Indigenous Adult Language Revitalization and Education Kaarina Määttä,Erika Katjaana Sarivaara,Satu Uusiautti,2019-06-04 Indigenous languages are endangered and questions of revitalization are topical in today s climate This book deals with adult education and the topic of adults reclaiming their ancestral language The themes addressed here cover indigeneity and identification with and membership in indigenous groups on an individual level The volume contemplates the preconditions of belonging to an indigenous people and the definitions of indigeneity It also contains discussions of indigenous research and provides new perspectives on methods suitable for recording indigenous people's voices and experiences The text uses the Sami people in Finland as the example focusing on political identity and indigenous Sami status Revitalising Indigenous Languages Marja-Liisa Olthuis, Suvi Kivelä, Tove

Skutnabb-Kangas, 2013-01-23 The book tells the story of the Indigenous Aanaar Saami language around 350 speakers and cultural revitalisation in Finland It offers a new language revitalisation method that can be used with Indigenous and minority languages especially in cases where the native language has been lost among people of a working age The book gives practical examples as well as a theoretical frame of reference for how to plan organise and implement an intensive language programme for adults who already have professional training It is the first time that a process of revitalisation of a very small language has been systematically described from the beginning it is a small scale success story The book finishes with self reflection and cautious recommendations for Indigenous peoples and minorities who want to revive or revitalise their languages Language Endangerment and Language Revitalization Tasaku Tsunoda, 2013-02-06 In almost every part of the world minority languages are threatened with extinction At the same time dedicated efforts are being made to document endangered languages to maintain them and even to revive once extinct languages The present volume examines a wide range of issues that concern language endangerment and language revitalization Among other things it is shown that languages may be endangered to different degrees endangerment situations in selected areas of the world are surveyed and definitions of language death and types of language death presented The book also examines causes of language endangerment speech behaviour in a language endangerment situation structural changes in endangered languages as well as types of speakers encountered in a language endangerment situation In addition methods of documentation and of training for linguists are proposed which will enable scholars to play an active role in the documentation of endangered languages and in language revitalization The book presents a comprehensive overview of the field It is clearly written and contains ample references to the relevant literature thus providing useful guidance for further research The author often draws on his own experience of documenting endangered languages and of language revival activities in Australia The volume is of interest to a wide readership including linguists anthropologists sociologists and educators Speaking of

Endangered Languages Anne Goodfellow, 2009 Speaking of Endangered Languages Issues in Revitalization provides an overview of the current state of various indigenous languages around the world describes some local responses to maintaining them and in some cases suggests a re examination of the goals and content of indigenous language retention programs Each chapter presents a case study of a threatened language and possibilities for continued vitality through a description of the history of culture contact in a particular language community early attempts at assimilationist style education the current language situation in the community and recent local grassroots efforts at language revival and maintenance Some also include examples of differences between past and present spoken forms of the language and the implications of these for present and future generations of indigenous language learners The authors are all actively engaged in research on the maintenance of indigenous languages and many of them do applied work in communities as well It is hoped that the ideas and approaches presented in this book will encourage others working in the field of indigenous language revitalization and maintenance to keep up their efforts and in so doing consider approaches to indigenous language education that operate at the local level and involve various members of the community Indigenous Languages
