Power And Gender In European Rural Development Perspectives On Rural Policy And Planning:

Power and Gender in European Rural Development Henk De Haan, Taylor & Francis Group, 2020-10-12 Since the early 1990s new public and private actors emphasizing issues such as landscape nature environment and food safety have challenged EU rural development policies This book looks at this innovative framework and in particular the impacts of the interactions between established interests and newcomers in local power relations Specific attention has been given to the gendered nature of these processes Case studies from throughout Western Europe analyze local rural power relations and present overviews of the significance of rural gender relations The book demonstrates that traditional and new forms of social organization in rural areas create new forms of political participation Changing forms of social capital and political participation not only influence the relation between state and civil society but also male female relationships The book argues that the dynamics of these gendered power relations produce competing discourses which can often hinder policy making and implementation

Power and Gender in European Rural Development Henri Goverde, Henk de Haan, Mireia Baylina, 2004 Highlighting one of the most relevant aspects of rural society the dynamics of local power relations this book examines the general European trends in rurality in the face of power and gender Illustrated by empirical case studies from throughout Western Europe it firstly presents types of local power relations in different rural contexts and then focuses on rural gender relations

Gender and Rurality Lia Bryant, Barbara Pini, 2010-09-13 The study of gender in rural spaces is still in its infancy Thus far there has been little exploration of the constitution of the varied and differing ways that gender is constituted in rural settings This book will place the question of gender rurality and difference at its center The authors examine theoretical constructions of gender and explore the relationship between these and rural spaces While there have been extensive debates in the feminist literature about gender and the intersection of multiple social categories rural feminist social scientists have yet to theorize what gender means in a rural context and how gender blurs and intersects with other social categories such as sexuality ethnicity class and disability This book will use empirical examples from a range of research projects undertaken by the authors as well as illustrations from work in the Australasia region Europe and the United States to explore gender and rurality and their relation to sexuality ethnicity class and dis ability Rural

Service Provision and Rural Sustainability Greg Halseth, Sean Markey, Laura Ryser, 2018-10-25 Access to quality services and community infrastructure are vital parts of supporting sustainable and resilient rural and small town places Renewing outdated infrastructure and supporting the delivery of services in rural communities present significant challenges from the constrained fiscal and policy realities of the 21st century Drawing upon contributors from five Organization for Economic Co operation and Development OECD countries this book describes innovative service delivery and community infrastructure models that are appropriate to the contemporary rural and resource dependent regions of developed economies The examples show that an entrepreneurial approach to service delivery and infrastructure provision by local organizations and governments is needed Critical economic and community development supports are crucial to assist creative and innovative sets of solutions that work for small communities Chapters in this book argue that community development foundations for resilient rural and small town communities and regions must be co constructed and co delivered in partnership by both local and senior government actors in terms of both policy and committed resources This volume will be extremely valuable for students scholars and community development practitioners exploring policy making government initiatives and community service provision in rural and small town places

Women in the European Countryside Henry Buller, 2017-11-28 Much of the literature published so far on gender relations in rural areas has either focused on comparisons of the position of men and women or explored the position of women given prevailing structural forces and behavioural norms that restrict the autonomy of women as human agents This groundbreaking book broadens the debate by developing our understanding of how societal processes produce and sustain gender divisions particularly in rural areas highlighting aspects of rural women s lives previously invisible in the literature Illustrated by case studies from France Germany Greece Norway and Sweden the book examines the critical issues of education and training entrepreneurship leadership limited work and service opportunities social mobility and work experiences In doing so the contributors provide a fascinating comparative study of both national regional and broader European realities seminal contribution to public policy While legislation can ensure minimum standards of behaviour and outcomes meaningful organizational progression beyond legal imperatives requires authentic dialogue based on principles of equity diversity and interdependence These are essential components for deeper societal transformation Using the divided society of Northern Ireland as a case study and its rural governance arena in particular this book provides an authoritative empirical analysis of and prescriptive agenda for collaborative conversations The insights provided by this book go far beyond this region and have a profound relevance for other societies struggling to emerge from conflict racism and social separation

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003-12 Big Places, Big Plans Mark B. Lapping,2017-11-30 With origins in the late 1960s a quiet revolution in land use planning and control has taken hold across North America First seen as a manifestation of the environmental movement the revolution prompted governments at several levels to attempt to protect critical areas and vulnerable natural resources Many of the most dramatic and far reaching shifts in planning regimes have occurred in large scale environmentally unique or sensitive regions It is these big places looming large in the American and Canadian psyches that are the focus of this edited volume Each of the chapters reflects on the contemporary challenge of environmental and land use planning Ten leading distinguished scholars here provide thoughtful analyses and critical insights into the processes and contexts shaping the innovative planning and policy schemes in seven regional landscapes

Supranational Governance at Stake Mario Telò,Anne Weyembergh,2020-05-01 This book examines the varied competences of the European Union EU in relation to its capacity to externalize its policy preferences Specifically it explores the continued resilience within the EU s policy toolbox of supranational modes of governance beyond the State The book first situates European experiences of supranationality in relations to the wide variety of regional and global modes of governance it comes into contact with when seeking to deal with an increasingly complex and fragmented international environment Over the course of its subsequent sections the book analyses the resilience flexibility and adaptability of the EU s supranational practices across a significant cross section of policy fields for example Area Freedom of Justice Justice and Security Socio economic Governance or Trade Policies Overall these chapters unpack the impact of the EU s internal institutional complexity on the EU s external capacity to export its preferences in an increasingly fragmented international environment This in turn sees the book also question whether the EU has the institutional tools to guarantee and implement consistency between its internal and external policies This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU politics studies and more broadly to International relations International EU Law comparative regionalism international political economy security studies international law
