Postwar Yorkshire Airfields:

Post-War Yorkshire Airfields Barry Abraham, 2002-06 This is a pictorial history of the county's airfields. Military bases like Leconfield, Leeming and Linton-on-Ouse are all covered along with civil airfields such as Bagby, Brighton and Beverley. Forgotten airfields like Carnaby, Catfoss and Cottam are remembered too. Bomber Command Airfields of Yorkshire Peter Jacobs, 2017-05-30 As part of the Aviation Heritage Trail series, the accomplished military author and former RAF Officer Peter Jacobs takes us to the county of Yorkshire and to its many bomber airfields of the Second World War. From the opening day of hostilities, RAF Bomber Command took the offensive to Nazi Germany and played a leading role in the liberation of Europe. Yorkshire's airfields played a key part throughout, initially as home to the Whitley squadrons of No 4 Group and then to the four-engine Halifax heavy bombers. Indeed, Bomber Command's first night operation of the war was flown from one of the county's many bomber airfields. Then, as the bombing offensive gathered pace, Yorkshire welcomed the new all-Canadian No 6 RCAF Group, after which all of Bomber Command's major efforts during the hardest years of 1943-44 against the Ruhr, Hamburg and Berlin involved the Yorkshire-based squadrons. Most of Yorkshire's wartime bomber airfields have long gone, but many have managed to retain the flying link with their wartime past. For example, the former RAF airfields of Finningley and Middleton St George and the factory airfield of Yeadon are now the sites of international airports, while Brighton, Burnthorpe, Full Sutton, Pocklington and Rufforth are still used for light aircraft flying or gliding, and Elvington is home to the magnificent Yorkshire Air Museum. From airfields such as these came countless acts of personal courage and self-sacrifice, with two men being awarded the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest award for gallantry. Stories of both men are included, as are tales of other personalities who brought these airfields to life. The stories of thirty-three airfields are told in total, with a brief history of each accompanied by details of how to find them and what remains of them today. Whatever your interest be it aviation history or more local, the county of Yorkshire has rightly taken its place in the history of Bomber Command. Military Airfields of Yorkshire Bruce Barrymore Halpenny, 1990 A further volume in the programme of updating the Action Stations series. This appears with an updated section of text and photographs to bring the story of Yorkshire's military airfields up to date.

RAF and USAAF Airfields in the UK During the Second World War Geoff Mills, Daniel Knowles, 2022-03-31 Shortly after the end of the Second World War, the United Kingdom was described as one vast aircraft carrier anchored off the coast of Europe. During a seven-year period, 500 airfields were constructed to serve the needs, first of the RAF and later the USAAF, as they carried the war to German-occupied Europe. The airfields that were constructed took many different forms, from training airfields and Advanced Landing Grounds to grass fighter airstrips and vast complexes used to accommodate heavy bombers. This book charts the history of each Second World War airfield in and around the UK, providing a unique insight into the construction, operational life and post-war history of each airfield. Alongside detailing the history of each airfield, this work comprehensively records the details of each unit that operated from airfields around the UK. The information provided in this meticulously researched book is supported by a wealth of 690 photographs providing an illustration into the life of each wartime station

Hawker's Secret Cold War Airfield Christopher Budgen, 2020-11-23 A military aviation expert chronicles the decades of breathtaking innovation that took place at Britain's secret airbase. In 1951 Hawker Aircraft started using Dunsfold Aerodrome to test its new jet projects. The Sea Hawk was followed by the superlative Hunter. Then came a radical new engine design for an aircraft capable of vertical take off and landing. While nay sayers claimed it would never work, the Harrier proved them wrong, becoming a vital asset during the Falklands War. Then came the Hawk, which after completion of the RAF requirement was sold into air arms across the world, including the US Navy. It was an incredible achievement for a UK design. British Aerospace then brought forth its upgraded Harrier, the Harrier GR 5. One might expect that this prolific output was the result of some massive industrial plant in the Midlands, rather than an isolated aerodrome tucked in the rural hinterland of south Surrey. Shrouded in secrecy for most of its life, Dunsfold has largely escaped the notice of the general public. This volume shines a light on the remarkable work carried out there.

Sino-British Negotiations and the Search for a Post-War Settlement, 1942-1949 Zhaodong Wang, 2022-03-21 The book is a systematic study of the China Britain relationship during the 1942-1949 period, with a particular focus on the two countries' discussions over both the 1943 Sino-British treaty and the discarded Sino-British commercial treaty, the future of Hong Kong and the political status of Tibet. These were dominated by two underlying themes: the elimination of the British imperialist position in China and the establishment of an equal and reciprocal bilateral relationship. The negotiations started promisingly in 1942-1943 but by 1949 had failed to reach a satisfactory settlement. Behind the failure lay a complex set of domestic considerations and external factors, including the powerful influence of the United States. Even after seven decades, the failure still has a contemporary impact. Recent Sino-British disputes over the Hong Kong Anti-Extradition Law Amendment Bill Movement and incessant Indo-Chinese conflicts and skirmishes over their unsettled borders all attest to the enduring legacy of the years 1942-1949 as setting the scene for subsequent Sino-British and Sino-Indian relations. From this perspective, the history has never left us.

