Evacuees and Crabapple Trees Sheila Newberry, 2024-08-15 One last cough from the overheated engine of the Morris 8 and the bulging doors appeared to burst at the seams with children tumbling eagerly out and dispersing in all directions rushing past the shabby old weather boarded cottage into the tangled orchard and with joyous whoops discovering the gnarled plum trees groaning under the weight of huge glistening purple red Victorias At the outbreak of World War II seven year old Sheila and her family left Surrey to take refuge in Suffolk For Sheila country life was strange at first but roaming the fields and picking wildflowers was what childhood dreams were made of When the bombing died down the family moved back to Surrey but Sheila would later return to the countryside when she her husband John and their children arrived at Crabapple Cottage their new home in Kent Over the next few years they had many adventures as they adapted to the seasonal rhythms of country life Sheila Newberry spent her whole life writing but it was not until she was in her 80s that she became one of the country's best loved saga authors with books such as Bicycles and Blackberries and The Winter Baby Evacuees and Crabapple Trees is a wonderful snapshot of her life from her time as an evacuee to falling in love and raising her children Throughout all of this Sheila was writing stories which are loved by readers to this day Evacuees and Crabapple Trees contains photos of Sheila throughout her life and also has a specially commissioned foreword written by bestselling saga author Rosie Goodwin

New Coach: Reflections

From A Learning Journey Paice, Lis, 2013-03-01 Lis Paice's positivity shines through on every page of this book. She writes in a beautifully simple and accessible style. The book will be a tremendous introduction for those setting out on the same path as new coaches or for more experienced coaches who want to compare their journey with hers. Dr John Launer, Honorary Consultant and Senior Clinical Lecturer at the Tavistock Clinic, London, UK, I love this book. I've not seen a book before that uses the experience of the one who is learning rather than just telling you how to do it. It will be so useful in taking away the inevitable anxiety that comes when you are about to learn a new skill and learn it in public. The author's honesty about her own pitfalls will help you know what to expect and the light bulb moments that she has as she progresses will undoubtedly light up the occasional bulb for you too. It might be a book about learning but it's also a book that outlines the skills of coaching in a whole new way. Jenny Firth Cozens, Imperial College, London, UK. This is a marvellous record of the journey recorded by a senior doctor/educationalist as she strived to gain the skills of a coach. Any new coach will find it difficult to put down as it will resonate with many of their own first reflections. She is open about her mistakes from the start. On her first day of coach training she had a moment of kairos and she set her goal to train to the highest level which she continues to do. Dr Rebecca Viney, Coaching and Mentoring Lead, London Deanery, UK. There are many books on coaching that give advice on what coaches should do. This book is different. Describing herself as a self-critical learner, Liz traces her journey into becoming a coach, telling a uniquely honest story, warts and all, that all of us can learn from. This is like reading someone's personal reflective diary rather than a recipe book on how to coach. The result is both engaging and highly illuminating. David E Gray, Professor of Leadership and Organisational Behaviour, University of Greenwich, UK. You can't summarize if you haven't been listening. Coach and client share the encounter, not the experience. The better you get, the less you say. The client is the hero, not the coach. Coaching is a skill for life. This frank account of one leader's journey to become a coach is a must-have for beginner coaches. It will strike a chord with anyone who has been on a similar journey or has just begun professional training, discovering the disappointments, triumphs and surprises of learning to coach and coming to their own personal insights. Lis Paice's easy conversational style and rich supply of real-life examples make this an enjoyable read even for the absolute beginner. The questions she raises about coaching will also stimulate reflection for experienced coaches, trainers and supervisors. Topics include: What coaching is all about; How coaching differs from other ways of helping; What the role of the coach entails; Getting to grips with the principles of coaching; Learning by experience; why the rules matter; Trying out different tools and techniques; Finding ways of helping the client to new perspectives and insights; Avoiding complacency.
