Significant Food Jeff Birkenstein,Robert C. Hauhart,2024-07 Significant Food is a collaborative work of textual analysis and criticism that chews on the role and prominence of food in American literature The volume offers close readings of many well known and some less well known examples of American writing as studied through the food culture sensibilities of a well stocked cupboard of contributors who offer their analyses for public consumption Editors Jeff Birkenstein and Robert C Hauhart find that literary criticism has focused on the role food plays in literary production to a greater extent than recognized at first glance and that its role has become increasingly common only in the last two decades Still while there is critical commentary regarding authors use of food across the expanse of American literature there has been a lack of a unifying critical theory to guide these analyses Birkenstein and Hauhart offer the theory of significant food a method that asks literary critics to evaluate and assess the extent nature and role that food plays in literary production When food and food moments are used intensively and significantly within the drama memoir poem novel short story or other writing then one can say that it has achieved a status that makes it indispensable to the work at hand      Reference Books Bulletin,1997      Irish Children's Literature and Culture Keith O'Sullivan, Valerie Coghlan, 2011-03-17 What constitutes a national literature is rarely straightforward and it is especially complex when discussing writing for young people in an Irish context Until recently there was only a slight body of work that could be classified as Irish children's literature whatever the parameters in comparison with Ireland's contribution to adult literature in the twentieth century This volume looks critically at Irish writing for children from the 1980s to the present examining the work of many writers and illustrators and engaging with all the major forms and genres Topics include the gothic the speculative picturebooks poetry post colonial discourse identity and ethnicity and globalization Modern Irish children's literature is also contextualized in relation to Irish mythology and earlier writings thereby demonstrating the complexity of this fascinating area The contributors who are leading experts in their fields examine a range of texts in relation to contemporary literary and cultural theory and also in relation to writing for adults thereby inviting a consideration of how well writing for a young audience can compare with writing for an adult one This groundbreaking work is essential reading for all interested in Irish literature childhood and children's literature
