Mr Blandings Builds His Dream House:

Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House Eric Hodgins, 2005-02-11 Mr Blandings and his wife buy an old farmhouse unaware of the costly and unforeseen repercussions of their decision Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House Norman Panama, Melvin Frank, 1947 Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House ... Illustrated by William Steig Eric Hodgins, William Steig, 1947 Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House (1948): Shooting Script, 1948 Architecture and Film Mark Lamster, 2013-07-02 Architecture and Film looks at the ways architecture and architects are treated on screen and conversely how these depictions filter and shape the ways we understand the built environment It also examines the significant effect that the film industry has had on the American public's perception of urban suburban and rural spaces Contributors to this collection of essays come from a wide range of disciplines Nancy Levinson from Harvard Design Magazine writes on how films from The Fountainhead to Jungle Fever have depicted architects Eric Rosenberg from Tufts University looks at how architecture and spatial relations shape the Beatles films A Hard Day's Night Help and Let It Be Joseph Rosa curator at the National Building Museum discusses why modern domestic architecture in recent Hollywood films such as The Ice Storm L.A. Confidential and The Big Lebowski has become synonymous with unstable inhabitants I D Magazine writer Peter Hall discusses the history of film titling focusing on the groundbreaking work of Saul Bass and Maurice Binder Edited by Mark Lamster examines the anti urbanism of the Star Wars trilogy The collection also includes the voices of those from within the film industry who are uniquely able to provide a behind the scenes perspective film Edited by Bob Eisenhardt comments on the making of Concord a documentary on the construction of the Getty Museum and Robert Kraft focuses on his work as a location director for Diane Keaton's upcoming film about Los Angeles Also included are interviews with David Rockwell architect of numerous Planet Hollywood restaurants worldwide and designer of a new hall to host the Academy Awards ceremony Kyle Kooper who created title sequences for Seven and Mission Impossible and motion picture art director Jan Roelfs whose credits include Gattaca Orlando and Little Women Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House Reginald Lawrence, 1960 LIFE, 1948-06-28 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE.com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today's people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use Connecticut in the Movies Illeana Douglas, 2023-10-03 Illeana Douglas has long been known for shining new light on forgotten films Now the celebrated actress and film historian turns her focus to a heretofore unrecognized brand the Connecticut movie Told from the passionate perspective of the author who grew up here and filled with behind the scenes stories as well as her own personal snapshots of the places where these films were made Illeana takes the reader on a cinematic road trip through Hollywood history and Connecticut geography bringing the breezy intimate knowledgeable writing style acclaimed by reviewers of her first book I Blame Dennis Hopper 2015 Illeana defines how the perception of on screen Connecticut originally created in Hollywood has shifted more than that of any other New England state over the decade and offers some surprising conclusions about just what it means to be a Connecticut movie. Films from Hollywood's Golden Age such as Theodora Goes Wild, Bringing Up Baby and Christmas in Connecticut presented Connecticut as an antidote to the metropolis, a place where you could find your true self. The slogan "Come to Peaceful Connecticut" not only led to Mr Blandings Builds His Dream House but to an exodus of urban moviegoers seeking their dream houses. In post war America, Gentleman's Agreement challenged Connecticut's well cultivated image as did the suburban malaise of The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit and contemporary takes on dark suburbia like The Swimmer, The Ice Storm and Revolutionary Road. From Sherlock Holmes to Mystic Pizza to Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull from horror in The Stepford Wives to historical in Amistad, picturesque in Parrish to perverse in The Secret Life of An American Wife, the Constitution State has been the background for surprisingly over 200 feature films yet these cinematic contributions have long gone unrecognized until now. Connecticut in the Movies is not only a keepsake for denizens of the state but a valuable resource for film buffs everywhere.

Objects, Audiences, and Literatures Carma Gorman, David Raizman, 2009-03-26

In Objects Audiences and Literatures: Alternative Narratives in the History of Design, five art historians tap a variety of unexpected literary sources to reveal the dynamic relationship between intention and reception in architecture, interior design, costume and the decorative arts. The essays consider both handcrafted and serially produced objects from the eighteenth to the mid twentieth centuries including a japanned high chest from colonial Boston, German and Austrian Artistic Dress, Tiffany lamps, the architecture of the 1925 Exposition Internationale des Arts Décoratifs et Industriels in Paris and the dream homes portrayed in two popular postwar American films. The five chapters demonstrate that a complex and even contradictory mixture of stakeholders determines the meanings of designed objects. Each author examines popular forms of literature in order to reveal the preconceptions that viewers brought with them to the experience of looking at and using objects. The authors' attentiveness to viewers' class and gender provides a methodological model for approaching the study of reception within the field of design history. Objects Audiences and Literatures introduces a new generation of historians of design and decorative arts with five superb case studies. Looking beyond the laconic historical data that has formed the backbone of scholarship in this field, these authors plumb popular culture, films, advertisements and especially novels to understand contemporaneous meanings of objects. Using these polyglot sources with an eye particularly on narrative and gender, they suss out heretofore unnoticed dissonances between the prescriptive pronouncements of avant garde insiders and the reception that design innovation found in broader publics. These wide ranging essays are marked by imagination, exuberance and acuity. I look forward to using it in my teaching.

Margaretta M Lovell, University of California Berkeley

This is a welcome addition to the literature that addresses the growing scholarly and popular interest in design and design history. Drawing on an impressive array of examples, the authors explore how class, gender and cultural context shaped the reception of architecture interior design costume and the decorative arts at various moments in the modern era The collection is noteworthy for the way each of the contributors draws upon literary sources for insights into design and material culture that transcend the specific examples under review Models of methodological rigor these essays should appeal to scholars in multiple disciplines Dennis P Doordan University of Notre Dame Heritage Vintage Movie Poster Signature Auction 2005 Catalog #624 Ivy Press,2005-10
