R. Leavis, 1969 Literacy and Growth John Hodgson, Ann Harris, 2024-08-13 Literacy and Growth is a unique genealogical study of English teaching in the UK and abroad since the 18th century Focusing specifically on the concepts of literacy and growth this book explores key moments in the development of ideas about English teaching Hodgson and Harris reveal the Enlightenment forebears of such contemporary concepts as cultural capital and critical literacy the significance of growth to the writers and social critics who opposed Victorian Utilitarianism and the 20th century influences that established English as a humane study including the Newbolt Report the Cambridge Scrutiny group and the London School of Percival Gurrey and James Britton The authors examine unpublished Dartmouth Conference papers to reconsider John Dixon's construction of growth in his seminal report Growth through English 1967 They reflect on the turbulent aftermath of Dartmouth the changes in the growth model following the cultural turn in English studies and the politics behind the shift from English to literacy in the 1990s Importantly they redefine the growth model for the 21st century to support teachers and students in the current context of performativity high stakes assessment the knowledge curriculum and artificial intelligence Essential reading for tutors and students of English and literacy as well as policymakers in the subject area this book will engage all those interested in the history and philosophy of English in education It will be a key resource for those involved in the education and training of English teachers as well as those undertaking research in English education Making Meaning in English David Didau, 2021-02-09 What is English as a school subject for What does knowledge look like in English and what should be taught Making Meaning in English examines the broader purpose and reasons for teaching English and explores what knowledge looks like in a subject concerned with judgement interpretation and value David Didau argues that the content of English is best explored through distinct disciplinary lenses metaphor story argument pattern grammar and context and considers the knowledge that needs to be explicitly taught so students can recognise transfer build and extend their knowledge of English He discusses the principles and tools we can use to make decisions about what to teach and offers a curriculum framework that draws these strands together to allow students to make sense of the knowledge they encounter If students are going to enjoy English as a subject and do well in it they not only need to be knowledgeable but understand how to use their knowledge to create meaning This insightful text offers a practical way for teachers to construct a curriculum in which the mastery of English can be planned taught and assessed

Literature and class Andrew Hadfield,2021-08-24 This book explores the intimate relationship between literature and class in England and later Britain from the Peasants Revolt at the end of the fourteenth century to the impact of the French Revolution at the end of the eighteenth century and beginning of the nineteenth The book argues throughout that class cannot be seen as a modern phenomenon that occurred after the Industrial revolution but that class divisions and relations have always structured societies and that it makes sense to assume a historical continuity The book explores a number of themes relating to class class consciousness class conflict commercialisation servitude rebellion gender relations and colonisation After outlining the history of class relations five chapters explore the ways in which social class consciously and unconsciously influenced a series of writers Chaucer Shakespeare Behn Rochester Defoe Duck Richardson Burney Blake and Wordsworth

The Enchantment of English Dale, Leigh,2012-11-28 The Enchantment of English is a study of the teaching of English in Australian universities from its beginnings in the second half of the 19th century through to the 1960s and 1970s a period in which universities proliferated and diversified Written from the belief that every discipline is enhanced by understanding the arguments made for its existence and the conditions in which it was established the author aims to help students and colleagues to think critically about the impact of institutional location in forming our habits of mind Amidst these stories of politics critical debates scrambling for appointments in specific areas and disputes about the need to satisfy the demands of students and the public for usefulness this history reveals something intangible but durable the power of the literary text over the imagination and the power of the idea of England and its writers as a basis and motive for reading and study hence The Enchantment of English English Poetry A. E. Dyson, 1971 The student of English poetry must select what he reads from a multitude of texts critical books and articles and other relevant writings This book contains helpful guides to twenty major poets each written by an authority on the writer concerned The guides cover Texts Critical Studies and Commentary Biographies and Letters Bibliographies and Background Reading followed by full references for the writing mentioned including details of the availability of paperback editions Publisher Revaluation F. R. Leavis, 1936 Literary Research Guide Margaret C. Patterson, 1984 Commonwealth of Letters Peter J. Kalliney, 2013-07-26 Commonwealth of Letters examines midcentury literary institutions integral to modernism and postcolonial writing Several organizations central to interwar modernism such as the BBC influential publishers and university English departments became important sites in the emergence of postcolonial literature after the war How did some of modernism's leading figures of the 1930s such as T S Eliot Louis MacNeice and Stephen Spender come to admire late colonial and early postcolonial literature in the 1950s Similarly why did late colonial and early postcolonial writers including Chinua Achebe Kamau Brathwaite Claude McKay and Ngugi wa Thiong'o actively seek alliances with metropolitan intellectuals Peter Kalliney's original and extensive archival work on modernist cultural institutions demonstrates that this disparate group of intellectuals had strong professional incentives to treat one another more as fellow literary professionals and less as political or cultural antagonists Surprisingly metropolitan intellectuals and their late colonial counterparts leaned heavily on modernist theories of aesthetic autonomy to facilitate their collaborative ventures For white metropolitan writers T S Eliot's notion of impersonality could help recruit new audiences and conspirators from colonized regions of the world For black colonial writers aesthetic autonomy could be used to imagine a literary sphere uniquely resistant to the forms of racial prejudice endemic to the colonial system This strategic collaboration did not last forever but as Commonwealth of Letters shows it left a lasting imprint on the ultimate disposition of modernism and the evolution of postcolonial literature John Keats: Odes George Sutherland Fraser, 1971 Romantic Poets and Prose Writers Richard Harter Fogle, 1967 Cavalier Poets Thomas Clayton, 1978 The reign of Charles I 1625-49 provided both the subject matter and the climate for a remarkable outburst of lyrical poetry of which the court was the centre This section contains the liveliest and best poems by the foremost Cavalier poets Robert Herrick Thomas Carew Sir John Suckling and Richard Lovelace All were devotedly royalist and much influenced by Ben Jonson's poetry All except Herrick were courtiers and Suckling and Lovelace in particular led colourfully dramatic lives Their poems are quintessentially romantic graceful courtly and sometimes roguish There common themes are love blighted or unrequited friendship patriotic loyalty and occasionally personal meditation and witfamiliarity with classical writers and lyric qualities are deftly used to express these themes Included her are such well known pieces as Gather ye rosebuds while ye may and Why so pale and wan fond lover The collection as a whole provides an insight into a relaxed gracious and civilized society

The Enlightenment and English Literature John L. Mahoney, 1980 Unisa English Studies University of South Africa. Department of English, 1972 Sylvia Plath Al Strangeways, 1998 This is the first critical work to provide a full account of Sylvia Plath s intellectual biography Using previously unexamined archive material to explore the diversities of influence in Plath s work Al Strangeways offers a close reworking of Harold Bloom s Oedipal poetics of the literary canon breaking open the model onto a recognition of the cultural and political forces through which Plath s poetry struggles into expression This timely book brings out for the first time the powerful interplay between Plath s poetic development and the writings of Thomas de Quincey D H Lawrence William Blake and Emily Bronte and establishes the crucial context of the often controversial use that she makes of politics history and myth in a post Holocaust world
