Post Colonial Question Common Skies Divided Horizons:

The Post-colonial Question Iain Chambers, Lidia Curti, 1996 Brings together renowned and emerging critical voices to respond to the questions raised by the concept of the post colonial The contributors explore the diverse cultures which are shaping our global future Stuart Hall James Procter, 2004 James Procter's introduction places Hall's work within its historical cultural and theoretical contexts providing a clear guide to his key ideas and influences as well as to his critics and his intellectual legacy covering topics such as popular culture and youth subcultures the CCCS and cultural studies media and communication racism and resistance postmodernism and the post colonial Thatcherism and identity ethnicity diaspora

Going the Distance David R. Jarraway, 2003-01-01 This bold new theoretical study explores dissident subjectivity that is the struggle for unique authorial identity in American literary discourse that has existed according to David Jarraway since the Romantics From Emerson's Experience remarking upon the focal distance within the actual horizon of human life to Toni Morrison's Nobel Prize address sanctifying the artist's sophisticated privileged space American literature has continuously recognized a necessary distance the gap between culturally accepted ideas of selfhood and the intractable reality of the self's never completed construction in time Jarraway's fascinating examination of modernist poets shows that engaging with this artistic space or going the distance empowers writers and their readers to create and perceive identities that resist the frozen certainties of conventional gender sexual and social roles Employing this theory with grace and precision Jarraway ranges through the dissident process in Gertrude Stein the cultural criticism of William Carlos Williams the deferred racialism of Langston Hughes the queer perversities of Frank O'Hara and the spectral lesbian poetics of Elizabeth Bishop Bolstered further by insights from the pragmatism of William James through the cultural critique of Theodor Adorno to the queer theory of Judith Butler the author challenges his audience with politically engaged insistence on the life affirming potentialities of human subjectivity in literature His passionate conclusion demonstrates the liberating fluidity of self made possible by feminist chartings of modern identity's depths Lucidly composed theoretically sophisticated and up to the minute Going the Distance painstakingly recovers the dissident American subjective in modernist literary discourse within its fullest cultural context Jarraway's readings are a major contribution to poetry scholarship and to cultural studies that will provoke further investigations into the history of subjectivity in American literature as a whole Post-Colonial Cultures in

France Alec Hargreaves, Mark McKinney, 2013-10-18 Ethnic minorities principally from Africa Asia the Caribbean and the surviving remnants of France's overseas empire are increasingly visible in contemporary France Post Colonial Cultures in France edited by Alec Hargreaves and Mark McKinney is the first wide ranging survey in English of the vibrant cultural practices now being forged by France's post colonial minorities The contributions in Post Colonial Cultures in France cover both the ethnic diversity of minority groups and a variety of cultural forms ranging from literature and music to film and television Using a diversity of critical and theoretical approaches from the disciplines of cultural studies literary studies

