Postcolonial Literatures Michael Parker, Roger Starkey, 1995 This collection of essays reflects the intensified debate world wide in literary theories especially since 1968 and the growth of post colonial literatures in English which together have prompted significant re readings of cultural histories in Africa India the Caribbean as well as in America and Europe Post Colonial Literatures scrutinises the work of four writers Achebe Ngugi Desai and Walcott and their attempts to find new languages and new narratives to engage with the complex histories of their homelands Postcolonial Literatures Michael Parker, Roger Starkey, 1995-09-15 This collection of essays reflects the intensified worldwide debate in literary theories especially since 1968 and the growth of postcolonial literatures in English Together they have prompted significant re readings of cultural histories in Africa India and the Caribbean as well as in America and Europe Postcolonial Literatures scrutinises the work of four writers Achebe Ngugi Desai and Walcott and their attempts to find new languages and new narratives to engage with the complex histories of their homelands

Literary Research and Postcolonial Literatures in English H. Faye Christenberry, Angela Courtney, Liorah Golomb, Melissa S. Van Vuuren, 2012-08-08 Postcolonial literatures can be defined as the body of creative work written by authors whose lands were formerly subjugated to colonial rule In previous volumes of this series the research literature of former British colonies Australia Canada Ireland and New Zealand have been addressed This volume offers guidance for those researching the postcolonial literature of the former British colonies in Africa the Caribbean and South Asia Among the forty nations represented in this volume are South Africa India Pakistan Ghana Jamaica Swaziland Belize and Namibia With the exception of South Africa which formed the Union of South Africa in 1910 this guide picks up its coverage in 1947 when both India and Pakistan gained their independence The literature created by writers from these nations represents the diverse experiences in the postcolonial condition and are the subject of this book The volume provides best practice suggestions for the research process and discusses how to take advantage of primary text resources in a variety of formats both digital and paper based bibliographies indexes research guides archives special collections and microforms

Chinua Achebe Jago Morrison, 2016-05-16 Chinua Achebe has long been regarded as Africa's foremost writer In this major new study Jago Morrison offers a comprehensive reassessment of his work as an author broadcaster editor and political thinker With new historically contextualised readings of all of his major works this is the first study to view Achebe's oeuvre in its entirety from Things Fall Apart and the early novels through the revolutionary Ahiara Declaration previously attributed to Emeka Ojukwu to the revealing final works The Education of a British Educated Child and There Was a Country Contesting previous interpretations which align Achebe too easily with this or that nationalist programme the book reveals Achebe as a much more troubled figure than critics have habitually assumed Authoritative and wide ranging this book will be essential reading for scholars and students of Achebe's work in the twenty first century Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart Harold Bloom, 2010 Things Fall Apart set in Nigeria about a century ago is widely regarded as Chinua Achebe's masterpiece. Considered one of the most broadly read African novels, Achebe's work responded to the two-dimensional caricatures of Africans that often dominated Western literature. This invaluable new edition of the study guide contains a selection of the finest contemporary criticism of this classic novel. Decolonization Agonistics in Postcolonial Fiction C. Okonkwo, 1999-05-10. This book explores through theory and in-depth textual criticism how novelists from formerly colonised societies have exploited indigenous codes and conventions of aesthetic representation to transform the novel into an effective medium for cultural and political resistance to neo-colonialism. Concentrating on novels written between the late 1940s and early 1990s in Africa, Polynesia and the West Indies, it offers a fresh mode of postcolonial critique which takes account of the ideological impulses behind the novelists' interpretation of the colonial experience. Journal of African Literature and Culture JALC-ALJ, Eating and Identity in Postcolonial Fiction Paul Vlitos, 2018-10-11. This book focuses on the fiction of four postcolonial authors: V.S. Naipaul, Anita Desai, Timothy Mo, and Salman Rushdie. It argues that meals in their novels act as sites where the relationships between the individual subject and the social identities of race, class, and gender are enacted. Drawing upon a variety of academic fields and disciplines, including postcolonial theory, historical research, food studies, and recent attempts to rethink the concept of world literature, it dedicates a chapter to each author, tracing the literary, cultural, and historical contexts in which their texts are located and exploring the ways in which food and the act of eating acquire meanings and how those meanings might clash, collide, and be disputed. Not only does this book offer suggestive new readings of the work of its four key authors, but it challenges the reader to consider the significance of food in postcolonial fiction more generally. Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08. The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world. Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form, explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important. Similarly, an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel, not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre. A wide range of topic entries explore the history, criticism, theory, production, dissemination, and reception of the novel. A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world. Narrative Rewritings and Artistic Praxis in Derek Walcott's Works Mattia Mantellato, 2022-08-18. This book focuses on Derek Walcott's literary and artistic work. Western postcolonial critique has depicted the Nobel Prize laureate as one of the greatest poets of the 20th century world. This, however, devalues his fundamental contribution to the realm of Caribbean theatre and art. The text examines Walcott's multimodal production, a combination of West Indian folkloric forms and Western-oriented structures and themes, by discussing three of his works: two plays, The Joker of Seville and Pantomime, and a long poem, Tiepolo's Hound. These epitomise respectively a response to Spanish, English, and French cultural legacies in the New World as postcolonial rewritings of Don Juan, Robinson Crusoe, and Camille Pissarro's stories. Following

