Postcolonial Imagination and Feminist Theology Pui-lan Kwok, 2005

Interdependence HyeRan Kim-Cragg, 2018-05-31 This book calls attention to an urgent need for postcolonial feminist approaches to practical theology It not only advocates for the inclusion of colonialism as a critical optic for practical theology but also demands a close look at how colonialism is entangled with issues of race ethnicity gender class disability and sexual orientation Seeking to highlight the importance of the interdependence of life the author challenges and contests the notion of independence as the desirable goal of the human being Lifting up the experiences of overlooked groups including children at adult centered worship queer and interracial youth in heterosexual and white normative family discourse and non human species in human centered academic and theological realms the book contributes to expanding the concerns of practical theology in ways that create healthy community for all human beings and non human fellow creatures It also takes up issues of multiple religious belonging and migration that practical theology has not sufficiently explored These illuminating new possibilities promise to renew and even transform church communities through the inclusion of often neglected groups with whom God is already present

Post-Colonial Theology Robert S. Heaney, 2019-05-08 Hate is unveiled on our streets Politics is polarized and the cohesion of communities is under stress and threat Religious and theological leaders appear compromised or paralyzed Robert S Heaney grew up in a Northern Ireland where enmity paraded itself and policed the boundaries between segregated identities and aspirations Such conflict with deep historic roots is inextricably linked to religion and colonization The theologizing of colonialism and the ongoing implications of colonialism cannot be ignored by those who wish to understand the most intractable of human conflicts Religious adherents and scholars are increasingly seeking to understand colonialism and decolonization in theological terms The field of post colonial studies across a range of contexts and in a complex network of inter disciplinary analyses has emerged as a major scholarly movement seeking to provide resources for such a task Theologians have increasingly seen the field as a resource and have made their own contributions to its development However depending as it does on a series of theoretical and technical commitments post colonialism remains inaccessible to the uninitiated Beginning with his own particular context of formation in this book Heaney provides an accessible introduction to post colonial theology Introducing the Women's Hebrew Bible Susanne Scholz, 2014-09-16 This book introduces readers to the diverse field of feminist studies on the Hebrew Bible Not organized as a traditional introduction to the Old Testament the manuscript does not follow a biblical book by book structure but provides an introductory survey of the history and issues as they relate to feminist readings and readers of the Hebrew Bible Accordingly feminist scholars of the Bible their career struggles and biblical texts characters and themes stand in the forefront of this introduction The volume is biased toward Western feminist scholarship because of the historical developments of feminist scholarship in general and biblical studies in particular Yet the chapters also include African Asian and Latin American perspectives on feminist studies of the Hebrew Bible In short the book offers an overview on the historical social and academic developments of reading the Hebrew Bible as the Women s Hebrew Bible T&T Clark Handbook of Political Theology Rubén Rosario Rodríguez, 2019-10-03 The T and the contributors then build on previously discussed historical resources and methods to engage with contemporary issues and challenges emphasizing interreligious dialogue even while addressing concerns of relevance to a particular faith tradition The volume concludes with three essays that look at the future of political theology from the perspective of each Abrahamic religion Complete with select bibliographies for each topic this companion features the most current overview of political theology that will reach a broader global audience of students and scholars Planetary Loves Stephen D. Moore, Mayra Rivera, 2011 Postcolonial theology has recently emerged as a site of intense intellectual and political energy and has taken its place in the interdisciplinary field of postcolonial studies This volume is animated by the conviction that postcolonial theology is now ready for a second deeper phase of engagement with postcolonial theory one that moves beyond the general to the specific No critic has been more emblematic of the challenging and contested field of postcolonial theory than Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak In this volume the product of a theological colloquium in which Spivak herself participated theologians and biblical scholars engage with her thought in order to catalyze a diverse range of original theological and exegetical projects The volume opens with a topography of postcolonial theology and also includes other valuable introductory essays At the center of the collection are transcriptions of two extended public dialogues with Spivak on theology and religion in general A further dozen essays appropriate Spivak s work for theological and ethical reflection The volume is also significant for the larger field of postcolonial studies in that it is the first to focus centrally on Spivak s immensely suggestive and vital concept of planetarity Multiple Faiths in Postcolonial Cities Jonathan Dunn, Heleen Joziassse, Raj Bharat Patta, Joseph Duggan, 2019-08-01 This book addresses the challenges of living together after empire in many post colonial cities It is organized in two sections The first section focuses on efforts by people of multiple faiths to live together within their contexts including such efforts within a neighborhood in urban Manchester the array of attempts at creating multi faith spaces for worship across the globe and initiatives to commemorate divisive conflict together in Northern Ireland The second section utilizes particular postcolonial methods to illuminate pressing issues within specific contexts including women's leadership in an indigenous denomination in the variegated African landscape and baptism and discipleship among Dalit communities in India. In the context of growing multiculturalism in the West, this volume offers a postcolonial theological resource challenging the epistemologies in the Western academy. Decolonizing Interreligious Education Shannon Frediani, 2022-10-28