Olson, Lynn Worsham, 1999-01-01 Six internationally renowned intellectuals are brought together in a cross disciplinary dialogue that addresses rhetoric writing race feminist theory cultural studies and postcolonial theory Asian Diaspora Poetry in North America , "This Shipwreck of Fragments" Li-Chun Hsiao, 2009-10-02 In the light of and in response to the popular perception of the Caribbean as an epitome of cultural hybridity and improvisation this book seeks to further examine Caribbean cultural identities along the lines of race class nationalism and history Drawing on a variety of genres of literature and popular music the present volume includes not only essays that stress the shaping and reshaping of Afro Caribbean cultural identities and the significance of hybridization but also those that think against the grain and pursue questions which have not received enough critical attention This latter task can be seen in the attempt to probe the phenomenon that the Caribbean s image as a tropical getaway in metropolitan popular imaginations tends to eclipse its troubled pasts traumatic memories and current and recurrent problems which elude the rhetoric of cultural hybridity presupposing instead a certain non conflictual diversity or racial equality in the relatively innocuous realm of culture Although nuanced among themselves on certain issues the individual chapters together highlight a body of work which is distinct from the bulk of Anglo American academic productions on the Caribbean as the majority of the textual and cultural materials treated here come from either the Hispanic or Francophone Caribbean Katherine Mansfield and the (Post)colonial Gerri Kimber, 2013-09-16 This volume addresses issues raised by Katherine Mansfield s nomadic rootlessness as an extraterritorial writer Contributions draw on postcolonial and diasporic frameworks to examine Mansfield s insights into colony and empire Postcolonial Theory Leela Gandhi, 2020-07-28 Postcolonial Theory is a ground breaking critical introduction to the burgeoning field of postcolonial studies Leela Gandhi is the first to clearly map out this field in terms of its wider philosophical and intellectual context drawing important connections between postcolonial theory and poststructuralism postmodernism marxism and feminism She assesses the contribution of major theorists such as Edward Said Gayatri Spivak and Homi Bhabha and also points to postcolonialism s relationship to earlier thinkers such as Frantz Fanon and Mahatma Gandhi The book is distinctive in its concern for the specific historical material and cultural contexts for postcolonial theory and in its attempt to sketch out the ethical possibilities for postcolonial theory as a model for living with and knowing cultural differences non violently Postcolonial Theory is a useful starting point for readers new to the field and a provocative account which opens possibilities for debate Postcolonial Criticism Bart Moore-Gilbert, Gareth Stanton, Willy Maley, 2014-05-12 Post colonial theory is a relatively new area in critical contemporary studies having its foundations more Postcolonial Criticism brings together some of the most important critical writings in the field and aims to present a clear overview of and introduction to one of the most exciting and rapidly developing areas of contemporary literary criticism It charts the development of the field both historically and conceptually from its beginnings in the early post war period to the present day The first phase of postcolonial criticism is recorded here in the pioneering work of thinkers like Aim C saire Frantz Fanon Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak More recently a new generation of academics have provided fresh assessments of the interaction of class race and gender in cultural production and this generation is represented in the work of Aijaz Ahmad bell hooks Homi Bhabha Abdul JanMohamed and David Lloyd Topics covered include negritude national culture orientalism subalternity ambivalence hybridity white settler societies gender and colonialism culturalism commonwealth literature and minority discourse The collection includes an extensive general introduction which clearly sets out the key stages figures and debates in the field The editors point to the variety even conflict within the field but also stress connections and parallels between the various figures and debates which they identify as central to an understanding of it The introduction is followed by a series of ten essays which have been carefully chosen to reflect both the diversity and continuity of postcolonial criticism Each essay is supported by a short introduction which places it in context with the rest of the author s work and identifies how its salient arguments contribute to the field as a whole This is a field which covers many disciplines including literary theory cultural studies philosophy geography economics history and politics It is designed to fit into the current modular arrangement of courses and is therefore suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate courses which address postcolonial issues and the new literatures in English

Postcolonial Sociologies Julian Go, 2016-08-26 How can postcolonial thought be most fruitfully translated and incorporated into sociology This special volume brings together leading sociologists to offer some answers and examples The chapters offer new postcolonial readings of canonical thinkers like Karl Marx Max Weber Emile Durkheim and Robert Park

Archaeology Under Fire Lynn Meskell, 2002-01-04 The Middle East and Eastern Mediterranean are some of the most politically charged regions in which archaeology is implicated Historically they played a formative role in the birth of archaeology as a discipline Archaeology Under Fire addresses archaeology s role in current political issues including the ethnic cleansing in the Balkans the division of Cyprus and the continued destruction of Beirut The contributors consider the positive role of the past as a means of reconciliation whether it be in Turkey Israel and the Gulf They advocate a responsible global archaeology and an awareness of contemporary issues can only enhance this aim

Postcolonial Transitions in Europe Sandra Ponzanesi, Gianmaria Colpani, 2015-12-14 Is the notion of postcolonial Europe an oxymoron How do colonial pasts inform the emergence of new subjectivities and political frontiers in contemporary Europe Postcolonial Transitions in Europe explores these questions from different theoretical geopolitical and media perspectives Drawing from the interdisciplinary tools of postcolonial critique this book contests the idea that Europe developed within clear cut geographical boundaries It examines how experiences of colonialism and imperialism continue to be constitutive of the European space and of the very idea of Europe By approaching Europe as a complex political space the chapters investigate topical concerns around its politics of inclusion and exclusion towards migrants asylum seekers and refugees as well as its
