

The poster features a large, semi-transparent portrait of a family (a man, a woman, and two children) in the upper half, set against a warm, golden sunset background. In the lower half, there is a smaller, more detailed scene of three people in traditional East Asian clothing standing in front of a traditional building. Two birds are also depicted: one in flight in the center and another in the bottom right corner. The title text is overlaid on the middle of the image.

There are stories that were never told dreams that were never whispered and victories that were never celebrated As the world spins on its own rhythm we dance to the music we hear There are things we often fail to see and messages we often miss out We fret at our loss cry at our wounds and weep over what we've lost These poems will make you see beyond the dark days and learn that you are more than who you think you are And above all you will realize that you're not alone in your suffering There are messages that you can relate to and some that will let you think of yesterday and then tomorrow Together we shall share our tears of joy and sorrow

Their Wedding Journey William Dean Howells, 1891 From Cairo to Baghdad James Canton, 2014-08-25 Until the 1880s British travellers to Arabia were for the most part wealthy dilettantes who could fund their travels from private means With the advent of an Imperial presence in the region as the British seized power in Egypt the very nature of travel to the Middle East changed

Suddenly ordinary men and women found themselves visiting the region as British influence increased Missionaries soldiers and spies as well as tourists and explorers started to visit the area creating an ever bigger supply of writers and market for their books In a similar fashion as the Empire receded in the wake of World War II so did the whole tradition of Middle East travel writing In this elegantly crafted book James Canton examines over one hundred primary sources from forgotten gems to the classics of T E Lawrence Thesiger and Philby He analyses the relationship between Empire and author showing how the one influenced the other leading to a vast array of texts that might never have been produced had it not been for the ambitions of Imperial Britain This work makes for essential reading for all of those interested in the literature of Empire travel writing and the Middle East Our Journey Around the World Francis Edward Clark,1895 The Girl in the Green Glass Mirror Elizabeth McGregor,2006 Hailed for her remarkably accomplished and poignant work Washington Post acclaimed author Elizabeth McGregor returns with a haunting love story about two lost souls brought together by chance and bonded forever by a mystery that transcends madness tragedy and time itself Catherine Sergeant is adept at going through the motions After losing her parents at an early age she buried her grief in the study of antiquities Now deserted by her husband without warning or explanation she reports to work at Pearson s auction house exchanging pleasantries with colleagues never revealing her pain Cocooned in loneliness she couldn t be more surprised to find herself opening up to a total stranger a new client no less In widowed architect John Brigham Catherine finds a kindred spirit The two share a fascination with Richard Dadd an early Victorian painter who lived most of his life incarcerated in an insane asylum There he produced his most stunning works works that have deeply moved Catherine and now draw her inexorably to John Soon the two are falling in love The reawakening of passion in a woman like Catherine is more than John ever hoped for But when she discovers his possession of an unknown Dadd it is just the first in a series of revelations that leave her wondering if she knows this man who has shown her life s true beauty For John it may be a last chance to free himself from the priceless secrets he has been harboring too long Secrets about a soul laid bare on canvas and a legacy that could shatter all he holds dear in the space of a heartbeat A compelling blend of human drama art and history this intriguing tale casts a spell that lingers far beyond the final page and celebrates the strength we all must find within our hearts From the Hardcover edition

Shadow and Shelter Anthony Wilson,2009-09-18 To early European colonists the swamp was a place linked with sin and impurity to the plantation elite it was a practical obstacle to agricultural development For the many excluded from the white southern aristocracy African Americans Native Americans Acadians and poor rural whites the swamp meant something very different providing shelter and sustenance and offering separation and protection from the dominant plantation culture Shadow and Shelter The Swamp in Southern Culture explores the interplay of contradictory but equally prevailing metaphors first the swamp as the underside of the myth of pastoral Eden that defined the antebellum South and second the swamp as the last pure vestige of undominated southern ecoculture As the South gives in to strip malls and suburban sprawl its wooded wetlands have come to embody the last part of the region that will always be beyond cultural domination Examining the southern swamp from a perspective informed by ecocriticism literary studies and ecological history Shadow and Shelter considers the many representations of the swamp and its evolving role in an increasingly multicultural South

Faulkner and Formalism Annette Trefzer,Ann J. Abadie,2012-05-01 Faulkner and Formalism Returns of the Text collects eleven essays presented at the Thirty fifth Annual Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference sponsored by the University of Mississippi in Oxford on July 20 24 2008 Contributors query the status of Faulkner s literary text in contemporary criticism and scholarship How do scholars today approach Faulkner s texts For some including Arthur F Kinney and James B Carothers returns of the text is a phrase that raises questions of aesthetics poetics and authority For others the phrase serves as an invitation to return to Faulkner s language to writing and the letter itself Serena Blount Owen Robinson James Harding and Taylor Hagood interpret returns of the text in the sense in which Roland

Barthes characterizes this shift in his seminal essay From Work to Text. For Barthes, the text is not to be thought of as an object but as a methodological field, a notion quite different from the New Critical understanding of the work as a unified construct with intrinsic aesthetic value. Faulkner's language itself is under close scrutiny in some of the readings that emphasize a deconstructive or a semiological approach to his writing. Historical and cultural contexts continue to play significant roles; however, in many of the essays, the contributions by Thadious Davis, Ted Atkinson, Martyn Bone, and Ethel Young Minor by no means ignore the cultural contexts but instead of approaching the literary text as a reflection, a representation of that context, whether historical, economic, political, or social, these readings stress the role of the text as a challenge to the power of external ideological systems. By retaining a bond with new historicist analysis and cultural studies, these essays are illustrative of a kind of analysis that carefully preserves attention to Faulkner's sociopolitical environment. The concluding essay by Theresa Towner issues an invitation to return to Faulkner's less well-known short stories for critical exposure and the pleasure of reading.

He just tucked her in and kissed her goodnight ten minutes ago. But the mysterious Polaroid is only the beginning. There's the van following his daughter to school. The man she sees outside her window late at night. The fact someone entered her room while the Lowerys slept peacefully. Local authorities are clueless. No leads, no clues, and ultimately no answers.
