Gender and colonial space Sara Mills, 2013-07-19 Gender and colonial space is a trenchant analysis of the complex relation between social relations including notions of class nationality and gender and spatial relations landscape architecture and topography in post colonial contexts Arguing against much of the psychoanalytic focus of much current post colonial theory Mills aims to set out in a new direction drawing on a wide range of literary and non literary texts to develop a more materialist approach She foregrounds gender in this field where it has often been marginalised by the critical orthodoxies demonstrating its importance not only in spatial theorising in general but in the post colonial theorising of space in particular Concentrating on the period of high British colonialism at the close of the nineteenth century she adroitly examines a range of contexts looking at a range of colonial contexts such as India Africa America Canada Australia and Britain illustrating how relations must be analysed for the way in which different colonial contexts define and constitute each other

Cultural Policy Beatriz Garcia, 2012-10-12 This book explores how cultural policies are reflected in the design management and promotion of the Olympic Games Garcia examines the concept and evolution of cultural policies throughout the recent history of the Olympic Games and then specifically evaluates the cultural program of the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games She argues that the cultural relevance of a major event is highly dependent on the consistency of the policy choices informing its cultural dimensions and demonstrates how such events frequently fail to leave long term cultural legacies and are often unable to provide an experience that fully engages and represents the host community due to their over emphasis on an economic rather than a social and cultural agenda Acta neophilologica Univerza v Ljubljani.
