Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World Pamila Gupta, 2018-10-18 Pamila Gupta takes a unique approach to examining decolonization processes across Lusophone India and Southern Africa focusing on Goa Mozambique Angola and South Africa weaving together case studies using five interconnected themes Gupta considers decolonization through the twined lenses of history and ethnography accessed through written oral visual and eyewitness accounts of how people experienced the transfer of state power She looks at the materiality of decolonization as a movement of peoples across vast oceanic spaces demonstrating how it was a process of dispossession for both the Portuguese formerly in power and ordinary colonial citizens and subjects She then discusses the production of race and class anxieties during decolonization which took on a variety of forms but were often articulated through material objects The book aims to move beyond linear histories of colonial independence by connecting its various regions using the theme of decolonization offering a productive and new approach to writing post national histories and ethnographies Finally Gupta demonstrates the value of using different source materials to access narratives of decolonization analyzing the work of Mozambican photographer Ricardo Rangel and including lyrical prose and ethnographical observations Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World provides a nuanced understanding of Lusophone decolonization revealing the perspectives of people who experienced it This book will be highly valuable for historians of the Indian Ocean world and decolonization but also those interested in ethnography diaspora studies and material culture

Emigration and the Sea M. D. D. Newitt, 2015 Noted historian of the Lusophone world Malyn Newitt offers an expansive account of how exploration imperialism and migration shaped the Portuguese and their global diaspora From Dictatorship to Democracy in Twentieth-Century Portugal Raphael Costa, 2017-02-17 This book examines Portugal's transition from dictatorship to democracy by focusing on Lourinh's urbanization and economic development since 1966 Since 1966 Lourinh's urban landscape has transformed as Portugal democratized From a rural town with little infrastructure and few institutions in 1966 Lourinh emerged by 2001 as a modern European town This work highlights key areas of economic and urban development and argues that Lourinh s political culture became more institutional creating a withering expectation of citizen participation in local development as Portugal transitioned from dictatorship to democracy Raphael Costa asks whether Portugal was on the path towards democracy before 1974 and if the rapid shift to democracy was the blessing it appeared to be by the 1990s Did democratization ultimately disenfranchise the Portuguese in important ways This work uses Lourinh s development as an example of the Portuguese experience to argue that the Carnation Revolution although a watershed in Portugal s politico cultural evolution should not be understood as the moment when democracy came to Portugal Tropical Versailles Kirsten Schultz,2013-10-18 This engaging study tells the fascinating story of the only European empire to relocate its capital to the New World Migration and Economy Lillian Trager,2005 Focuses on migration not as a single event but as a dynamic process that responds to and is shaped by broader economic cultural and social forces This title features individual essays that offer studies on Mexico Puerto Rico West Africa Kazakstan and Mozambique It is useful for development anthropology migration studies and more This book focuses on the historical sociology of the Turkish state It seeks to compare the development of the Ottoman Turkish state with similar processes of large scale historical change in Europe identified by Michael Mann in The Sources of Social Power It traces the contours of Turkey s modernisation with the intention of formulating a fresh way to approach state development in countries on the global economic periphery particularly those attempting to effect closer ties with Northern markets It also highlights matters of social change pertinent to states grappling with issues relating to political Islam minority identity and irredentist dissent Cultures in Contact Dirk Hoerder,2002-11-21 A landmark work on human migration around the globe Cultures in Contact provides a history of the world told through the movements of its people It is a broad pioneering interpretation of the scope patterns and consequences of human migrations over the past ten centuries In this magnum opus thirty years in the making Dirk Hoerder reconceptualizes the history of migration and immigration establishing that societal transformation cannot be understood without taking into account the impact of migrations and indeed that mobility is more characteristic of human behavior than is stasis Signaling a major paradigm shift Cultures in Contact creates an English language map of human movement that is not Atlantic Ocean based Hoerder describes the origins causes and extent of migrations around the globe and analyzes the cultural interactions they have triggered He pays particular attention to the consequences of immigration within the receiving countries His work sweeps from the eleventh century forward through the end of the twentieth when migration patterns shifted to include transpacific migration return migrations from former colonies refugee migrations and distinct regional labor migrations in the developing world Hoerder demonstrates that as we enter the third millennium regional and intercontinental migration patterns no longer resemble those of previous centuries They have been transformed by new communications systems and other forces of globalization and transnationalism Migrant Frontiers Anna Tybinko,Lamonte Aidoo,Daniel F. Silva,2023-11-16 This book examines today s massive migrations between Global South and Global North in light of Spain and Portugal's complicated colonial legacies. It offers unique material on Spanish speaking and Lusophone Africa in conjunction to transatlantic and transpacific perspectives encompassing the Americas, Asia and the Caribbean. For the first time these are brought together to explore how movement within and beyond these former metropolises came to define the Iberian Peninsula. The collection is composed of papers that study human mobility in Spanish speaking or Lusophone contexts from a myriad of approaches. The project thus sheds critical light on migratory movement within the Luso-Hispanic world and also beyond its traditional geo-linguistic parameters through an eclectic and interdisciplinary collection of essays traversing anthropology, literary studies, theater and popular culture. Beyond focusing solely on the geo-political limits of Peninsular space, several essays interrogate the legacies of Iberian colonial projects in a global perspective and how the discursive underpinnings of these impact the politics of migration in the broader Luso-Hispanic world.

