Making Of A Poem A Norton Anthology Of Poetic Forms:

The Making of a Poem Eavan Boland, Mark Strand, 2001 Provides a detailed explanation of the different forms of poetry sonnet ballad villanelle sestina and explains the origin traces their history and provides examples for each form The Making of a Poem Mark Strand, Eavan Boland, 2000 Provides a detailed explanation of the different forms of poetry sonnet ballad villanelle sestina and explains the origin traces their history and provides examples for each form An Introduction to Poetic Forms Patrick Gill, 2022-12-29 An Introduction to Poetic Forms offers specimen discussions of poems through the lens of form While each of its chapters does provide a standard definition of the form in question in its opening paragraphs their main objective is to provide readings of specific examples to illustrate how individual poets have deviated from or subverted those expectations usually associated with the form under discussion While providing the most vital information on the most widely taught forms of poetry then this collection will very quickly demonstrate that counting syllables and naming rhyme schemes is not the be all and end all of poetic form Instead each chapter will contain cross references to other literary forms and periods as well as make clear the importance of the respective form to the culture at large be it the democratising communicative power of the ballad or the objectifying male gaze of the blazon and resistance to same in the contreblazon the efficacy of form is explored in the fullness of its cultural dimensions In using standard definitions only as a starting point and instead focusing on lively debates around the cultural impact of poetic form the textbook helps students and instructors to see poetic forms not as a static and lifeless affair but as living breathing testament to the ongoing evolution of cultural debates In the final analysis the book is interested in showing the complexities and contradictions inherent in the very nature of literary form itself how each concrete example deviates from the standard template while at the same time employing it as a foil to generate meaning Poetic Form Michael D. Hurley, Michael O'Neill, 2012-10-08 This work provides lucid elegant and original analyses of poetic form and its workings in a wide range of poems Handbook of Poetic Forms Jessica Bundschuh, Irmtraud Huber, 2025-10-06 This Handbook of Poetic Forms aims to offer historically informed approaches to a wide variety of poetic forms A particular emphasis will be on considering poetic form in dialogue with the cultural context in which it is being used as well as within the literary tradition of each form and to explore the stable as well as the historically variable affordances of each form in such contexts Hereby the focus lies on prescriptive forms that is on poetic forms which are defined by or at least associated with specific metrical stanzaic or overall structures or the absence of such rather than poetic genres that are primarily characterised by similarities in subject matter like the elegy or the ode While this Handbook should be accessible to students its aim is not to offer basic introductions but rather to broaden a historical and functional understanding of the poetic forms it covers and to engage with poetic forms not as givens but as historically contingent processes of formation Above all this Handbook's formalism is new formalist in emphasising historical awareness and contextualisation A Companion to Poetic Genre Erik Martiny, 2011-10-13 A COMPANION TO POETIC GENRE A Ailbhe Darcy, David Wheatley, 2021-07-01 A History of Irish Women's Poetry is a ground breaking and comprehensive account of Irish women's poetry from earliest times to the present day. It reads Irish women's poetry through many prisms: mythology, gender history, the nation and most importantly close readings of the poetry itself. It covers major figures such as Míre Mhac an tSaoi, Eavan Boland, Eilín Ní Chuilleanáin as well as neglected figures from the past. Writing in both English and Irish is considered and close attention paid to the many different contexts in which Irish women's poetry has been produced and received from the anonymous work of the early medieval period through the bardic age, the coterie poets of Anglo-Ireland, the nationalist balladeers of Young Ireland, the Irish Literary Revival and the advent of modernity. As capacious as it is diverse, this book is an essential contribution to scholarship in the field.

A Writer's Craft Kendall Dunkelberg, 2017-09-16 This introductory creative writing text uses a unique multi-genre approach to provide students with a broad-based knowledge of their craft, treating them as professional writers. Beginning by discussing elements common to all genres, this book underscores the importance of learning good writing habits before committing to a genre, encouraging writers to look beyond their genre expectations and learn from other forms. The book then devotes one chapter to each of the major literary genres: fiction, poetry, drama, and creative nonfiction. These style-specific sections provide depth as they compare the different genres, furnishing students with a comprehensive understanding of creative writing as a discipline and fostering creativity. The discussion concludes with a chapter on digital media and an appendix on literary citizenship and publishing. With exercises at the end of each chapter, a glossary of literary terms, and a list of resources for further study, A Writer's Craft is the ideal companion to an introductory creative writing class. It has been listed as one of the Best Books for Writers by Poets and Writers magazine.

For each author, the editors provide a biographical sketch, a brief discussion of how his or her selections relate to a larger body of work, and a selected bibliography. In addition, this new volume includes a larger sampling of women writers.

It highlights aspects of the academic world that need to be and should be changed to allow for more equitable experiences. This book will connect individuals with shared experiences, helping others find comfort, strength, and community in their feelings of misfitting. The authors advocate for more inclusion and independence within academia, where individuals aren't forced into categories and are instead given the freedom to think differently and focus on the value they can bring This book is for all those involved in academia especially those interested in a future that does not eject talented individuals because they might not fit in Established field experts are encouraged to foster and take part in developing a sustainable and accepting research environment while doctoral students and PhD candidates are empowered to challenge the barriers limits and unfair treatment that is the status quo

Twentieth-Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition Daniella Jancsó,2019-02-19 Twentieth Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition reveals the unique value of metapoems for exploring twentieth century poetry By placing these texts into a hitherto barely investigated literary historical perspective it demonstrates that modern metapoetry is steeped in the lyric tradition to a much greater extent than previously acknowledged Since these literary continuities that cut across epochal boundaries can be traced across all major poetic movements they challenge established accounts of the history of twentieth century poetry that postulate a radical break with the immediate past Moreover the finding that metapoems perpetuate traditional forms and topoi distinguishes metapoetry historically and systematically from metafiction and metadrama After highlighting the most important differences as regards to the function of metareference in poetry on the one side and in fiction and drama on the other the book concludes with a discussion of how to account for these generic differences theoretically With its extraordinarily subtle and perceptive Ronald Bush St John s College Oxford interpretive readings of over one hundred metapoems by canonical anglophone authors it offers the first representative selection of twentieth century poems about poetry in English Tradition Seth Lerer, 2016 Seth Lerer explores our relationship to the literary past in an age marked by historical self consciousness critical distance and shifts in cultural literacy He examines a range of fiction poetry and criticism in order to understand the ways in which the literary past makes us and how we create canons for reading teaching and scholarship
