Mao's Last Revolution Roderick MACFARQUHAR, Michael Schoenhals, 2009-06-30 The Cultural Revolution was a watershed event in the history of the People's Republic of China the defining decade of half a century of communist rule Before 1966 China was a typical communist state with a command economy and a powerful party able to keep the population under control But during the Cultural Revolution in a move unprecedented in any communist country Mao unleashed the Red Guards against the party Tens of thousands of officials were humiliated tortured and even killed Order had to be restored by the military whose methods were often equally brutal In a masterly book Roderick MacFarquhar and Michael Schoenhals explain why Mao launched the Cultural Revolution and show his Machiavellian role in masterminding it which Chinese publications conceal In often horrifying detail they document the Hobbesian state that ensued The movement veered out of control and terror paralyzed the country Power struggles raged among Lin Biao Zhou Enlai Deng Xiaoping and Jiang Qing Mao's wife and leader of the Gang of Four while Mao often played one against the other After Mao's death in reaction to the killing and the chaos Deng Xiaoping led China into a reform era in which capitalism flourishes and the party has lost its former authority In its invaluable critical analysis of Chairman Mao and its brilliant portrait of a culture in turmoil Mao's Last Revolution offers the most authoritative and compelling account to date of this seminal event in the history of China

Modern Erasures Pierre Fuller, 2022-04-07 Modern Erasures is an ambitious and innovative study of the acts of epistemic violence behind China's transformation from a semicolonized republic to a Communist state over the twentieth century Pierre Fuller charts the pedigree of Maoist thought and practice between the May Fourth movement of 1919 and the peak of the Cultural Revolution in 1969 to shed light on the relationship between epistemic and physical violence book burning and bloodletting during China's revolutions Focusing on communities in remote Gansu province and the wider region over half a century Fuller argues that in order to justify the human cost of revolution and the building of the national party state a form of revolutionary memory developed in China on the nature of social relations and civic affairs in the recent past Through careful analysis of intellectual and cultural responses to and memories of earthquakes famine and other disaster events in China this book shows how the Maoist evocation of the old society earmarked for destruction was only the most extreme phase of a transnational colonial era conversation on the backwardness of rural communities China Under Mao Andrew G. Walder, 2015-04-06 China's Communist Party seized power in 1949 after a long guerrilla insurgency followed by full scale war but the revolution was just beginning Andrew Walder narrates the rise and fall of the Maoist state from 1949 to 1976 an epoch of startling accomplishments and disastrous failures steered by many forces but dominated above all by Mao Zedong