Decolonizing Interreligious Education explores multiple injustices focusing on the lived experience, unaddressed grief, and acts of resistance and resilience of populations most impacted by coloniality and white supremacy. It lifts up the voices of those speaking from embodied experience of suffering multiple oppressions based on negative constructs of race, religion, skin color, nationality, etc. Engaging ideological critique, construction of knowledge beyond dominant lenses, and acts of resistance are presented from the perspective of those most impacted by systemic injustice. It challenges interreligious education to frame encounters where the impact of intergenerational trauma and the realities of power differentials are recognized, and the contributions of all voices are truly integrated. It challenges the fields of religious and interreligious education to imagine a broadened view that includes recognition of the role played by religion in harm done and to take a leadership role in engaging processes of accountability and redress. Postcolonial Theologies Stefan Silber, 2024-08-23

Postcolonial and decolonial studies are generating more and more interest. In the last two decades, a diverse reception of these critical ways of thinking has developed worldwide, including in theology. This textbook aims at providing a fundamental insight into this diverse movement that is discussed globally. In recent years, various attempts have developed in different contexts and language areas around the world to make the learning progress of postcolonial studies fruitful for theology. This introduction takes up many of these examples and organizes them according to a structure based on central terms and methods of postcolonial studies. Numerous examples, literature references, and featured authors encourage readers to delve deeper into individual subject areas and/or authors. Finally, the book is also dedicated to possible consequences for theology and the church in Western contexts. An/Other Praxis Herry M. Mukdani, 2013-12-01

Today's ecclesial praxis has to add something to human capacity in order for the church to envision itself whole. This book addresses multiple struggles as creative acts, theologically, for rethinking a possibly constructive ecclesial praxis that addresses God's new creation in its relation to God's people. By examining it in broader paradigms, Herry Mukdani proposes an Other praxis as a critical option for ecclesial freedom. An Other Praxis searches not only new impulses for theological practices but the extension of voices from the margins that have contributed both to fresh ideas and to new opportunities for life. It also demands ecclesial praxis to put all existing voices into account and responsibly rediscover the subaltern or subordinated others. Thus, this praxis helps the subaltern communities of faith claim their own identities as border crossers in the midst of cultural and religious plurality. They will be active subjects of new theological productions from and for the church. They are able to prove theological creativity possible today that expands beyond its ecclesial limits. An Other Praxis will be of interest to readers not merely because they want to learn something beyond the existing forms of praxis Rather it will always give them refreshing energies capable of making rich and sometimes risky responses to the ministry possible and real It will also give them attitude and perspective to improve a culturally diverse conversation in theology and thus it adds divers al ity in ministry and leadership in today s church

Theology and the Crisis of Engagement Jeff Nowers,Néstor Medina,2013-10-11 What does theology have to do with sociology Do the social sciences in general provide helpful assistance to theologians Does theology have anything to contribute to social theory This compendium of essays attempts to address such questions In so doing it confronts assumptions about how academic disciplines are best articulated whether within their own airtight frames or in dialogue with one another The essays in the first half of the book accomplish this from historical and methodological perspectives while the remaining essays present case studies or constructive proposals for how theology might engage the social sciences in productive ways For those particularly interested in the ongoing development of theologies of liberation this book will be timely The essays reflecting a definite international flavor are written in honor of Lee Cormie a long standing advocate of what he calls the new voices in theology that have irrupted in the wake of Vatican II Cormie has spent over three decades teaching theologies of liberation at the Toronto School of Theology on the campus of the University of Toronto This book continues the many conversations that his teaching has provoked
