Poverty The Philippine Scenario:

Poverty Ruth S. Callanta, 1988 Doha Scenarios, Trade Reforms, and Poverty in the Philippines Caesar Bucia Cororaton, John Cockburn, 2005 Since the early 1980s the Philippines has undertaken substantial trade reform The current Doha Round of World Trade Organization WTO negotiations is now likely to bring further reform and shocks to world import prices and export demand The impact of all these developments on the poor is not very clear and is the subject of intense debate The authors use a detailed economywide computable general equilibrium CGE model to run a series of policy experiments They find that poverty increases slightly with the implementation of the prospective Doha scenario These effects are focused primarily among rural households in the wake of falling world prices and demand for the Philippines agricultural exports The authors find that the impacts of full liberalization involving free world trade and complete domestic liberalization depend strongly on the mechanism the government adopts to offset forgone tariff revenue If an indirect tax is used the incidence of poverty falls marginally but the depth poverty gap and severity squared poverty gap increase substantially If instead an income tax is used all measures of poverty increase In both cases full liberalization favors urban households as exports which are primarily nonagricultural expand In separate simulations the authors discover that free world trade is poverty reducing and favors rural households whereas domestic liberalization is poverty increasing and favors urban households Under free world trade rural households benefit from increasing world agricultural demand The anti rural bias of domestic liberalization stems from the fact that import prices fall more for agricultural goods than for industrial goods as initial import weighted average tariff rates are higher for the former In conclusion the current Doha agreement appears likely to slightly increase poverty especially in rural areas and among the unemployed self employed and rural low educated The Philippines is found to have an interest in pushing for more ambitious world trade liberalization as free world trade holds out promise for reducing poverty World Bank web site Poverty John Dixon, David Macarov, 1998 This book addresses the long standing global issue of poverty It explores concepts and definitions of poverty and provides detailed examinations of poverty in ten different countries The Philippine Economy Ramon L Clarete, Emmanuel F Esguerra, Hal Hill, 2018-09-10 In this volume a leading group of scholars pose the question has the Philippine economy rejoined the dynamic East Asian mainstream and if so what set of policies and priorities are required to maintain the strong economic momentum of recent years Successive chapters address issues related to growth and poverty infrastructure and urbanization education health the environment energy development finance and governance and institutions The book has been written with a broad audience in mind First and foremost it is for readers in and interested in this fascinating and important country with a population that now exceeds a hundred million Second it will appeal to those in the broader development community with an interest in the analytical and policy challenges that democratic middle income countries face as they struggle to lift their citizens out of poverty and to achieve broad based and environmentally sustainable growth A Changeless Land David G.

Timberman,2016-09-16 First Published in 1992 This book examines the elements of continuity and change in Philip pine politics and government over the last quarter century The period covered from the early 1960s through 1988 encompasses three distinct phases the decline of traditional elite democracy the imposition of martial law and constitutional authoritarianism under Ferdinand Marcos and most recently the restoration of democracy under Corazon Aquino

Economic Growth and Political Change in Asia Graham Field,2016-07-27 This book looks at the main factors which have contributed to the strikingly strong growth of Asian economies in the last twenty five years It considers the economic policies adopted to promote such growth arguing that it will become increasingly difficult to sustain this The author then examines the inequalities generated by economic growth before considering the dynamics of the four different types of political system which have evolved in Asia veiled authoritarianism market Stalinism emerging bourgeois democracy and elite democracy

Philippines, a Country Study Ronald E. Dolan,1993 Struggling With Development Lynn Kwiatkowski,2019-05-20 Struggling with Development is a study of the complex relationships among international development hunger and gender in the context of political violence in the Philippines This ethnography demonstrates that gender specific international development which has among its main goals the alleviation of hunger in women and children and the raising Economy and Politics in the Philippines Under Corazon Aquino Bernhard Dahm,1991 From the Ballot to the Blackboard Ben W. Ansell,2010-03-22 From the Ballot to the Blackboard provides the first comprehensive account of the political economy of education spending across the developed and developing world The book demonstrates how political forces like democracy and political partisanship and economic factors like globalization deeply impact the choices made by voters parties and leaders in financing education The argument is developed through three stories that track the historical development of education first its original expansion from the elite to the masses second the partisan politics of education in industrialized states and third the politics of higher education The book uses a variety of complementary methods to demonstrate the importance of redistributive political motivations in explaining education policy including formal modeling statistical analysis of survey data and both sub national and cross national data and historical case analyses of countries including the Philippines India Malaysia England Sweden and Germany Philippines International Monetary Fund. Asia and Pacific Dept,2018-09-27 This 2018 Article IV Consultation highlights that the economy of The Philippines continues to perform well but is facing new challenges Real GDP growth is projected to grow strongly in 2018 and 2019 supported by domestic demand However poverty and inequality challenges remain inflation has risen and external uncertainty has increased The medium term economic outlook remains favorable but short term risks have risen Real GDP growth is projected at just under 7 percent over the medium term Inflation is projected at above the 4 percent upper target bound in 2018 and stay in the upper half of the target band during 2019 2020 The current account deficit is projected to remain manageable financed largely by foreign direct investment Philippines International Monetary,International Monetary Fund. Asia and Pacific

Dept,2022-12-15 A new administration took office in July with a blueprint to secure an inclusive sustainable and green recovery While the economy remains fundamentally sound the new administration will face three important challenges 1 striking the right policy mix to secure the recovery and safeguard price stability 2 building fiscal buffers as insurance against downside risks and 3 raising the Philippine s long term growth Transformation After Lausanne Al Tizon,2008

Lausanne 74 inspired evangelicals around the world to take seriously the full implications of the Gospel for mission This was especially true of a worldwide network of radical evangelical mission theologians and practitioners whose post Lausanne reflections found harbour in the notion of Mission as Transformation This missiology integrated evangelism and social concern like no other and it lifted up theological voices coming from the Two Thirds World to places of prominence This book documents the definitive gatherings theological tensions and social forces within and without evangelicalism that led up to Mission as Transformation And it does so through a global local grid that points the way toward greater holistic mission in the 21st century BOOK JACKET Philippine Rural Development ,1991 Independent Music and Digital Technology in the Philippines Monika E. Schoop,2017-04-21

In the first in depth investigation into the independent music scene in the Philippines Monika E Schoop exposes and portrays the as yet unexplored restructurings of the Philippine music industries showing that digital technologies have played an ambivalent role in these developments Based on extensive fieldwork online and offline the book explores the diverse and innovative music production distribution promotion and financing strategies that have become constitutive of the independent music scene in twenty first century Manila

Philippine Journal of Public Administration ,1989 Financing Human Development in Africa, Asia and the Middle East Rob Vos,Marco V. Sánchez,2014-01-09 How much would poor nations need to invest to eliminate poverty get all children in school and provide adequate basic health care for all Can they afford it Financing Human Development in Africa Asia and the Middle East provides some clear answers to these questions The contributors assess feasible financing strategies underpinning actions to enhance human development in pursuance of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals MDGs The contributors analyse these strategies in the context of broader concerns of economic development in nine countries in Africa Asia and the Middle East The assessments stress the importance of redesigning macroeconomic policies so as to make these more supportive of long term economic growth and employment creation while ensuring sufficient investments in human development in order to end poverty and overcome deep rooted inequalities Environmental
