Staff, 1985 International Books in Print, 1987 Acquired Tastes Colin Bannerman, Gay Bilson, 1998 Looks at culinary fare since the beginning of white settlement in Australia Sea rations Damper Billy tea Colonial cookery Early practices of the 20th century Traditional Australian meat pie Pie floater P 68 Household domestic equipment Business Review Weekly, 2007 Australian National Bibliography, 1995 Sentenced to Everyday Life Lesley Johnson, Justine Lloyd, 2004-11

The history of the housewife is a complicated and uneasy narrative rife with contradictions tensions and unanswered questions In response to this Sentenced to Everyday Life marks an important cross generational moment in feminism Challenging our previous understandings of what constitutes the housewife figure this book tugs at a critical issue still unresolved in the contemporary world what is the relationship between women and the home And why are women so reluctant to call themselves housewives Drawing on research and evidence surrounding the housewife figure of the 1940s and 1950s Johnson and Lloyd address the question of why the housewife has been such a problematic figure in feminist debates since World War II Starting with an exploration of why the housewife of the 1940s became associated with drudgery this book covers such topics as the ways in which magazines and advertising attempted to articulate an innate connection between women and the domestic sphere while later films of the 1950s explored the constantly shifting boundaries between social family and individual desires and constraints for women in the home Johnson and Lloyd also examine how the home has been a site of boredom and what happens to the balance between work and family in the modern world In moving into contemporary debates the authors explore the uneasy tension between the construction of the modern self and women's efforts to transcend the domestic sphere By situating their examination in a still unresolved contemporary topic Johnson and Lloyd offer us both a backward glance and a forward looking perspective into domesticity and the modern self Microwave Cookbook 2 Blacker,1993
