Durkheim and Postmodern Culture Stjepan Mestrovic, 2017-09-29 The present work is an elaboration of the author's previous efforts in Emile Durkheim and the Reformation of Sociology 1988 and The Coming Fin de Sicle 1991 to demonstrate Durkheim's neglected relevance to the postmodern discourse The aims include finding affinities between our fin de sicle and Durkheim's fin de sicle and connecting the contemporary themes of rebellion against Enlightenment narratives found in postmodern culture with similar concerns found in Durkheim's sociology as well as in his fin de sicle culture contributing to Durkheimian scholarship as well as to the postmodern discourse The distinctive aspects of the present study flow from the focus on culture communication and the feminine voice in culture Durkheim is approached as a fin de sicle student of culture and his insights applied to our fin de sicle culture Furthermore because Durkheim claimed that culture is comprised primarily of collective representations he was a forerunner of the current postmodern concerns with communication Because Durkheim shall be read in the context of his fin de sicle this book shall lead to the conclusion that Durkheim was a kind of psychoanalyst such that society is the patient culture comprises the symptoms and the sociologist must decipher decode and even deconstruct collective representations Yet the Durkheimian deconstruction proposed here is unlike the postmodern deconstructions which criticize and tear apart a text without substituting a better meaning or interpretation Postmodern discourse has made respectable again the synthesis of multidisciplinary insights that was fashionable in Durkheim's fin de sicle In following this postmodern strategy this book is more than a book about Durkheim It is also a book about his contemporaries among them Carl Gustav Jung Thorstein Veblen Henry Adams Georg Simmel and Max Weber The author does not follow the postmodern strategy completely because he f

Beville, 2010-04-16 Starting with some observations relating to shifts in ecclesiology and identifying them as a move beyond contextualization to syncretism this work goes on to assess the feasibility of preaching in a postmodern culture which rejects both the idea of absolute truth and authority used as power It traces the historical and philosophical development of postmodernism The Enlightenment project is deemed to have failed and Christianity is perceived as an oppressive metanarrative In a world that is becoming increasingly sceptical and where preaching practitioners are becoming disillusioned this book offers some guidelines about preaching to postmoderns In a relational age rationality is impotent but the author distinguishes between authoritative and authoritarian preaching allowing hope for the survival of the homiletic task Humility is presented as preferable to certitude and persuasion is redefined The author suggests using an inductive mode of communication as a means of engaging postmodern listeners He signposts a way forward in the labyrinthine complexity of the new paradigm and demonstrates that the homiletic task is still feasible Thus this book will be of interest to teachers and students of theology as well as pastors desiring to develop a new apologetic strategy

Authentic Parenting in a Postmodern Culture DeMuth, Mary E.,2007 Developing a New Christology for a Postmodern Culture Donald D. Phillips,2024-11-05

In an increasingly secular contemporary postmodern culture many people have no understanding of Christianity or the importance and relevance of Jesus Christ As a result the Church s traditional liturgical texts as well as the church oriented language often used by Christians to explain the Gospel are not helpful or accessible to those outside the Church To respond to this challenge the author uses a semiotic method based on the work of Robert Schreier to engage and describe the nature of contemporary postmodern culture Using a narrative approach to the Gospels based on the work of the 20th century historical theologian Hans Frei the author derives a more modest open ended Christology which will converse with its cultural context and continue to be interpreted within contemporary Christian communities Using social values analysis from a particular contemporary culture the author then forms biblical statements about the person of Jesus Christ that are congruent with those values and uses them to construct a new Eucharistic Prayer The result is a liturgical prayer that is accessible and enables members of that local culture to be embraced by and to embrace the identity of Jesus Christ
