over representation the nation's most popular communications media during the 1960s

The Revolution Wasn't Televised Lynn Spigel, Michael Curtin, 1997 Explores the role of television in the social conflicts of the 1960s

Summer of Soul (... Or, When the Revolution Could Not Be Televised) Jaimie Baron, Kristen Fuhs, 2023-12-22 The fifth title in the Docalogue series this book examines Ahmir Questlove Thompson's 2021 documentary Summer of Soul Or When the Revolution Could Not Be Televised The award winning film draws on archival footage and interviews to examine the legacy of the Harlem Cultural Festival a showcase of Black music staged weekly throughout the summer of 1969 The film interrogates this event as a piece of forgotten history and prompts critical reflection on why this history was lost while also raising important questions related to archival preservation and cultural memory Combining five different perspectives this book acts both as an intensive scholarly treatment and as a pedagogical guide for how to analyze theorize and contextualize a documentary Together the essays in this book touch upon key topics related to the study of popular music musical performance and audiences the discovery and reuse of archives and archival documents and Black studies and American cultural history more broadly This book will be of interest to students and scholars in multiple areas including but not limited to archival studies Black studies cultural studies documentary studies historiography and music studies

The Revolution Will Not be Televised Stephen Alan Jones, 2003 Envisioning Socialism Heather Gumbert, 2018-05-09 The first examination in English of East German television during the early Cold War

The Calloused Foot Drifter Phurious Styles, 2016-02-02 Poet activist and founder of the newly coined form of verse and fledgling movement Conscious Esotericism Phurious Styles in this collection of original autobiographical poems and commentaries illustrates how his poetry is intrinsically tied to the spiritual economic and social circumstances of a vulnerable and volatile era Styles ubiquitous versification and subtleties of conceived expression paint a mental picture as vivid as Picasso's brush strokes transformed simple canvas into national treasures

Hope and Glory Stuart Maconie, 2012-05-10 In Hope and Glory Stuart Maconie goes in search of the days that shaped the Britain we live in today Taking one event from each decade of the 20th century he visits the places where history happened and still echoes down the years Stuart goes to

Orgreave and Windsor Wembley and Wootton Bassett assembling a unique cast of Britons from Sir Edmund Hillary to Sid Vicious along the way It's quite a trip full of sex and violence and the occasional scone and jigsaw From pop stars to politicians Suffragettes to punks this is a journey around Britain in search of who we are The Mind of the Censor and the Eye of the Beholder Robert Corn-Revere, 2021-11-04 The book explores the importance of free speech in America by telling the stories of its chief antagonists the censors Area Handbook for the People's Republic of China Donald P. Whitaker, Rinn-Sup Shinn (Foreign affairs analyst), 1972 Bob Marley and Media Mike Hajimichael, 2023-02-06 Bob Marley and Media Representation and Audiences presents an analysis of how media radio television and print represented Bob Marley including his popularity after his death Mike Hajimichael examines unexplored connections between Bob Marley and media representation and the specifics of audiences including coverage in tabloids music magazines and fanzines as well as radio and television interviews Hajimichael builds an extensive catalogue of Bob Marley's media engagements and connects Marley to media through forms of political discourse and ideologies relevant to social change in different contexts globally such as civil rights anti racism Rastafari and liberation movements Given that varieties of representation exist the book unpacks these media discourses with regard to public perceptions and key themes articulated including mainstream versus fan based coverage issues of Rastafari Black Consciousness economic crisis legacies of colonialism slavery racism links to other music idioms concepts of identity and Marley's personal relationships Revolution of Things Kusha Sefat, 2023-05-23 An exploration of the ways that shifting relations between materiality and language bring about different forms of politics in Tehran In Revolution of Things Kusha Sefat traces a dynamism between materiality and language that sheds light on how the merger of the two permeates politics To show how shifting relations between things and terms form the grounds for different modes of action Sefat reconstructs the political history of postrevolutionary Iran at the intersection of everyday objects and words Just as Islamism fashioned its own objects in Tehran during the 1980s he explains tyrannical objects generated a distinct form of Islamism by means of their material properties everyday things from walls to shoes to foods were active political players that helped consolidate the Islamic Republic Moreover President Rafsanjani's liberalization in the 1990s was based not merely on state policies and post Islamist ideologies but also on the unlikely things including consumer products from the West that engendered and sustained liberalism in Tehran Sefat shows how provincial vocabularies transformed into Islamist and post Islamist discourses through the circulation of international objects The globalization of objects he argues was constitutive of the different forms that politics took in Tehran with each constellation affording and foreclosing distinct modes of agency Sefat's intention is not to alter historical facts about the Islamic Republic but to show how we can rethink the matter of those facts By bringing the recent material turn into conversation with the canons of structural analysis poststructuralist theory sociolinguistics and Middle East studies Sefat offers a unique perspective on Iran's revolution and its aftermath Freedom of Communications: The 15-minute radio and television network newscasts for the period Sept. 26 through Nov. 7, 1960 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, 1961

Assignment Moscow James Rodgers, 2020-06-25 The story of western correspondents in Russia is the story of Russia's attitude to the west Russia has at different times been alternately open to western ideas and contacts cautious and distant or for much of the twentieth century all but closed off From the revolutionary period of the First World War onwards correspondents in Russia have striven to tell the story of a country known to few outsiders Their stories have not always been well received by political elites audiences and even editors in their own countries but their accounts have been a huge influence on how the West understands Russia Not always perfect at times downright misleading they have overall been immensely valuable In Assignment Moscow former foreign correspondent James Rodgers analyses the news coverage of Russia throughout history from the coverage of the siege of the Winter Palace and a plot to kill Stalin to the Chernobyl explosion and the Salisbury poison scandal

