Collective Participation and Audience Engagement in Rap Music David Diallo, 2019-08-28 Why do rap MCs present their studio recorded lyrics as live and direct Why do they so insistently define abilities or actions theirs or someone else s against a pre existing signifier This book examines the compositional practice of rap lyricists and offers compelling answers to these questions Through a 40 year span analysis of the music it argues that whether through the privileging of chanted call and response phrases or through rhetorical strategies meant to assist in getting one s listening audience open the focus of the first rap MCs on community building and successful performer audience cooperation has remained prevalent on rap records with lyrics and production techniques encouraging the listener to become physically and emotionally involved in recorded performances Relating rap s rhetorical strategy of posing inferences through intertextuality to early call and response routines and crowd controlling techniques this study emphasizes how the dynamic and collective elements from the stage performances and battles of the formative years of rap have remained relevant in the creative process behind this music It contends that the customary use of identifiable references and similes by rap lyricists works as a fluid interchange designed to keep the listener involved in the performance Like call and response in live performances it involves a dynamic form of communication and places MCs in a position where they activate the shared knowledge of their audience making sure that they know what they mean thus transforming their mediated lyrics into a collective and engaging performance
