Make it Again, Sam Michael B. Druxman, 1975 Make it again, Sam Michael B. Druxman, 1975 Make It Again, Sam - A Survey of Movie Remakes \(hardback\) Michael B Druxman, 2024-04-19 The history of the film remake reboot Play It Again, Sam Andrew Horton, Stuart Y. McDougal, 2024-03-29 This title was originally published in 1998 Play It Again Sam is a timely investigation of a topic that until now has received almost no critical attention in film and cultural studies the cinematic remake As cinema enters its second century more remakes are appearing than ever before and these writers consider the full range Hollywood films that have been recycled by Hollywood such as The Jazz Singer Cape Fear and Robin Hood foreign films including Breathless and Three Men and a Baby which Hollywood has reworked for American audiences and foreign films based on American works among them Yugoslav director Emir Kusturica's Time of the Gypsies which is a makeover of Coppola's Godfather films As these essays demonstrate films are remade by other films Alfred Hitchcock went so far as to remake his own The Man Who Knew Too Much and by other media as well The editors and contributors draw upon narrative film and cultural theories and consider gender genre and psychological issues presenting the remake as a special artistic form of repetition with a difference and as a commercial product aimed at profits in the marketplace The remake flourishes at the crossroads of the old and the new the known and the unknown Play It Again Sam takes the reader on an eye opening tour of this hitherto unexplored territory This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1998 Remakes and Remaking Rüdiger Heinze, Lucia Krämer, 2015-02-15 From Avatar to danced versions of Romeo and Juliet from Bollywood films to Star Wars Uncut This book investigates film remakes as well as forms of remaking in other media such as ballet and internet fan art The case studies introduce readers to a variety of texts and remaking practices from different cultural spheres The essays also discuss forms of remaking in relation to neighbouring phenomena like the sequel prequel and re adaptation Remakes and Remaking thus provides a necessary and topical addition to the recent conceptual scholarship on intermediality transmediality and adaptation Film Remakes NA NA, 2016-10-03 This is the first book to provide a comprehensive and systematic account of the phenomenon of cinematic remaking Drawing upon recent theories of genre and intertextuality Film Remakes describes remaking as both an elastic concept and a complex situation one enabled and limited by the interrelated roles and practices of industry critics and audiences This approach to remaking is developed across three broad sections the first deals with issues of production including commerce and authors the second considers genre plots and structures and the third investigates issues of reception including audiences and institutions Sex and Sexuality in Modern Screen Remakes Lauren Rosewarne, 2019-06-19 Sex and Sexuality in Modern Screen Remakes examines how

sexiness sexuality and revisited sexual politics are used to modernize film and TV remakes This exploration provides insight into the ever evolving and ever contested role of sex in society and scrutinizes the politics and economics underpinning modern media reproduction More nudity kinky sex and queer content are increasingly deployed in remakes to attract and to titillate a new generation of viewers While sex in this book refers to increased erotic content this discussion also incorporates an investigation of other uses of sex and gender to help a remake appear woke and abreast of the zeitgeist including feminist reimaginings and girl power make overs updated gender roles female cast swaps queer retellings and repositioned gazes Though increased sex is often considered a sign of modernity gratuitous displays of female nudity can sometimes be interpreted as sexist and anachronistic in turn highlighting that progressiveness around sexuality in contemporary media is not a linear story Also examined therefore are remakes that reduce the sexual content to appear cutting edge and cognizant of the demands of today s audiences

Making and Remaking Horror in the 1970s and 2000s David Roche,2014-02-06 In Making and Remaking Horror in the 1970s and 2000s author David Roche takes up the assumption shared by many fans and scholars that original horror movies are more disturbing and thus better than the remakes He assesses the qualities of movies old and recast according to criteria that include subtext originality and cohesion With a methodology that combines a formalist and cultural studies approach Roche sifts aspects of the American horror movie that have been widely addressed class the patriarchal family gender and the opposition between terror and horror and those that have been somewhat neglected race the Gothic style and verisimilitude Containing seventy eight black and white illustrations the book is grounded in a close comparative analysis of the politics and aesthetics of four of the most significant independent American horror movies of the 1970s The Texas Chain Saw Massacre The Hills Have Eyes Dawn of the Dead and Halloween and their twenty first century remakes To what extent can the politics of these films be described as disturbing inasmuch as they promote subversive subtexts that undermine essentialist perspectives Do the politics of the film lie on the surface or are they wedded to the film s aesthetics Early in the book Roche explores historical contexts aspects of identity race ethnicity and class and the structuring role played by the motif of the American nuclear family He then asks to what extent these films disrupt genre expectations and attempt to provoke emotions of dread terror and horror through their representations of the monstrous and the formal strategies employed In this inquiry he examines definitions of the genre and its metafictional nature Roche ends with a meditation on the extent to which the technical limitations of the horror films of the 1970s actually contribute to this disturbing quality Moving far beyond the genre itself Making and Remaking Horror studies the redux as a form of adaptation and enables a more complete discussion of the evolution of horror in contemporary American cinema

After Hitchcock David Boyd,R. Barton Palmer,2006-12-01 Alfred Hitchcock is arguably the most famous director to have ever made a film Almost single handedly he turned the suspense thriller into one of the most popular film genres of all time while his Psycho updated the horror film and inspired two generations of directors to imitate and adapt this most Hitchcockian of movies Yet while much scholarly and popular attention has focused on the director's oeuvre until now there has been no extensive study of how Alfred Hitchcock's films and methods have affected and transformed the history of the film medium In this book thirteen original essays by leading film scholars reveal the richness and variety of Alfred Hitchcock's legacy as they trace his shaping influence on particular films filmmakers genres and even on film criticism Some essays concentrate on films that imitate Hitchcock in diverse ways including the movies of Brian de Palma and thrillers such as True Lies The Silence of the Lambs and Dead Again Other essays look at genres that have been influenced by Hitchcock's work including the 1970s paranoid thriller the Italian giallo film and the post Psycho horror film The remaining essays investigate developments within film culture and academic film study including the enthusiasm of French New Wave filmmakers for Hitchcock's work his influence on the filmic representation of violence in the post studio Hollywood era and the ways in which his films have become central texts for film theorists
