Private Fire Matthew James Babcock, 2011-04-18 Matthew J Babcock's Private Fire Robert Francis's Ecopoetry and Prose is an examination of the life and work of one of America's most intriguing but tragically obscure writers Babcock uses his own personal relationship with Robert Francis's work which emphasizes conservation and connectedness to our natural surroundings to illuminate both overtones and nuances that are undoubtedly useful to those interested in poetry and ecology Babcock begins with a brief biographical section intended to set the tone for readers previously unfamiliar with Robert Francis and then continues into an analysis of the influence of Emily Dickinson and Robert Frost on Francis's work Starting in Chapter Three Private Fire shifts into the realm of literary analysis and discusses various angles of Francis's work from representations of gender and sexual identity prose contributions both fiction and non-fiction religion and politics to themes of conservation place making experimental poetic styles and asceticism finishing with a discussion of Francis's only long narrative poem Valhalla This poem joins other prophetic works in musing upon environmental apocalypticism Matthew J Babcock finishes this detailed and thoughtful volume with concluding meditations that situate Robert Francis with his contemporaries helping readers to locate him historically and contextually amongst other 20th century writers By using biography and literary theory as the lens through which one interprets Francis's work Private Fire Robert Francis's Ecopoetry and Prose successfully navigates the literary and cultural environment surrounding a poet who himself was so connected with the world around him

Advertising April Herbert Farjeon, Horace Horsnell, 1922      Identity, Interest, and Ideology Martin Needler, 1996-05-30 In politics individual political behavior is often ascribed to class and ethnic identity How does this happen In this text Needler shows how the individual constructs his or her political identity and develops ideologies that guide their political behavior. Intended as an alternative to traditional introductory texts in politics and political science, this book is at the same time a survey and introduction to political theory, a survey and introduction to comparative and American politics, and a review of contemporary international relations. These topics are combined in a novel and creative way so as to provide a readable and informative text for undergraduate students or laypersons. The author's fresh approach will be welcomed by teachers in politics and political science.

The Fiftieth Seabees, Memories of Kalgoorlie Filton Hebbard, 2001. When gold was first discovered in the arid regions of Western Australia, it attracted from all parts of the world the rich, the adventurous, the hard-working family man, the characters, the villains, and a miscellaneous array of misfits. Together they created a kind of history, the author has endeavored to record with both pathos and humour. These vivid stories have authentic backgrounds and some stem from gossip, yarns, pub talk with origins that are hazy. But nobody who lived throughout the early days of the pioneer town of Kalgoorlie, Western Australia, would deny the possibility of any of them.

Rotors Roger Gallagher, 2008-03-12. They were college kids and young soldiers who wanted to fly, and they knew little about Vietnam other than what they read in the newspapers before going there. But Ia Drang, Kontum, Bong Son, Pleiku, Dak To, and dozens of other places soon became their trials by fire as they flew the grunts into and out of hot LZs and exposed themselves to some of the most intense combat of the war. Their mission was to fly into isolated jungle hilltops and muddy rice fields, often without knowing what they'd face. Consequently, the crewmen who flew the helicopters and manned the door guns suffered some of the highest percentages of dead and wounded in the history of American warfare.

American Photography, 1914 W. C. Privy's Original Bathroom Companion Erin Barrett, Jack Mingo, 2003-04-22. One big fat book of fun for every bathroom user, filled with amazing distractions to help pass the necessary time.

Vietnam, the Making of a Sniper Jerry Melvin Mitchem, 2010. No other single force in Vietnam put as much fear into the hearts of the enemy nor gained his respect more than the American snipers. This is a story about one such Marine sniper team in 1964-65, Delta Two Foxtrot, who helped blaze the trail, gave their best, who hunted the enemy in its own back yard, took out assigned targets without the Viet Cong knowing they were present, who was feared, hated, and yet respected by the Viet Cong. The sniper team was hunted and chased for days and used every trick they knew to get back to base alive. Some teams made it back, and still some brave heroes didn't. It Must've Been Something I Ate Jeffrey Steingarten, 2003-10-14. In this outrageous and delectable new volume, the Man Who Ate Everything proves that he will do anything to eat everything. That includes going fishing for his own supply of bluefin tuna, belly nearly incinerating his oven in pursuit of the perfect pizza crust, and spending four days boning and stuffing three different fowl into each other to produce the Cajun specialty called turducken. It Must've Been Something I Ate finds Steingarten testing the virtues of chocolate and gourmet salts, debunking the mythology of lactose intolerance and Chinese Food Syndrome, roasting marrow bones for his dog, and offering recipes for everything from lobster rolls to gratin dauphinois.

The result is one of those rare books that are simultaneously mouth watering and side splitting The Commander Chronicles James Thomae,2011-04-14 The Commander chronicles is a science fiction story about a universal police force officer and his cat Kato In his travels he meets an android woman that he makes a member of his crew He meets other people in space and has a friend with four arms and a face chiseled out of granite with a dull chisel He finds out his cat is also an android and his purring is his way of talking He chases a genius who makes weapons of mass destruction The woman is a computer genius and helps him chase the terrorist across the galaxy They kill him only to have to kill him again
