Postcompulsory Education For Disabled People:

Post-compulsory Education for Disabled People Centre for Educational Research and Innovation, 1997 This report presents findings of a 3 year study 1994 1997 of post compulsory educational opportunities for adolescents and adults with disabilities in 10 European countries Finland France Iceland Ireland Italy the Netherlands Norway Spain Sweden United Kingdom Australia and the Canadian provinces of British Columbia and Quebec It is part of a larger study of effective educational and support structures in integrated settings The first part identifies the main trends in sections on 1 main characteristics of post compulsory education 2 the population under consideration 3 policies and legislation 4 transition from schooling 5 funding 6 provision 7 curriculum 8 support services 9 information technology 10 teacher training 11 community involvement 12 post education experience and 13 the future The second part of the report synthesizes individual country reports under the same 13 categories The study found that all the countries have some legislation in place to support post compulsory education and training of people with disabilities but that there is much variation in the extent to which this legislation protects people's rights and that people with disabilities continue to be under represented in post compulsory education and employment Appended are a list of working group participants and guidance notes for completing the country questionnaires DB

Equality and Public Policy Paul Chaney, 2011-01-31 Equality of opportunity is a contested concept It evokes strong emotions from proponents and opponents alike Enduring issues of inequality and discrimination mean that it remains at the forefront of political priorities in the twenty first century Traditional analyses tend to focus on developments at the level of the unitary state or European Union In contrast this book underlines the salience of multi level governance and offers the first detailed comparative analysis of contemporary efforts to promote equality of opportunity in the wake of constitutional reform in the UK It presents a summary of social theory on equalities in relation to gender and a full range of social groups and identities such as disability ethnicity sexual orientation and age It outlines the contemporary evidence base relating to patterns and processes of inequality in the devolved nations A governance perspective is also advanced one that details how constitutional law establishing the devolved legislatures contains equality clauses that enable and empower government to promote equality in public policy and law Analysis reveals the development of distinctive regulatory structures and equalities policy lobbies in each territory Overall this volume charts the development of divergent legal rights and public policy on the promotion of equality in the wake of constitutional reform in the UK Notwithstanding ongoing challenges it is argued that the move to quasi federalism is significant for it marks a shift from the predominant centralised administration of social policy witnessed throughout the twentieth century to divergent approaches designed to address contrasting socio economic patterns and processes in Wales Scotland and Northern Ireland

Overcoming Disadvantage in Education Stephen Gorard,Beng See,2013-08-22 Governments local authorities school leaders and teachers all over the world want to improve the educational attainment and participation of all students and to minimise any systematic differences in outcomes for social and economic groups A particular concern is for those students from backgrounds that may objectively disadvantage them at school and beyond However considerable effort and money is currently being wasted on policies practices and interventions that have very little hope of success and that may indeed endanger the progress that is being made otherwise The poor quality of much education research evidence coupled with an unwillingness among users of evidence to discriminate appropriately between what we know and do not know means that opportunities are being missed At a time of reduced public spending it is important that proposed interventions are both effective and efficient Overcoming Disadvantage in Education is unique in the way that it Shows where the solutions to underachievement and poverty lie combines primary new secondary official and published review evidence distinguishes between those possible causes of underachievement that are largely fixed for individuals and those that are modifiable There are evidence informed ways forward in handling under achievement and increasing social justice in education This book shows which the more likely approaches are and where further work could yield further benefits This book will be a key text for students developing academic researchers and supervisors in the social sciences and for those research users charged with improving educational outcomes ECEL2009- 8th European Conference on E-Learning, Dan Remenyi,2009

Policies for Diversity in Education Tony Booth,Mary Masterson,Patricia Potts,Will Swann,2013-09-27 The emphasis in this book shifts to the coordination of practice into schools regional and national policies and the power and interest groups concerned with educational difficulties and disability In the opening section the authors review the location of power in the systems the impact of Local Management of Schools case studies of Union policy the National Curriculum Council and voluntary societies They then look at one threatened element of the power structure the local education authorities They examine the features of local authority policy and attempt to systematise local policy The experience of families is examined in their relationships with professionals particularly during the preparation of Statements of Special Educational Need This is followed by sections on services for under fives integrating education and the authors provide examples of changing school policies and the practices that have arisen from them supporting the learning of all pupils in primary and secondary schools changing the role of special schools ensuring that girls and boys are provided with equal opportunities writing a development plan and the experience of a teacher with a disability They then examine policies and practices in education after school and finish with theories of integration and disability
