Shebnah Rich,2015-08-05 Excerpt from Truro Cape Cod or Land Marks and Sea Marks Tristram Shandy did not want to shake his credit for veracity by telling an improbable story however indisputable the facts We have not ventured into that debatable land between credulity and unbelief Whatever the quality of our work whether fish flesh or good red herring we have taken the liberty of telling it honestly and in our own way Our constant purpose has been to write nothing we should wish unwritten and to leave unwritten nothing that belongs legitimately to our history That we have not fully accomplished this purpose would be the most reasonable confession in the world In every community there is an unconscious force or sentiment that lives in a thousand multiform conditions Seemingly light as gossamer it is tough as the Tellman shield of seven bull skins Its intuitions of a good name of home and kindred in a described orbit are among the best of human sensibilities That the Cape people share quite freely in this sentiment is altogether praiseworthy but it is a virtue susceptible of abuse and morbidly sensitive I have aimed to write of them as they were according to the best history and the best tradition as they are according to my own observation and experience About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Sea Marks Gardner McKay,1982-01-01
