Sea Of Darkness:

Charting the Sea of Darkness Donald S. Johnson, 1993 Henry Hudson's life as we know it is compressed into the four years from 1607 to 1610 when he made four momentous voyages in search of the passage to Asia journeys that greatly expanded geographical knowledge of the world And while his beginnings will remain a mystery we can be quite certain he died shortly after being set adrift in a small boat by a mutinous crew in the frigid waters of the bay that bears his name One of the foremost explorers of the Age of Discovery Hudson was a captain for hire who served both his native England and archrival Holland making arduous northern passages to the east to Russia and Siberia and to the west to Greenland and beyond In 1609 under the Dutch flag he explored America's east coast from the Chesapeake to Penobscot Bay including a push up the Hudson River as far north as Albany His accounts of the land's richness led to the Dutch colonization of America from which sprang much of our religious philosophical and governmental ideals including the concepts of freedom of religion separation of Church and State and a free public school system Yet historians have virtually ignored Henry Hudson a far cry from the admiration he inspired in no less a contemporary than Captain John Smith who wrote the bounds of America doth stretch many thousand miles into the frozen partes whereof one Master Hutson did make the greatest discoverie of any Christian I knowe of where he unfortunately died Author Donald Johnson became fascinated by this mysterious explorer while sailing his schooner in the high latitudes near Hudson Bay and later while working on the 1989 replica of Hudson's Half Moon Frustrated by the lack of biographical material Johnson set out to uncover what he could of Henry Hudson Charting the Sea of Darkness brings into focus the world as Henry Hudson knew it Using Hudson's original logs those of his mate Robert Juet and a passenger Abacuck Prickett Johnson rebuilds the man and his times bringing new insight to an explorer whose influence on history is far out of proportion to his recorded place in it BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Sea of Faith Stephen O'Shea,2009-05-26 In Sea of Faith O Shea chronicles both the meeting of minds and the collisions of armies that marked the interaction of Cross and Crescent in the Middle Ages the better to understand their apparently intractable conflict today For all the great and everlasting moments of cultural interchange and tolerance in Cordoba Palermo Constantinople the ultimate geography of belief was decided on the battlefield O Shea vividly recounts seven pivotal battles between the forces of Christianity and Islam that shaped the Mediterranean world from the loss of the Christian Middle East to the Muslims at Yarmuk Turkey in 636 to the stemming of the seemingly unstoppable Ottoman tide at Malta in 1565 In between the battles raged round the Mediterranean from Poitiers in France and Hattin in the Holy Land during the height of the Crusades to the famed contest for Constantinople in 1453 that signaled the end of Byzantium As much as the armies were motivated by belief their exploits were inspired by leaders such as Charles Martel Saladin and Mehmet II whose stirring feats were sometimes accompanied by unexpected changes of heart

An Exploration of a New Poetic Expression Beyond Dichotomy Shin'ichiro Ishikawa,2004 This study attempts to re evaluate Lawrence s poetry which has often been read as a set of biographical documents or supplementary notes to his novels as fully independent literary work in the light of post modern critical theory The author carefully examines how Lawrence needed to misread his precursors the nineteenth century Romantics to establish himself as one of the modern poets What separates his poetry from his precursors is his self consciousness as a modern poet His search for radical freedom in language and his meta poetic exploration of a new poetic expression make him a true pioneer of the terra incognita in English poetry The Age of Exploration Andrew A.
