The importance of New Orleans in American culture has made the city's place in the American imagination a crucial topic for literary scholars and cultural historians While databases of bibliographical information on New Orleans centered fiction are available they are of little use to scholars researching works written before the 1980s In The New Orleans of Fiction A Research Guide James A Kaser provides detailed synopses for more than 500 works of fiction significantly set in New Orleans and published between 1836 and 1980 The synopses include plot summaries names of major characters and an indication of physical settings An appendix provides bibliographical information for works dating from 1981 well into the 21st century while a biographical section provides basic information about the authors some of whom are obscure and would be difficult to find in other sources Written to assist researchers in locating works of fiction for analysis the plot summaries highlight ways in which the works touch on major aspects of social history and cultural studies i e class ethnicity gender immigrant experience and race The book is also a useful reader advisory tool for librarians and readers who want to identify materials for leisure reading particularly since genre juvenile and young adult fiction as well as literary fiction are included A Life in Guyana: A young man's journey, 1889-1923 Vincent Roth,2003 As an eighteen year old Vincent Roth arrived in British Guiana in 1907 to join his father who was a Government Medical Officer and Magistrate By the time he left for Barbados in 1964 Roth had spent thirty years in the interior working as a surveyor and magistrate until blackwater fever nearly killed him Thereafter he contributed immensely to the development of Guyana as a journalist naturalist historian rebuilder of the national museum and founder of the zoo in the Botanical Gardens From an early age Vincent Roth kept a detailed account of his experiences often illustrated with sketches and later by watercolours and it was from these hand written journals that his son in law Michael Bennett edited this book This first volume covers his early years as a child abandoned to relatives in France Scotland and London his reuniting at the age of twelve with his father and step mother in Australia his arrival in British Guiana and the first fifteen years of his work in the interior Blessed with insatiable curiosity a capacious and exacting memory Vincent Roth writes vividly of surveying expeditions up the Demerara River in the North West District to Arakaka Morawhanna and Moruca There are gripping descriptions of the hazards of river travel hauling up waterfalls and shooting rapids and the outsize characters of the river captains such as Captain Blood and their skill and daring There are fascinating accounts of the peoples of the interior the Amerindians the porkknockers balata bleeders gold miners coffee growers and smugglers Read Roth and you ll know how to pan for gold and diamonds Deadly snakes tiger cats sloths water dogs hairy bird eating spiders rampaging wild hogs and birds of all descriptions provide Roth with moments of wonder alarm food and as a enthusiastic taxidermist specimens to stuff In this volume Roth grows from callow youth to energetic and opinionated manhood constantly getting under the skin of petty minded colonial officials and developing a deep though sometimes exasperated love for Guyana Between 1907 and 1964 Vincent Roth contributed immensely to the development of Guyana first as a surveyor in the interior then as a journalist historian and naturalist The Great Wrong War Stevan

Eldred-Grigg,2014-08-15 An entirely new look at the shocking impact of the First World War on New Zealand For New Zealand World War One was wholly avoidable wholly unnecessary and almost wholly disastrous Stevan Eldred Grigg believes that the enormous cost of the war to our people was way too high and that we still feel its effects both socially and culturally today This is excellent narrative non fiction analysing our history in a novel way It s very accessible but is backed up by meticulous research Stevan goes against the accepted line and gives us a fascinating look at our social history before during and just after WW1 Why did we go to the war in Europe Was the country united in its desire for war What were the economic and social consequences What has been the impact on the psyches of New Zeland men These and many other questions are answered in this fascinating book In 2007 Harvey McQueen wrote in a review of New Zealand s Great War an anthology of essays that there is a need for a general popular history of our Great War we need a skilled writer in the mould of Sinclair Oliver or King to give an overview and link the various elements into a coherent whole This is that book Yank ,1945
