Immigration policy is a subject of intense political and public debate In this second edition of the widely recognized and authoritative work The Making of the Mosaic Ninette Kelley and Michael Trebilcock have thoroughly revised and updated their examination of the ideas interests institutions and rhetoric that have shaped Canada's immigration history Beginning their study in the pre Confederation period the authors interpret major episodes in the evolution of Canadian immigration policy including the massive deportations of the First World War and Depression eras as well as the Japanese Canadian internment camps during World War Two New chapters provide perspective on immigration in a post 9 11 world where security concerns and a demand for temporary foreign workers play a defining role in immigration policy reform A comprehensive and important work The Making of the Mosaic clarifies the attitudes underlying each phase and juncture of immigration history providing vital perspective on the central issues of immigration policy that continue to confront us today

Re-Imagining Ukrainian-Canadians Rhonda L. Hinther, Jim Mochoruk, 2011-02-26 Ukrainian immigrants to Canada have often been portrayed in history as sturdy pioneer farmers cultivating the virgin land of the Canadian west The essays in this collection challenge this stereotype by examining the varied experiences of Ukrainian Canadians in their day to day roles as writers intellectuals national organizers working class wage earners and inhabitants of cities and towns Throughout the contributors remain dedicated to promoting the study of ethnic hyphenated histories as major currents in mainstream Canadian history Topics explored include Ukrainian Canadian radicalism the consequences of the Cold War for Ukrainians both at home and abroad the creation and maintenance of ethnic memories and community discord embodied by pro Nazis Communists and criminals Re-Imagining Ukrainian Canadians uses new sources and non traditional methods of analysis to answer unstudied and often controversial questions within the field Collectively the essays challenge the older essentialist definition of what it means to be Ukrainian Canadian Transnational Identities and Practices in Canada Vic Satzewich, Lloyd Wong, 2011-11-01 With contributions from some of Canada's leading historians political scientists geographers anthropologists and sociologists this collection examines the transnational practices and identities of immigrant and ethnic communities in Canada It looks at why members of these groups maintain ties with their homelands whether real or imagined and how those connections shape individual identities and community organizations How does transnationalism establish or transform geographical social and ideological borders Do homeland ties affect what it means to be Canadian Do they reflect Canada s commitment to multiculturalism Through analysis of the complex forces driving transnationalism this comprehensive study focuses attention on an important and arguably growing dimension of Canadian social life This is the first collection in Canada to provide a comprehensive and interdisciplinary examination of transnationalism It will appeal to scholars and students interested in issues of immigration multiculturalism ethnicity and settlement