Quijano and Mignolo's decolonial approaches and Riane Eisler's partnership perspective the book uncovers the strategies used by Walcott to respond to the colonial matrix of power      Colonial Tropes and Postcolonial Tricks Lesley Wylie, 2009-01-01 This volume offers a new reading of the Spanish American novela de la selva genre often interpreted as a belated imitation of European travel literature Arguing against the commonly held opinion of the genre's derivative nature Colonial Tropes and Postcolonial Tricks examines how novela de la selva fiction reimagined the tropics from a Latin American perspective and redefined tropical landscape aesthetics and ethnography through parodic rewritings of European perspectives Analyzing four emblematic novels of the genre this book considers the crucial place of the jungle as a locus for the contestation of national and literary identity by post independence Latin American writers      Derek Walcott Paula Burnett, 2017-08-08 An important contribution to the study of Walcott's poetry and plays Modernism modernity Walcott Burnett says has assimilated western tradition to his own project using it to create a new plural world of open ended possibilities A book that should be of interest to any student of Walcott's literature Times Higher Education Supplement This ambitious book takes in the full corpus of Walcott plays essays interviews etc as well as the poetry and argues the essential unity of his humanistic vision Wasafiri Burnett is very good on Walcott's aesthetic and technical strategies particularly the mythopoeic framework of his thought and the epic form which he frequently employs New West Indian Guide Convincingly suggests that Walcott's art radiates outward from St Lucia to the West Indies the Caribbean Latin America and the Americas becoming an art that honors and enlarges the English language and its multiple histories and usages World Literature Today

Colonial and Postcolonial Literature Elleke Boehmer, 2005-10-06 Colonial and Postcolonial Literature is the leading critical overview of and historical introduction to colonial and postcolonial literary studies Highly praised from the time of its first publication for its lucidity breadth and insight the book has itself played a crucial part in founding and shaping this rapidly expanding field The author an internationally renowned postcolonial critic provides a broad contextualizing narrative about the evolution of colonial and postcolonial writing in English Illuminating close readings of texts by a wide variety of writers from Kipling and Conrad through to Kincaid from Ngugi to Noonuccal and Naipaul explicate key theoretical terms such as subaltern colonial resistance writing back and hybridity This revised edition includes new critiques of postcolonial women's writing an expanded and fully annotated bibliography and a new chapter and conclusion on postcolonialism exploring keynote debates in the field relating to sexuality transnationalism and local resistance      African Fiction and Joseph Conrad Byron Caminero-Santangelo, 2004-12-30 Interrogates the writing back to the center approach to intertextuality and explores alternatives to it      Men in African Film & Fiction Lahoucine Ouzgane, 2011 Fills a gap in the international literature by offering new insights into the heterogeneous ways in which African men are performing negotiating and experiencing masculinity Through their analysis of the depictions in film and literature of masculinities in colonial independent and post independent Africa the contributors open some key African texts to a more obviously politicized set of meanings Collectively the essays provide space for rethinking current theory on gender and masculinity how only some of the most popular theories in masculinity studies in the West hold true in African contexts how Western masculinities react with indigenous masculinities on the continent how masculinity and femininity in Africa seem to reside more on a continuum of cultural practices than on absolutely opposite planes and how generation often functions as a more potent metaphor than gender Lahoucine Ouzgane is Associate Professor of English Film Studies University of Alberta Canada

