Reclaiming America Restoring Nature To Culture Environmental Theology No 4:

Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya, 2010-10-22 Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology Native Foodways Michelene E.

Pesantubbee, Michael J. Zogry, 2021-03-01 Native Foodways is the first scholarly collection of essays devoted exclusively to the interplay of Indigenous religious traditions and foodways in North America Drawing on diverse methodologies the essays discuss significant confluences in selected examples of these religious traditions and foodways providing rich individual case studies informed by relevant historical ethnographic and comparative data Many of the essays demonstrate how narrative and active elements of selected Indigenous North American religious traditions have provided templates for interactive relationships with particular animals and plants rooted in detailed information about their local environments In return these animals and plants have provided these Native American communities with sustenance Other essays provide analyses of additional contemporary and historical North American Indigenous foodways while also addressing issues of tradition and cultural change Scholars and other readers interested in ecology climate change world hunger colonization religious studies and cultural studies will find this book to be a valuable resource Animal Theology Andrew Linzey, 1995 Animal rights is animal theology The author argues that historical theology creatively defined must reject humanocentricity He questions the assumption that if theology is to speak on this issue it must only do so on the side of the oppressors His theological query investigates not only the abstractions of theory but also the realities of hunting animal experimentation and genetic engineering He is an important pioneering Christian voice speaking for those who cannot speak for themselves

Recovering Lost Species in the Modern Age Dolly Jorgensen, 2019-10-29 A groundbreaking study of how emotions motivate attempts to counter species loss This groundbreaking book brings together environmental history and the history of emotions to examine the motivations behind species conservation actions In Recovering Lost Species in the Modern Age Dolly J rgensen uses the environmental histories of reintroduction rewilding and resurrection to view the modern conservation paradigm of the recovery of nature as an emotionally charged practice J rgensen argues that the recovery of nature identifying that something is lost and then going out to find it and bring it back is a nostalgic practice that looks to a historical past and relies on the concept of belonging to justify future oriented action The recovery impulse depends on emotional responses to what is lost particularly a longing for recovery that manifests itself in such emotions as guilt hope fear and grief J rgensen explains why emotional frameworks matter deeply both for how people understand nature

theoretically and how they interact with it physically The identification of what belongs the lost nature and our longing the emotional attachment to it in the present will affect how environmental restoration practices are carried out in the future A sustainable future will depend on questioning how and why belonging and longing factor into the choices we make about what to recover Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1997 Reclaiming America Richard Cartwright Austin,1990

Christianity and Ecology Dieter T. Hessel,Rosemary Radford Ruether,2000 What can Christianity as a tradition contribute to the struggle to secure the future well being of the earth community This collaborative volume the third in the series on religions of the world and the environment announces that an ecological reformation an eco justice reorientation of Christian theology and ethics is prominent on the ecumenical agenda The authors explore problematic themes that contribute to ecological neglect or abuse and offer constructive insight into and responsive imperatives for ecologically just and socially responsible living Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie,2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa California Dreaming Ronald A. Wells,2017-09-11 California matters both as a place and as an idea What famed historian Kevin Starr has called the California Dream is a vital part of American self understanding Just as America was meant to be a place of renewal even redemption for Europe so too California was intended as a place of renewal for America Therefore California place and idea provides a fertile ground for scholars to think deeply about what it means to articulate the promise of American life This book follows in the train of George Marsden s classic The Outrageous Idea of Christian Scholarship believing that people of faith have a contribution to make to scholarship and of Jay Green s more recent book Christian Historiography Five Rival Views believing that scholars of faith should engage in moral inquiry In this book eight authors inquire into the moral questions that emerge from studying California Greening Death Suzanne Kelly,2015-09-01 We once disposed of our dead in earth friendly ways no chemicals biodegradable containers dust to dust But over the last 150 years death care has become a toxic polluting and alienating industry in the United States Today people are slowly waking up to the possibility of more sustainable and less disaffecting death care reclaiming old practices in new ways in a new age Greening Death traces the philosophical and historical backstory to this awakening captures the passionate on the ground work of the Green Burial Movement and explores the obstacles and other challenges getting in the way of more robust mobilization As the movement lays claim to greener simpler and more cost efficient practices something even more promising is being offered up a tangible way of restoring our relationship to nature
