China's BRI in Different Regions of the World Sanjeev Kumar, 2023-06-02. China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) is completing a decade. There have been varied responses to the Initiative from countries and regions besides the emergence of alternative initiatives and narratives. This sets the stage for evaluating the robustness of the Initiative, its implementation, as well as its implications from the perspective of individual countries and regions across the globe. This book begins by examining China's domestic economic, maritime, and strategic interests as drivers for the Initiative. BRI has been analysed in country-specific, regional, and continental contexts. It brings out the experiences and responses from South Asia, Eurasia, East Asia, Southeast Asia, the Arab world, Latin America, the Caribbean, as well as from Europe and Africa. Further, BRI has been studied in the larger context of the US-China competition. The final section explores BRI in the context of the twin challenges of recent times, i.e. the pandemic and Russia-Ukraine conflict. The book concludes with an epilogue which outlines the broad trends related to BRI that have emerged from this study of ICWA. Water Worlds: Human Geographies of the Ocean Kimberley

Peters, 2016-02-11. Our world is a water world. Seventy percent of our planet consists of ocean. However, geography has traditionally overlooked this vital component of the earth's composition. The word geography directly translates as earth writing, and in line with this definition, the discipline has preoccupied itself with the study of terrestrial spaces of society and nature. This book challenges human geography's preoccupation with the terrestrial, investigating the terra incognita of the seas and oceans. Linking to new theoretical debates shaping the geographic discipline, such as affect, assemblage, emotion, hybridity, and the more-than-human, this volume unlocks new knowledge concerning the human geographies of ocean space. The book casts adrift stable, bounded, and fixed conceptions of space and advances geographical understanding based on the world as becoming, changing, mobile, and processional. This ontology supports the notion that the oceans are not simply fluid in a literal way but also in a conceptual sense, suggesting that the seas have their own fluid natures, their own capacities, and agencies which are co-fabricated with social and cultural life. This book features twelve chapters authored by key academics.

contributing to this growing field of research The book is divided into three sections including an Introduction by the editors and a foreword by Prof Philip E Steinberg the leading scholar in the field of maritime geographies The first section of the book considers the ways in which different watery spaces from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea have been conceptualized theorized and known through metaphors voyages of discovery and scientific endeavour The second section examines how oceans are experienced through various activities including driving on water kayaking in water and diving under water The final section explores the relations between human life and the nature of the sea as a material mobile and more than human spa
