Local Government Board, 1874      Tracing Your Irish Ancestors Through Land Records Chris Paton, 2021-11-30 If you have Irish family roots this book is an excellent resource and guide to help you to make the most of your researches on ancestors Leicestershire Rutland Family History Society The history of Ireland is one that was long dominated by the question of land ownership with complex and often distressing tales over the centuries of dispossession and colonization religious tensions absentee landlordism subsistence farming and considerably more to sadden the heart Yet with the destruction of much of Ireland's historic record during the Irish Civil War and with the discriminatory Penal Laws in place in earlier times it is often within land records that we can find evidence of our ancestors existence in some cases the only evidence where the relevant vital records for an area may never have been kept or may not have survived In Tracing Your Irish Ancestors Through Land Records genealogist and bestselling author Chris Paton explores how the surviving records can help with our ancestral research but also tell the stories of the communities from within which our ancestors emerged He explores the often controversial history of ownership of land across the island the rights granted to those who held estates and the plights of the dispossessed and identifies the various surviving records which can help to tease out the stories of many of Ireland's forgotten generations Along the way Chris Paton identifies the various ways to access the records whether in Ireland's many archives local and national and increasingly through a variety of online platforms An essential read for anyone taking their Irish research seriously Who Do You Think You Are Magazine      Irish Immigrants in the Land of Canaan Kerby A. Miller, 2003 Publisher's description Irish Immigrants in the Land of Canaan is a monumental study of early Irish Protestant and Catholic immigration to America Through exhaustive research and analysis of the migrants letters and memoirs the editors explore why the immigrants left Ireland how they adapted to colonial and revolutionary America and how their experiences and attitudes shaped society culture and politics and created modern Irish and Irish American identities in America and Ireland alike      Economic

Thought and the Irish Question 1817-1870 R. D. Collison Black, 2015-02-12 Originally published in 1960 this book presents a discussion of the relationship between economic theory and economic policy in relation to nineteenth century Irish history The text focuses on the period 1816 70 and covers a variety of areas including the land system absentee landlords the poor law private enterprise free trade public works and emigration A bibliography is included and detailed notes are incorporated throughout This book will be of value to anyone with an interest in Irish history British foreign policy and economic theory

Who Owns Ireland Kevin Cahill, 2021-07-30 It is the barbed wire entanglement that tortures yet frees in the long story of this small island on the dark edge of Europe It defined the national struggle for independence far more than any other single issue The famine between 1845 and 1850 killed a million of the island's population of 8 million and drove another million into exile This event chopped Irish history in half demonstrating as nothing else could that without security of tenure for a normal life span you were at the mercy of landowners This book is not about the famine but about the key event that followed it the extraordinary redistribution of land from mainly aristocratic landed estates to small farmers This redistribution took over 150 years from famine's end to the closure of the Land Commission in 1999 and was achieved with some civility and far less violence than the actual independence struggle itself Who Owns Ireland is a startling expose of Ireland's most valuable asset its land Kevin Cahill's investigations reveal the breakdown of ownership of the land itself across all thirty two counties and show the startling truth about the people and institutions who own the ground beneath our feet

Scott-Keltie, 2016-12-23 The classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world     The Statesman's Year-book , 1890     New Lease on Life Catherine Anne Wilson, 1994-03-01 In Part 1 Wilson reconstructs the family circumstances and estate management of two landlords Stephen Moore third earl of Mount Cashell and Major Robert Perceval Maxwell Each owned several estates in Ireland and the estate known as Amherst Island in Ontario She examines how the management of these estates changed over time and highlights the differences between management in the north and south of Ireland particularly in Counties Down Antrim and Cork She looks at the form the landlord tenant relationship took in the New World to determine whether tenancy arrangements in the New World offered landlords an opportunity to start afresh or instead were influenced by the traditions and financial circumstances of their Irish estates The second part of the study follows more than one hundred tenant families who between 1820 and 1860 migrated from the Ards Peninsula in County Down to Amherst Island where they rented land from Mount Cashell and later from Maxwell Wilson reveals what life was like in the United Parish of St Andrews why families emigrated and rented on Amherst Island and what it meant socially and economically to be a tenant in the New World where most farmers were freeholders Wilson sets her study firmly in the framework of British Irish and American writing on land tenure and in this comparative context opens the discussion of tenancy among Canadians more widely than anyone has done heretofore She concludes that both landlords and tenants were more successful in the New World Wealth and land ownership might be slow in materializing but the opportunity the choices and the attainment of security were all greater than they had been in Ireland Housing Politics in the United Kingdom Brian Lund, 2016-10-12 With rapid population growth a long term dearth in new housing construction the emergence of generation rent and rising homelessness the issue of housing in the UK is considered complex open ended and intractable Using insights from public choice theory the new institutionalism and social constructionism Housing Politics in the United Kingdom locates the contemporary housing question in historically entrenched power relationships involving markets planning and territorial electoral politics Written to complement the 3rd edition of the author's bestselling Understanding housing policy forthcoming 2017 this book will be essential reading for students of Housing Social Policy Social History Urban Studies Planning and Political Science Anglo-American Encyclopedia, 1910

Economic Thought and the Irish Question 1817-1970 Robert Dennis Collison Black, 1960 Ireland and Irish America Kerby A. Miller, 2008 Between 1600 and 1929 perhaps seven million men and women left Ireland and crossed the Atlantic Ireland and Irish America is concerned with Catholics and Protestants rural and urban dwellers men and women on both sides of that vast ocean Drawing on over thirty years of research in sources as disparate as emigrants letters and demographic data it recovers the experiences and opinions of emigrants as varied as the Rev James McGregor who in 1718 led the first major settlement of Presbyterians from Ulster to the New World Mary Rush a desperate refugee from the Great Famine in County Sligo and Tom Brick an Irish speaking Kerryman on the American prairie in the early 1900s Above all Ireland and Irish America offers a trenchant analysis of mass migration's causes its consequences and its popular and political interpretations In the process it challenges the conventional two traditions Protestant versus Catholic paradigm of Irish and Irish diasporan history and it illuminates the hegemonic forces and relationships that governed the Irish and Irish American worlds created and linked by transatlantic capitalism