Rethinking Mao Nick Knight, 2007-04-16 Rethinking Mao offers an innovative perspective on the thought of Mao Zedong the major architect of the Chinese Revolution and leader of the People's Republic of China until his death in 1976 Utilizing a number of recently discovered documents written by Mao Nick Knight rethinks Mao by subjecting a number of controversial themes to fresh scrutiny This book provides a sophisticated analysis of Mao's views on the role of the peasants and working class in the Chinese revolution his theoretical attempt to make Marxism appropriate to Chinese conditions and his understanding of the Chinese road to socialism Knight includes a discussion of the theoretical difficulties in interpreting Mao's thought Rethinking Mao represents a challenge to many of the conventional accounts of Mao and his thoughts This book will appeal to scholars and students of Chinese history and politics as well as the history of Marxism in China Space, Politics, and Cultural Representation in Modern China Enhua Zhang, 2016-12-08 Regarding revolution as a spatial practice this book explores modes of spatial construction in modern China through a panoramic overview of major Chinese revolutionary events and nuanced analysis of cultural representations Examining the relationship between revolution space and culture in modern China the author takes five spatially significant revolutionary events as case studies the territorial dispute between Russia and the Qing dynasty in 1892 the Land Reform in the 1920s the Long March 1934-36 the mainland Taiwan split in 1949 and the Cultural Revolution 1966-76 and analyses how revolution constructs conceives and transforms space Using materials associated with these events including primarily literature as well as maps political treatises historiography plays film and art the book argues that in addition to redirecting the flow of Chinese history revolutionary movements operate in and on space in three main ways maintaining territorial sovereignty redefining social relations and governing an imaginary realm Arguing for reconsideration of revolution as a reorganization of space as much as time this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese culture society history and literature Words and Their Stories Ban Wang, 2010-10-05 As China joins the capitalist world economy the problems of social disintegration that gave rise to the earlier revolutionary social movements are becoming pressing Instead of viewing the Chinese Revolution as an academic study these essays suggest that the motifs of the Revolution are still alive and relevant The slogan Farewell to Revolution that obscures the revolutionary language is premature In spite of dislocations and ruptures in the revolutionary language to rethink this discourse is to revisit a history in terms of sedimented layers of linguistic meanings and political aspirations Earlier meanings of revolutionary words may persist or coexist with non revolutionary rivals Recovery of the vital uses of key revolutionary words proffers critical alternatives in which contemporary capitalist myths can be contested China in War and Revolution, 1895-1949 Peter Zarrow,2006-06-07 Providing historical insights essential to the understanding of contemporary China this text presents a nation s story of trauma and growth during the early twentieth century It explains how China s defeat by Japan in 1895 prompted an explosion of radical reform proposals and the beginning of elite Chinese disillusionment with the Qing government The book explores how this event also prompted five decades of efforts to strengthen the state and the nation democratize the political system and build a fairer and more unified society Peter Zarrow weaves narrative together with thematic chapters that pause to address in depth themes central to China s transformation While the book proceeds chronologically the chapters in each part examine particular aspects of these decades in a more focused way borrowing from methodologies of the social sciences cultural studies and empirical historicism Essential reading for both students and instructors alike it draws a picture of the personalities ideas and processes by which a modern state was created out of the violence and trauma of these decades

The Rhetoric of Mao Zedong Xing Lu,2022-04-13 This thorough examination of Mao s speeches and writings and how they reshaped a nation is critical to an understanding of modern China Choice Mao Zedong fundamentally transformed China from a Confucian society characterized by hierarchy and harmony into a socialist state guided by communist ideologies of class struggle and radicalization It was a transformation made possible largely by Mao s rhetorical ability to attract persuade and mobilize millions of Chinese people In this book Xing Lu analyzes Mao s speeches and writings over a span of sixty years tracing the sources and evolution of his discourse analyzing his skills as an orator and mythmaker assessing his symbolic power and continuing presence in contemporary China and observing that Mao s rhetorical legacy has been commoditized culturally consumed and politically appropriated since his death Applying both Western rhetorical theories and Chinese rhetorical concepts to reach a more nuanced and sophisticated understanding of his rhetorical legacy Lu shows how Mao employed a host of rhetorical appeals and strategies drawn from Chinese tradition and how he interpreted the discourse of Marxism Leninism to serve foundational themes of his message She traces the historical contexts in which these themes his philosophical orientations and his political views were formed and how they transformed China and Chinese people Lu also examines how certain ideas are promoted modified and appropriated in Mao s rhetoric His appropriation of Marxist theory of class struggle his campaigns of transforming common people into new communist advocates his promotion of Chinese nationalism and his stand on China s foreign policy all contributed to and were responsible for reshaping Chinese thought patterns culture and communication behaviors

A Critical Introduction to Mao Timothy Cheek, 2010-08-23 Mao Zedong's political career spanned more than half a century The ideas he championed transformed one of the largest nations on earth and inspired revolutionary movements across the world Even today Mao lives on in China where he is regarded by many as a near mythical figure and in the West where a burgeoning literature continues to debate his memory In this book leading scholars from different generations and around the world offer a critical evaluation of the life and legacy of China's most famous some would say infamous son The book brings the scholarship on Mao up to date and its alternative perspectives equip readers to assess for themselves the nature of this mercurial figure and his significance in modern Chinese history