The 'Ukulele Jim Tranquada, John King, 2012-05-31 Since its introduction to Hawai'i in 1879 the ukulele has been many things: a symbol of an island paradise, a tool of political protest, an instrument central to a rich musical culture, a musical joke, a highly sought after collectible, a cheap airport souvenir, a lucrative industry and the product of a remarkable synthesis of western and Pacific cultures. The Ukulele A History explores all of these facets, placing the instrument for the first time in a broad historical, cultural and musical context. Drawing on a wealth of previously untapped sources, Jim Tranquada and John King tell the surprising story of how an obscure four string folk guitar from Portugal became the national instrument of Hawai'i, of its subsequent rise and fall from international cultural phenomenon to the dangerfield of instruments and of the resurgence in popularity and respect it is currently enjoying among musicians from Thailand to Finland. The book shows how the technologies of successive generations—recorded music, radio, television, the Internet—have played critical roles in popularizing the ukulele. Famous composers and entertainers—Queen Liliuokalani, Irving Berlin, Arthur Godfrey, Paul McCartney, SpongeBob SquarePants—and writers—Rudyard Kipling, Jack London, P. G. Wodehouse, Agatha Christie—wind their way through its history as well as a host of outstanding Hawaiian musicians—Ernest Kaai, George Kīa Nahaolelua, Samuel K. Kamakaia, Henry A. Pelelua, Bishaw. In telling the story of the ukulele, Tranquada and King also present a sweeping history of modern Hawaiian music that spans more than two centuries, beginning with the introduction of western melody and harmony by missionaries to the Hawaiian music renaissance of the 1970s and 1980s.

House Life Donna Birdwell-Pheasant, Denise Lawrence-Züniga, 2020-06-04 This book which fills a gap on the materiality of lived relations examines households within the context of their immediate physical surroundings of home and shows how human interactions are reflected in built forms Houses are dynamic participants in family life in many ways They often predate the origins and outlast the life spans of their inhabitants but they can exert a powerful influence on the organization of behaviors and the values of family members as well as on the forms and flows of family life across the generations Constituting wealth investment security and inheritance they are an objective in and of themselves in many domestic strategies Drawing on developments within anthropology archaeology architecture and social history the authors demonstrate through detailed case studies how household or family relations can usefully be mined to re-situate social theory in both space and time Space boundaries family cycles historic changes migration patterns ethnicity memory and gender are all interrogated for the light they shed on how people interact with the physical world around them and what this means culturally and symbolically Europe is an especially rich focus for this kind of analysis because it is distinguished by its long well documented history and a recent period of intense change Global Histories of the Portuguese Revolution Luís Trindade, Rita Lucas Narra, Ricardo Noronha, Pedro Ramos Pinto, 2025-05-29 The Portuguese revolution marked the closure of the country's five centuries of imperial history as well as its 48 year authoritarian period a dramatic moment of political radicalization and social conflict that took place against the backdrop of rapid social transformation in an increasingly globalised world This collection goes beyond the limits of national history to locate the revolution at the intersection of transnational historical phenomena such as the long 1960s the Cold War the emergence of the Third World and postwar modernization Foregrounding the complex geographies and chronologies of semi peripheral Portugal this book combines its status as the centre of a global Empire with its subaltern position in Europe Offering a new global approach to this still understudied event chapters explore transnational socialist and grassroots forms of solidarity processes of global communication and Cultural Revolution decolonization feminism and socio economic transformations to offer a non Eurocentric global history from within Europe itself
