Perspectives on Contemporary Literature David Herschberg, 2021-10-21 Today's music painting and film share with literature in the development of a new aesthetic even as these other arts influence and are influenced by literary themes and structures And at the same time the music and art of the past continue to re-echo in twentieth century letters The thirteen essays gathered here open a fine and varied view of the ways in which contemporary literature interacts with the other arts Surrealism in French painting and literature collage theory and the cutups of William Burroughs texts of Butor as shaped by works of Duchamp this volume offers a rich harvest of perceptive studies on these and other aspects of a fascinating topic

Mimetic Criticism and the Gospel of Mark Joel L. Watts, 2013-02-01 What if the story of Jesus was meant not just to be told but retold molded and shaped into something new something present by the Evangelist to face each new crisis The Evangelists were not recording a historical report but writing to effect a change in their community Mark was faced with the imminent destruction of his tiny community a community leaderless without Paul and Peter and who witnessed the destruction of the Temple now another messianic figure was claiming the worship rightly due to Jesus The author of the Gospel of Mark takes his stylus in hand and begins to rewrite the story of Jesus to unwrite the present rewrite the past to change the future Joel L Watts moves the Gospel of Mark to just after the destruction of the Temple sets it within Roman educational models and begins to read the ancient work afresh Watts builds upon the historical criticisms of the past but brings out a new way of reading the ancient stories of Jesus and attempts to establish the literary sources of the Evangelist

First Pages Giancarlo Maiorino, 2010-11 Titology a term first coined in 1977 by literary critic Harry Levin is the field of literary studies that focuses on the significance of a title in establishing the thematic developments of the pages that follow While the term has been used in the literary community for thirty years this book presents for the first time a thoroughly developed theoretical discussion on the significance of the title as a foundation for scholarly criticism Though Maiorino acknowledges that many titles are superficial and indexical there exists a separate and more complex class of titles that do much more than simply decorate a book's spine To prove this argument Maiorino analyzes a wide range of examples from the modern era through high modernism to postmodernism with writings spanning the globe from Spain and France to Germany and America By examining works such as Essais The Waste Land Ulysses and Don Quixote First Pages proves the power of the title to connect the reader to the thematic cultural and literary context of the writing as a whole Much like a facade to a building the title page serves as the frontispiece of literature a sign that offers perspective and demands interpretation

Reading Eco Rocco Capozzi, 1997-02-22 Examines some of Eco's writings together with secondary sources in order to arrive at a more comprehensive critique of his literary theories and his notions of general semiotics as a cognitive social cultural practice Articles on literary semiotics which comprise the second section focus primarily on Eco Peirce Bakhtin Greimas Borges and Derrida Part three examines aspects of Eco's fiction Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
