Raising Kids Ok:

Raising Kids O.K. Dorothy E. Babcock, Terry D. Keepers, 1976      Handbook on Parent Education Marvin J. Fine, 2014-05-10

Handbook on Parent Education presents a contemporary picture of the state of the parent education movement. It tackles a number of critical issues such as the programs that are available or when parent education should begin. Different models of parent education are described along with parenting programs for youth. The application of parenting programs for specific groups including foster parents, parents of preschoolers, abusive parents, and parents of handicapped children is also discussed. Comprised of 14 chapters, this book begins with an overview of the parent education movement as well as several prototype programs and some ethical issues. The distinction between education and therapy is explained, and parent education with special interest groups is described. In addition, problems of research and evaluation and a projection for the future are presented. Subsequent chapters focus on the state of the nuclear family in American society during the 1970s, Rudolf Dreikurs' impact on childrearing practices and his contribution to individual psychology together with the social context of child behavior, Haim Ginott's approach to parent education and the effects of parent effectiveness training on families, Transactional analysis approaches to parent education, and parent education as a strategy for the prevention of child abuse are also examined. This monograph will appeal to educators, parents, sociologists, and educational psychologists.

Parents as Educators Keith J. Topping, 2025-08-05

Modern practice in the 1980s was to involve parents increasingly in the education of their children and was supported by legislation. Particularly when children had special needs, parents required structured training and support to ensure they effectively sustained their vital role as educators at home. Many large scale programmes to provide this had been developed throughout the world at the time, for example Home Start, Portage, Home Visiting Projects and Paired Reading Projects. However, not all of these had been thoroughly evaluated and the existing literature was scattered and difficult to access. Some projects demonstrated spectacular results and high cost effectiveness, while others proved more disappointing. Originally published in 1986, this book critically analyses over 600 international English language research reports on the effectiveness of parent training programmes. In addition, a detailed guide to the practicalities of planning projects is provided together with a comprehensive directory of useful resource materials. After an introductory overview, the evidence on the effects on child progress of parental involvement in school activities is reviewed, as is research on the impact of schemes of regular structured communication between home and school. Programmes designed to train parents to accelerate the development of their children at home are considered in the subsequent chapters, starting with ordinary children. Much of the book reviews projects targeted on children with some sort of special educational need, from children whose special needs stem from a widespread difficulty such as poverty or second language learning, systematically through to children whose needs stem from rarer and more severe issues. Each chapter has its own summary for ease of reader use, while an overall summary chapter points out best buys and directions for future developments This volume will be of major interest to teachers psychologists social workers community health personnel community educationalists researchers many others working with parents and children and to some parents themselves This book is a re issue originally published in 1986 The language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this re publication The Second Handbook on Parent Education Marvin J. Raising Kids O.K. Terry D. Keepers,1986 The Fine Art of Mentoring Ted W. Engstrom,Norman B. Rohrer,2005-03-24 Who has been the most influential person in your life Was it a school teacher An uncle A parent A grandmother A minister An employer A coach Whoever it was your reason for choosing this person probably had more to do with who they were and how they lived than how they looked or what they owned What you experienced was the result of this significant person's ability to model inspiring qualities and communicate those qualities to you. How did they do it? What were the ingredients that enabled them to teach so effectively? Down through the centuries students have learned through careful observation from those more experienced. Apprentices have learned from craftsmen who took them by the hand. Amateurs emulated professionals. Disciples studied masters. As one who has been profoundly influenced by skilled leaders and who has in turn motivated many others, Ted Engstrom could be aptly described as a mentor's mentor. In this book, Ted Engstrom will introduce to you the idea of mentoring. As a leader, you'll learn that mentoring represents the difference between talking and doing; as a student, you'll learn from the master's performance as well as his prose.

Usher's Harbour Barry Epstein, Darl Epstein, 2012. A future fiction novel in which people live in harmony inside of domed cities. When a serial killer attacks one of the cities, authorities are not prepared to handle the situation, so a professor, his sister, and his girlfriend try to find the murderer. During their pursuit, they also find out what has become of the earth since the human race has been living in their fortified bubbles.

After the Fact Michael Beary, 2019-09-17. The big problem with romance is eliminating the guesswork. Who hasn't toyed with the idea of two people who are meant to be together? Peter and Isabel are no exception. They too toy with the idea. However, when it comes to finding out, they run separate from the pack. Contract in hand, Peter and Isabel intend to find out in fifteen weeks, no less, if they are destined for each other or not. How, in the Greater New Orleans Area, can two human beings put fate on a timetable? Beware of biting off more than you can chew.