Post-Communist Aesthetics Anca Pusca, 2015-11-06 In this book Anca Pusca seeks to extend the aesthetic and cultural turn in international relations to an analysis of post communist transitions in Central and Eastern Europe Building on the philosophy of Walter Benjamin and Jacques Ranciere the work investigates how post communist film photography theatre art museumization and architecture have creatively re engaged with ideas of revolution communism capitalism and ethnic violence and how this in turn has helped people survive and reinvent themselves amongst the material and ideological ruins of communism The work illustrates how popular culture has effectively targeted and re interpreted the classical representations of the transition in order to question The origin focusing on practices of re staging memorializing and questioning the 1989 revolutions The unfolding focusing on the human and material consequences of significant changes in processes of production and consumption The potential end focusing on the illusions and disillusion surrounding the transition process A unique take on the influence that popular culture has had and continues to have on how we understand the post communist transitions this work will be of great interest to students and scholars of cultural and visual studies eastern European politics and international relations

Television Beyond and Across the Iron Curtain Kirsten Bönker, Sven Grampp, Julia Obertreis, 2016-09-23 From the mid 1950s onwards the rise of television as a mass medium took place in many East and West European countries As the most influential mass medium of the Cold War television triggered new practices of consumption and media production and of communication and exchange on both sides of the Iron Curtain This volume leans on the long neglected fact that even during the Cold War era television could easily become a cross border matter As such it brings together transnational perspectives on convergence zones observations collaborations circulations and interdependencies between Eastern and Western television In particular the authors provide empirical ground to include socialist television within a European and global media history Historians and media cultural and literary scholars take interdisciplinary perspectives to focus on structures actors flow contents or the reception of cross border television Their contributions cover Albania the CSSR the GDR Russia and the Soviet Union Serbia

Slovenia and Yugoslavia thus complementing Western dominated perspectives on Cold War mass media with a specific focus on the spaces and actors of East European communication Last but not least the volume takes a long term perspective crossing the fall of the Iron Curtain as many trends of the post socialist period are linked to or pick up socialist traditions

Television and Public Policy David Ward,2009-04-09 Television and Public Policy analyzes the current state of television systems in a selected group of countries exploring the political economic and technological factors that have shaped the sector over the past two decades By positioning the television sector within issues of media policy and the regulatory framework the book questions what these trends mean for television and the historical political and cultural role in our societies

Performative Contradiction and the Romanian Revolution Jolan Bogdan,2017-03-29 The Romanian Revolution of 1989 ended 42 years of Communist rule It was the bloodiest revolution in a Warsaw Pact country culminating in the overthrow and execution of Nicolae Ceau escu However there was no major democratic reform and power remained in the hands of key figures from the old regime This has led many theorists to question the authenticity of the entire revolution Performative Contradiction and the Romanian Revolution focuses in on the circumstances which led to these accusations It argues that the notion of an authentic revolution as a conceptual paradigm is neither a sufficient appropriate nor useful tool for an analysis of the events in Romania Engaging with the work of theorists including Stiegler Agamben Baudrillard Badiou Spinoza and Derrida it argues that performative contradiction is a more useful theoretical model for exploring this event Applying the concept to specific cases within the revolution the book demonstrates the power of performative contradiction as an analytic tool

Media And Revolution Jeremy D. Popkin,2014-10-17 As television screens across America showed Chinese students blocking government tanks in Tiananmen Square the fall of the Berlin Wall and missiles searching their targets in Baghdad the connection between media and revolution seemed more significant than ever In this book thirteen prominent scholars examine the role of the communication media in revolutionary crises from the Puritan Revolution of the 1640s to the upheaval in the former Czechoslovakia Their central question Do the media in fact have a real influence on the unfolding of revolutionary crises On this question the contributors diverge some arguing that the press does not bring about revolution but is part of the revolutionary process others downplaying the role of the media Essays focus on areas as diverse as pamphlet literature newspapers political cartoons and the modern electronic media The authors wide ranging views form a balanced and perceptive examination of the impact of the media on the making of history

The Subject of Revolution Jennifer L. Lambe,2024-08-27 From television to travel bans geopolitics to popular dance The Subject of Revolution explores how knowledge about the 1959 Cuban Revolution was produced and how the Revolution in turn shaped new worldviews Drawing on sources from over twenty archives as well as film music theater and material culture this book traces the consolidation of the Revolution over two decades in the interface between political and popular culture The subject of Revolution it proposes should be understood as the evolving synthesis of the imaginaries constructed by its many subjects including revolutionary leaders activists academics and ordinary people within and beyond the island s borders The book reopens some of the questions that have long animated debates about Cuba from the relationship between populace and leadership to the archive and its limits while foregrounding the construction of popular understandings It argues that the politicization of everyday life was an inescapable effect of the revolutionary process as well as the catalyst for new ways of knowing and being

The Adventure George C. Klein, 2007 Born from Professor George C Klein s adoption of two Romanian babies in 1990 this work is a personal and analytical autobiography Compiling data from the 1989 Romanian revolution the oppression that led to the overthrow of Communism and his personal experiences in Romania The Adventure is primarily a description of the torturous process he and his wife endured in order to adopt two babies from a Romanian orphanage It is also an examination of Romanian society from an institutional national and global perspective The author analyzes individual issues such as forced pregnancies neglect in orphanages and economic deprivation Professor Klein examines how the Romanian Communist Party held power in that era and explores the collapse of Communism in Eastern Europe His adept study discusses the various socio economic and political factors that led to the collapse of Communism and ultimately to the successful adoption of his Romanian children
