Department of Bibliography, 1978 Long Term Economic Growth, 1860-1970 United States. Bureau of Economic Analysis, 1973 Publications of the National Bureau of Economic Research National Bureau of Economic Research, 1921 New Developments in Productivity Analysis Charles R. Hulten, Edwin R. Dean, Michael Harper, 2007-11-01 The productivity slowdown of the 1970s and 1980s and the resumption of productivity growth in the 1990s have provoked controversy among policymakers and researchers Economists have been forced to reexamine fundamental questions of measurement technique Some researchers argue that econometric approaches to productivity measurement usefully address shortcomings of the dominant index number techniques while others maintain that current productivity statistics underreport damage to the environment In this book the contributors propose innovative approaches to these issues The result is a state of the art exposition of contemporary productivity analysis Charles R Hulten is professor of economics at the University of Maryland He has been a senior research associate at the Urban Institute and is chair of the Conference on Research in Income and Wealth of the National Bureau of Economic Research Michael Harper is chief of the Division of Productivity Research at the Bureau of Labor Statistics Edwin R Dean formerly associate commissioner for Productivity and Technology at the Bureau of Labor Statistics is adjunct professor of economics at The George Washington University Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1974 A cumulative list of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books, 1979 Publications National Bureau of Economic Research, 1921 Technical Progress and Economic Growth Ranald J. Taylor, 2007-01-01 This innovative book accumulates the various and often conflicting growth theories which enable a greater understanding of growth processes in the developing world It will be of interest to students of development studies Asia studies and public policy as well as to research scholars and practitioners including government officials and policymakers BOOK JACKET Exploring Economic Growth Sakari Heikkinen, J. L. van Zanden, 2004 The quest for economic growth has been one of the great global issues since the Second World War. Indeed economic growth has also been one of the great themes of the discipline of economic history. The processes and causes of modern economic growth, using the title of Simon Kuznets' famous book, have puzzled economic historians for at least the last half a century and they still do as this collection of essays shows. Over the past 50 years historical national accounting has become a major tool of economic historians for analyzing the process of economic growth overall. The construction and application of historical national accounts has been one of the most dynamic branches of economic history. This volume contains a series of articles by members of the international network that has in the past quarter of a century continued and elaborated upon the research program that emerged as a result of the ground breaking research by Clark, Kuznets, Solow and Swan. In the 1980s the network became rather well organized, for example as a result of the stimulating influence of Angus Maddison and his colleagues at Groningen University, which resulted in series of workshops and conferences as well as sessions at several international economic history congresses: Milan 1994, Madrid 1998, Buenos Aires 2002. The aim of this volume is to evaluate the current state of the field, present new findings and analytical tools and to reevaluate the research agenda of the network.