Chinese Revolution in Practice Guo Wu, 2023-10-24 This book employs multiple case studies to explore how the Chinese communist revolution began as an ideology oriented intellectual movement aimed at improving society before China's transformation into a state that suppresses dissenting voices by outsourcing its power of coercion and incarceration The author examines the movement's methods of early self organization grass roots level engagement creation of new modes of expression and popular art forms manipulation of collective memory and invention of innovative ways of mass incarceration Covering developments from 1920 to 1970 the book considers a wide range of Chinese individuals and groups from early Marxists to political prisoners in the PRC to illustrate a dynamic interactive process in which the state and individuals contend with each other. It argues that revolutionary practices in modern China have created a regime that can be conceptualized as an ideology-military-propaganda state that prompts further reflection on the relationships between revolution and the state, the state and collective articulation and memory and the state and reflective individuals in a global context. Illustrating the continuity of the Chinese revolution and past decades' socialist practices and mechanisms, this study is an ideal resource for scholars of Chinese history, politics, and twentieth-century revolutions.

The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures Carlos Rojas, Andrea Bachner, 2016-07-28. With over forty original essays, The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures offers an in-depth engagement with the current analytical methodologies and critical practices that are shaping the field in the twenty-first century. Divided into three sections: Structure, Taxonomy, and Methodology, the volume carefully moves across approaches, genres, and forms to address a rich range of topics that include popular culture in Late Qing China; Zhang Guangyu's Journey to the West in cartoons; writings of Southeast Asian migrants in Taiwan; the Chinese Anglophone Novel; and depictions of HIV/AIDS in Chu T'ien-wen's Notes of a Desolate Man.

Ideology, Power, Text Yi-tsi Mei Feuerwerker, 1998-10-01. The division between the scholar-gentry class and the people was an enduring theme of the traditional Chinese agrarian-bureaucratic state. Twentieth-century elites recast this as a division between intellectuals and peasants and made the confrontation between the writing intellectual self and the peasant other a central concern of literature. The author argues that in the process they created the peasantry, the downtrodden rural masses represented as proper objects of political action and shifting ideological agendas. Throughout this transition, language or discourse has been not only a weapon of struggle but the center of controversy and contention. Because of this primacy of language, the author's main approach is the close reading or rather re-reading of significant narrative fictions from four literary generations to demonstrate how historical, ideological, and cultural issues are absorbed, articulated, and debated within the text. Three chapters each focus on one representative author: The fiction of Lu Xun (1881-1936), which initiated the literary preoccupation with the victimized peasant, is also about the identity crisis of the intellectual; Zhao Shuli (1906-1970), upheld by the Communist Party as a model peasant writer, tragically exemplifies in his career the inherent contradictions of such an assigned role; In the post-Mao era, Gao Xiaosheng (1928) uses the ironic play of language to present a more ambiguous peasant while deflating intellectual pretensions. The chapter on the last of the four generations examines several texts by Mo Yan (1956), Han Shaogong (1952), and Wang Anyi (1954) as examples of root-searching fiction from the mid-1980s. While reaching back into the past, this fiction is paradoxically also experimental in technique: the encounter with the peasant leads to questions about the self-construction of the intellectual and the nature of narrative representation itself. Throughout, the focus is on texts in which some sort of representation or stand-in of the writer-intellectual self is present as character, as witness, as center of consciousness, or as first person or obtrusive narrator. Each story catches the writer in a self-reflective mode; the confrontation with the peasant other providing a theater for acting out varying dramas of identity power ideology political engagement and self representation Myth, Memory, Trauma Polly Jones, 2013-08-27 DIV Drawing on newly available materials from the Soviet archives Polly Jones offers an innovative comprehensive account of de Stalinization in the Soviet Union during the Khrushchev and early Brezhnev eras Jones traces the authorities initiation and management of the de Stalinization process and explores a wide range of popular reactions to the new narratives of Stalinism in party statements and in Soviet literature and historiography divDIV divDIV Engaging with the dynamic field of memory studies this book represents the first sustained comparison of this process with other countries attempts to rethink their own difficult pasts and with later Soviet and post Soviet approaches to Stalinism divDIV div