Merchant Marine and Fisheries,1944 D-Day to VE Day Anton Rippon,Nicola Rippon,2024-07-30 Covers the final year of World War II in Europe On the evening of Monday 5th June 1944 the people of Britain went to bed with a sense of great events impending They knew that any day now would come news of the battle that would forever alter the course of their lives and the lives of their children and their grandchildren The following day s morning newspapers and early radio news bulletins were full of the fall of Rome to the Allies which had been announced the day before But then at 9 33 am on that Tuesday came the brief announcement Allied naval forces supported by strong air forces had begun landing Allied armies on the coast of France D Day had finally dawned D Day to VE Day tells the story of the last year of the Second World War in Europe from the Normandy landings and on through the hard slog to that long awaited day 8th May 1945 when Britain broke out the bunting rolled out the barrel and celebrated victory over Hitler The air raid sirens were silenced the lights could be switched on again and the boys would be coming home In many homes festivities were muted because the war in the Far East was still to be won but for a few short hours at least the nation could afford to let its hair down and dance in the streets Using contemporary accounts interviews newspaper reports and official documents of those final months D Day to VE Day looks at life in Britain during those vital months at the events that brought an end to war in Europe and at the redrawing of national borders that would shape a new world order Home is the Halifax Ian Robinson,2012-09-20 A World War II veteran details wartime life in Yorkshire and his postwar efforts to build a museum and restore a Halifax bomber Between 1935 and 1945 Yorkshire became home to 41 military airfields the majority located in the Vale of York The area was often referred to as a land based aircraft carrier At 16 Ian Robinson began working for the Handley Page aircraft manufacturer at their repair depot at Clifton York There Halifax bombers used by 4 Group RAF and 6 Group Royal Canadian Air Force were repaired and test flown During the Second World War about 30 squadrons operated from these Yorkshire airfields and the Book of Remembrance in York Minster records more than 18 000 names of those killed flying from these Yorkshire bases Postwar Ian felt aggrieved that little was left commemorating these sacrifices and that little was left of the Halifax bomber Then in 1983 a small group of aviation enthusiasts got together to create a commemorative museum at Elvington and Ian joined them He became a pivotal player in forming the Yorkshire Air Museum and Allied Air Forces Memorial Yet Ian felt the museum was incomplete without a Halifax So starting with a derelict fuselage which was being used as a hen coop on the Isle of Lewis he set about gathering all the hundreds of bits needed to reassemble the aircraft This is Ian s account of those 13 extraordinary years before the Friday the 13th was rolled out on Friday September 13 1996 Cold War Spymaster Nigel West,2019-02-20 The postwar era as seen by a master of counterespionage with an insight into his professional downfall Guy Liddell was the director of MI5 s counterespionage B Division throughout the Second World War during which he wrote a confidential personal diary detailing virtually every important event with intelligence significance Those recently declassified diaries which were edited by Nigel West have now been followed by a postwar series which covers the period from the German surrender until Liddell s sudden resignation in May 1953 These eight years contain many disturbing secrets such as the cache of incriminating Nazi documents which was supposed to be destroyed by the SS When these were recovered intact the British government went to considerable lengths to keep them from being disclosed for they provided proof of the Duke of Windsor s contact through a Portuguese intermediary with the enemy during the crucial period in 1940 when the ex king declared himself ready to fly back from the Bahamas and be restored to the throne One of Liddell s first tasks at the request of Buckingham Palace was to retrieve and suppress the damaging material Liddell s diaries were never intended for publication and are filled with indiscretions that shed new light on MI5 investigations he supervised after his promotion to deputy director general In addition to such behind the scenes stories this book includes details about the end of Liddell s career and the mistakes that led to it Despite Liddell s manifest failings and his reluctance to believe in the disloyalty of men he regarded as friends he was probably the single most influential British intelligence officer of his era Nigel West s information is often so precise that many people believe he is the unofficial historian of the secret services The Sunday Times Village England Trevor Wild,2004-02-26 The romantic imagery of village England and the prominence that this commands in English cultural identity is well known Yet just how accurate is this notion of the rural idyll in which the organic nature of village life was gradually undermined and destroyed by social and economic factors Trevor Wild s text explores the evolution of village England from the earliest times to the present Drawing upon both contemporary accounts and scholarship he provides an engaging and revealing account of the major transformations affecting the English village Of particular interest is the book s coverage of the more recent past with the whittling away of the great estates the appearance of such institutions as the village hall and the development of alternative systems of power such as the councils Hearings United States.
