God, the Gift, and Postmodernism John D. Caputo,Michael J. Scanlon,1999-12-22

Pushing past the constraints of postmodernism which cast reason and religion in opposition God the Gift and Postmodernism seizes the opportunity to question the authority of the modern and open the limits of possible experience including the call to religious experience as a new millennium approaches Jacques Derrida the father of deconstruction engages with Jean Luc Marion and other religious philosophers to entertain questions about intention givenness and possibility which reveal the extent to which deconstruction is structured like religion New interpretations of Kant Heidegger Husserl and Derrida emerge from essays and discussions with distinguished philosophers and theologians from the United States and Europe The result is that God the Gift and Postmodernism elaborates a radical phenomenology that stretches the limits of its possibility and explores areas where philosophy and religion have become increasingly and surprisingly convergent Contributors include

John D Caputo John Dominic Crossan Jacques Derrida Robert Dodaro Richard Kearney Jean Luc Marion Frangoise Meltzer Michael J Scanlon Mark C Taylor David Tracy Merold Westphal and Edith Wyschogrod

Braided Selves Pamela

Cooper-White,2011-06-10 What if we are more multiple as persons than traditional psychology has taught us to believe And what if our multiplicity is a part of how we are made in the very image of a loving relational multiple God How have modern Western notions of Oneness caused harm to both individuals and society And how can an appreciation of our multiplicity help liberate the voices of those who live at the margins both of society and within our own complex selves Braided Selves explores these questions from the perspectives of postmodern pastoral psychology and Trinitarian theology with implications for the practice of spiritual care counseling and psychotherapy This volume gathers ten years of essays on this theme by preeminent pastoral theologian Pamela Cooper White whose writings bring into dialogue postmodern feminist and psychoanalytic theory and constructive theology Protestant Metaphysics after Karl Barth and Martin Heidegger Timothy Stanley, 2010-08-06 Karl Barth is doubtless one of the most important and influential theologians of the twentieth century The Radical Orthodoxy movement has made major contributions to the debate about the return to metaphysics in Christian theology and philosophy In this groundbreaking book which challenges much of what is regarded as orthodoxy in Barthian circles more les Timothy Stanley makes a distinctly Protestant contribution to this debate Deconstructing Sport History Murray G. Phillips, 2006-01-01 Presents a broad spectrum of critical approaches that question traditional sport history

Kierkegaard and the Self Before God Simon D. Podmore, 2011-02 Simon D Podmore claims that becoming a self before God is both a divine gift and an anxious obligation Before we can know God or ourselves we must come to a moment of recognition How this comes to be as well as the terms of such acknowledgment are worked out in Podmore's powerful new reading of Kierkegaard As he gives full consideration to Kierkegaard's writings Podmore explores themes such as despair anxiety melancholy and spiritual trial and how they are broken by the triumph of faith forgiveness and the love of God He confronts the abyss between the self and the divine in order to understand how we can come to know ourselves in relation to a God who is apparently so wholly Other

Transforming Vision Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza, 2011 Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza describes the theoretical and liberative theological commitments that orient her pioneering biblical scholarship including the use of critical theory analysis of interacting social political economic and religious oppressions and promotion of a genuinely emancipatory and democratic community of equals in academy church and wider society alike The Oxford

Handbook of Divine Revelation Balázs M. Mezei, Francesca Aran Murphy, Kenneth Oakes, 2021 This Handbook offers a systemic approach to the notion of revelation in its various theoretical contexts It provides in depth coverage of the theoretical and historical fields in which the notion of revelation is discussed Tracking God Ivana Noble, 2010-01-01 This book offers an introduction to some of the fundamental themes of theology From the very beginning however it insists on the contribution to be found in the different Christian traditions The reader is enabled to view these traditions as part of a common heritage Drawing on the wealth of these understandings of what it is to be Christian can be an inspiration for those from very different church structures and even for people who seek to understand their own spiritual journey and search for God without identifying themselves or their journey with any particular church A number of important theological questions are covered in the book It starts with a look at theological method before examining the idea of divine revelation This is followed by investigating the nature of authority and authorities in different churches and where these coincide and come into conflict The historical and cultural contexts of theology and its roots in religious experience are also examined Each theme has a biblical and patristic part as well as a genuinely reciprocal discussion involving contemporary Catholic Orthodox and Protestant theologians

Seeing the World and Knowing God Paul S. Fiddes, 2013-07-25 This book aims to create a Christian theology of wisdom for the present day in discussion with two sets of conversation partners The first are writers of the wisdom literature in ancient Israel and the Jewish community in Alexandria Here special attention is given to the biblical books of Proverbs Job and Ecclesiastes The second conversation partners are philosophers and thinkers of the late modern age among them Jacques Derrida Emmanuel Levinas Julia Kristeva Paul Ricoeur and Hannah Arendt In the late modern period there has been a reaction against an inherited conception of the conscious and rational self as mastering and even subjugating the world around and there has been an attempt to overcome the consequent split between the subject and objects of observation Paul S Fiddes enters into dialogue with these late modern concerns about the relation between the self and the world proposing that the wisdom which is indicated by the ancient Hebraic concept of okmah integrates a practical wisdom of handling daily experience with the kind of wisdom which is attunement to the world and ultimately to God as creator and sustainer of all Fiddes brings detailed exegesis of texts from the ancient wisdom literature into interaction with an account of the subject in late modern thought in order to form a theology in which seeing the world is knowing a God whose transcendent reality is always immanent in the signs and bodies of the world He thus argues that participation in a triune relational God shapes a wisdom that addresses problems of a dominating self and opens the human person to others