A Postcolonial Reading of Mark's Story of Jesus Simon Samuel, 2007-04-18 This unique contribution to Markan studies reads Mark's story of Jesus from a postcolonial perspective It proposes that Mark need not necessarily be treated in an oversimplified polarity as an anti or pro colonial discourse Instead it may be treated as a postcolonial discourse i e as a hybrid discourse that accommodates and disrupts both the native Jewish and the Roman colonial discourses of power It shows that Mark accommodates itself into a strategic third space in between the variegated native Jewish and the Roman colonial discourses in order to enunciate its own voice As an ambivalent and hybrid discourse it mimics and mocks accommodates and disrupts both the Jewish as well as the Roman colonial voices The portrait of Jesus in Mark which Samuel shows to be encoding also the portrait of a community exhibits a colonial postcolonial conundrum which can neither be damned as pro nor be praised as anti colonial in nature Instead the portrait of Jesus in Mark may be appreciated as a strategic essentialist and transcultural hybrid in which the claims of difference and the desire for transculturality are both contradictorily present and visible In showing such a portrait and invoking a complex discursive strategy Mark as the discourse of a subject community is not alone or unique in the Graeco Roman world A number of discourses historical creative novelistic and apocalyptic of the subject Greek and Jewish communities in the eastern Mediterranean under the imperium of Rome from the second century BCE to the end of the first century CE exhibit very similar postcolonial traits which one may add to be not far from the postcolonial traits of a number of postcolonial creative writings and cultural discourses of the colonial subject and the dominated post colonial communities of our time Literary Form as Postcolonial Critique Katharine Burkitt, 2016-05-06 Focusing on works by Derek Walcott Les Murray Anne Carson and Bernardine Evaristo Katharine Burkitt investigates the relationship between literary form and textual politics in postcolonial narrative poems and verse novels Burkitt argues that these works disrupt and undermine the traditions of particular forms and genres and most notably the expectations attached to the prose novel poetry and epic This subversion of form Burkitt argues is an important aspect of the texts postcoloniality as they locate themselves critically in relation to literary convention and they are all concerned with matters of social racial and national identities in a world where these categories are inherently complicated In addition the awareness of epic tradition in these texts unites them as post epics in that as they reuse the myths and motifs of a variety of epics they question the status of the form demonstrate it to be inherently malleable and regenerate its stories for the contemporary world As she examines the ways in which postcolonial texts rewrite the traditions of classical epics for the twentieth and twenty first centuries Burkitt ties close textual analysis to a critical intervention in the politics of form

Self-Translation Anthony Cordingley, 2013-01-17 Self Translation Brokering originality in hybrid culture provides critical historical and interdisciplinary analyses of self translators and their works It investigates the challenges which the bilingual oeuvre and the experience of the self translator pose to conventional definitions of translation and the problematic dichotomies of original and translation author and translator Canonical self translators such as Samuel Beckett Vladimir Nabokov and Rabindranath Tagore are here discussed in the context of previously overlooked self translators from Japan to South Africa from the Basque Country to Scotland This book seeks therefore to offer a portrait of the diverse artistic and political objectives and priorities of self translators by investigating different cosmopolitan post colonial and indigenous practices Numerous contributions to this volume extend the scope of self translation to include the composition of a work out of a multilingual consciousness or society They demonstrate how production within hybrid contexts requires the negotiation of different languages within the self generating powerful experiences from crisis to liberation and texts that offer key insights into our increasingly globalized culture

Anita Desai Elaine Yee Lin Ho, 2006 A study of the short stories and novels of Anita Desai in the context of postcolonial debates about gender identity the local and the global and some aspects of Indo English writing
