and tolerance but also of hatred and intolerance It is here in Central Europe that the last two wars began Nearing the twentieth anniversary of Communism's collapse acclaimed author Anna Porter traveled to Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia and Hungary to discover whether and how democracy has taken root in these former Iron Curtain countries The former borderlands of the long defunct Hapsburg Empire and the more recently dispersed Soviet Empire have attempted to invent their own forms of democracy and capitalism However disturbing signs of old attitudes have returned bringing into question Central Europe's ability to reform its elites and to effectively control public demonstrations of hatred the rise of racial tensions and the emergence of fascist parties Porter interviewed the young and the old the winners and the losers in this grand European transformation Porter walks Wenceslas Square with those who suffered the violence of the state police and helped to organize the 89 revolution She meets with revolutionary leaders such as Vclav Havel and Adam Michnik as well as custodians of the new regimes among them Radek Sikorski Michael Koc b and Ferenc Gyurcs ny She takes us to Poland's Institute of National Remembrance and Budapest's House of Terror Museum fascinating if controversial attempts to reckon with dark periods of history She interviews the wealthiest man in Hungary the general who ordered martial law in Poland attends an ultraright rally and visits a Gypsy village where a newly burgeoning yet all too familiar racism has destroyed a family Gradually a portrait emerges of a Europe struggling under the weight of history and memory its peoples divided over half forgotten events old ethnic rivalries borders drawn and redrawn ghosts that had lurked unacknowledged under Communism's force fed stories of peaceful coexistence and a common front toward the Western enemy Now Central European rhetoric veers between historical reckoning revisionism and the politics of retribution Penetrating fascinating and powerfully observed The Ghosts of Europe illuminates themes of tyranny nationalism racism and denial in nations with a tumultuous history and a future very much in the balance

Hungary's Crisis of Democracy Peter Wilkin, 2016-08-26 This book examines the crisis of democracy that has arisen in Hungary since the election of the Fidesz government in 2010 After moving swiftly to transform the Hungarian constitution Fidesz created a new political system which has led its critics to argue that the era of democracy in Hungary is over US Senator John McCain has gone so far as to describe Hungary as an illiberal democracy on a path toward fascism The author argues that Fidesz has sought to challenge the capitalist and democratic transformation that shaped Hungary for 20 years after the fall of communism by increasing the power of the state over crucial aspects of the economy society and the political system In so doing Fidesz actions resemble those undertaken by many authoritarian states that have emerged since the end of the Second World War all aiming to build up a national capitalism and protect their economies whilst undertaking nation building To make sense of this the author draws upon two traditions of thought world systems analysis which situates Hungary in the context of its incorporation in the modern capitalist world system after the fall of communism and anarchist social thought which provides a unique way of seeing the actions of states and political elites In so doing the book argues that the events unfolding in Hungary cannot be explained on the basis of Hungarian exceptionalism but must be situated in the broader political and economic context that has shaped the development of Hungary since 1990 The form of capitalism introduced in Hungary and across the region of East and Central Europe has systematically undermined the strong state and social security that had existed under communism and when added to the failure of the left and liberals in the region it has paved the way for far right and neo fascist political movements to emerge claiming the mantle of defenders of society from the market This represents a fundamental threat to the enlightenment traditions that have shaped dominant modern political ideologies and raises profound problems for both the EU and NATO
