Postwar Transfer of Resources Abroad by Latin America United Nations. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,1992 Economic Survey of Latin America and the Caribbean 1993-1996 United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,2006 This publication gives insight into the economic trends the international economy and the role of exchange rate policy in the region It also explores the economic developments by country Included also is a statistical annex on diskette Mobile Capital and Latin American Development James E. Mahon,2010-11-01 Particularly timely in light of the recent Mexican peso crisis Mobile Capital and Latin American Development examines the causes consequences and implications of the Latin American capital flight of the 1980s It addresses the increasingly mobile and privatized nature of international capital and its power to shape economic policy in those countries Through a comparison of the policy experiences of Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Mexico and Venezuela James E Mahon finds that those countries that suffered the most capital flight had previously faced fewer structural trade problems and had not reoriented their exchange policies to diversify exports and deal with exchange market instability Since the countries that stumbled worst into capital flight before the debt crisis were later among the most aggressive neoliberal reformers Mahon discusses the ways in which overseas capital served as a kind of pressure for free market reform Finally the idea that internationally mobile capital now can operate as a kind of senate an arm of the wealthy few guarding the established order against the arbitrary dangerous tendencies of the executive and popular chamber is examined with relation to theories of dependency and the institutionalization of democracy Reform, Recovery, and Growth Rudiger Dornbusch,Sebastian Edwards,2007-12-01 The debt crisis of 1982 caused serious economic disruptions in most developing countries Reform Recovery and Growth explains why some of these countries have recovered from the debt crisis while more than a decade later others continue to stagnate Among the questions addressed are What are the requirements for a stabilization policy that reduces inflation in a reasonable amount of time at an acceptable cost What are the effects of structural reforms especially trade liberalization deregulation and privatization on growth in the short and long runs How do macroeconomic instability and adjustment policies affect income distribution and poverty How does the specific design of structural adjustment efforts affect results In this companion to Macroeconomics of Populism in Latin America the authors confirm that macroeconomic stability has a positive effect on income distribution The volume presents case studies that describe in detail the stabilization experiences in Brazil Israel Argentina and Bolivia and also includes discussion of Chile Mexico Peru and Turkey Foreign Investment in Latin America and the Caribbean ,2003 Investment and Economic Reform in Latin America Graciela Mogueillansky,Ricardo Bielschowsky,Ricardo Bielschowski,Claudio Pini,2001 Covers the period from the 1970s to 1998 Economic Survey of Latin America and the Caribbean ,1999 The Income Distribution Problem in Latin America and the Caribbean Samuel A. Morley,United Nations. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,2001 Provides a profile of income inequality in Latin America and the Caribbean and summarises trends from the 1970s to the 1990s Examines the determinants of income distribution and explores the impact of economic growth and economic reforms Analyses data on the determinants of income distribution for 16 countries and presents more detailed case studies for nine countries Discusses policy implications Structural Reforms, Productivity and Technological Change in Latin America Jorge M. Katz,United Nations. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,2001 In the last ten to fifteen years profound structural reforms have moved Latin America and the Caribbean from closed state dominated economies to ones that are more market oriented and open Policymakers expected that these changes would speed up growth This book is part of a multi year project to determine whether these expectation have been fulfilled Focusing on technological change the impact of the reforms on the process of innovation is examined It notes that the development process is proving to be highly heterogenous across industries regions and firms and can be described as strongly inequitable This differentiation that has emerged has implications for job creation trade balance and the role of small and medium sized firms This ultimately suggests amongst other things the need for policies to better spread the use of new technologies

Road Maps Towards an Information Society in Latin America and the Caribbean Jorge M. Katz,Martin R. Hilbert,United Nations. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,2003 This publication studies the way information technology can be used to achieve broader developmental goals and integrate the region into the global information society It addresses three main questions what kind of information society is desirable what are the specific regional traits of the move towards an information society what policies are needed to support the transition The book also contains the text of the Bavaro Declaration which lays out some guiding principles Coexistence, Cooperation and Common Security Joseph Rotblat,Laszlo Valki,1988-07-29 To remove the threat of nuclear annihilation changes in attitudes are required such as the acceptance of the concept of common security to take the place of reliance on nuclear deterrence to keep the peace This book gives an insight into thinking about ways to deal with the crisis Preliminary Overview of the Economies of Latin America and the Caribbean CEPAL.,United Nations Publications,2001 The publication presents an overview of the economies on a country by country basis of the Latin America and the Caribbean region Population, Social Equity, and Changing Production Patterns United Nations.
