Haunting Encounters Joanne Lipson Freed, 2017-09-15 Acts of cross cultural reading have ethical consequences In Haunting Encounters Joanne Lipson Freed traces the narrative strategies through which certain works of fiction forge connections with their readers across boundaries of difference Freed uses the idea of haunting an intense temporary and transformative encounter that defies rational understanding as a metaphor for the kinds of ethical relationships that such works cultivate with their readers across boundaries of difference Freed points out how such works as Toni Morrison's Beloved Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony and Arundhati Roy's The God of Small Things strike a delicate balance between empathy and alterity Their engaging narratives Freed argues bring unfamiliar characters and distant settings to life for readers who encounter them as other but they also highlight the limits of fiction holding in check the impulse to colonize another's experience with one's own Haunting Encounters is a sensitive and perceptive application of theory to real world concerns It draws together the fields of postcolonial fiction and narrative ethics and suggests original modes of engagement between readers and books that promise new ways of looking at the world

That Powerless Feeling Aaron Handy, 2010-03-10 The book is a revealing anti Vietnam War narrative about the day to day interactions of a group of young combatants coping with the realities of war during redeployment The lives of these mostly draftees are candidly detailed as the story negotiates the one year tour faced by all who served there It gives an insight into the Spartan life of the foot soldier and the predicament of the many reluctant warriors who by 1970 were faced with fighting a war that seemingly no longer needed to be fought The story deals with a lot of the intimate issues that were both common to all of the troops and relevant to many of the families at home It is an informative study for the uninitiated and a remembrance for all who were affected that would easily qualify as more than just a journal dealing only with the conflict There is also a parallel story portraying the tragedy of a mother struggling with the loss of her son to the war Her ensuing long term grieving process and the effect she
