Red Azalea:

Red Azalea Anchee Min, 2006-04-11 A revelatory and disturbing portrait of China this is Anchee Min's celebrated memoir of growing up in the last years of Mao's China As a child Min was asked to publicly humiliate a teacher at seventeen she was sent to work at a labor collective Forbidden to speak dress read write or love as she pleased she found a lifeline in a secret love affair with another woman Miraculously selected for the film version of one of Madame Mao's political operas Min's life changed overnight Then Chairman Mao suddenly died taking with him an entire world This national bestseller and New York Times Notable Book is exceptional for its candor its poignancy its courage and for its prose which Newsweek calls as delicate and evocative as a traditional Chinese brush painting Country of Red Azaleas Domnica Radulescu, 2016-04-05 A riveting novel about two women one Serbian one Bosnian whose deep friendship spans decades and continents war and peace love and estrangement in the vein of Elena Ferrante and Julia Alvarez From the moment Marija walks into Lara's classroom freshly moved to Serbia from Sarajevo Lara is enchanted by her vibrant beauty confidence and wild energy and knows that the two are destined to be lifelong friends Closer than sisters the girls share everything from stolen fruit and Hollywood movies as girls to philosophies and even lovers as young women But when the Bosnian War pits their homelands against each other in a bloodbath Lara and Marija are forced to separate for the first time romantic Lara heads to America with her Hollywood handsome new husband and fierce Marija returns to her native Sarajevo to combat the war through journalism behind Bosnian lines In America Lara seeks fulfillment through work and family but when news from Marija ceases the uncertainty torments Lara driving her on a quest to find her friend As Lara travels through war torn Serbia and Bosnia following clues that may yet lead to the flesh and blood Marija she must also wrestle with truths about her own identity Told in lush vivid prose Country of Red Azaleas is a poignant testament to both the power of friendship and our ability to find meaning and beauty in the face of devastation The Red Azalea Edward Morin, 1990-11-01 Introduction by Leo Ou fan Lee A Monograph of Azaleas Ernest Henry Wilson, Alfred Rehder, 1921 Tell This Silence Patti Duncan, 2009-05 Tell This Silence by Patti Duncan explores multiple meanings of speech and silence in Asian American women's writings in order to explore relationships among race gender sexuality and national identity Duncan argues that contemporary definitions of U S feminism must be expanded to recognize the ways in which Asian American women have resisted and continue to challenge the various forms of oppression in their lives There has not yet been adequate discussion of the multiple meanings of silence and speech especially in relation to activism and social justice movements in the U S In particular the very notion of silence continues to invoke assumptions of passivity submissiveness and avoidance while speech is equated with action and empowerment However as the writers discussed in Tell This Silence suggest silence too has multiple meanings especially in contexts like the U S where speech has never been a guaranteed right for all citizens Duncan argues that writers such as Maxine Hong Kingston Mitsuye Yamada Joy Kogawa Theresa Hak Kyung Cha Nora Okja Keller and Anchee Min deploy silence as a means of resistance Juxtaposing their unofficial narratives against other histories official U S histories that have excluded them and American feminist narratives that have stereotyped them or distorted their participation they argue for recognition of their cultural participation and offer analyses of the intersections among gender race nation and sexuality Tell This Silence offers innovative ways to consider Asian American gender politics feminism and issues of immigration and language This exciting new study will be of interest to literary theorists and scholars in women s American and Asian American studies

The Complete Plant Selection Guide for Landscape Design Marc C. Stoecklein,2011-03-15 This book is a quick and easy to use reference guide for choosing plant material for landscape designs This reference manual includes comprehensive lists with search criteria for each of the major plant groups including trees shrubs groundcovers perennials vines grasses and ferns These plant groups contain hundreds of specific species varieties and cultivars that are readily available in the marketplace from the major production nurseries Landscape architects designers contractors or anyone who designs with plants can easily choose plants that will work on their site The book is technical enough for the professional yet simple enough to be used by the layperson Both botanical and common names are used and an extensive amount of cultural and environmental information is presented While many other books of this kind give only basic information such as sun shade height width there are so many as 30 specific categories for each plant group The categories cover such important criteria as light and soil requirements zone hardiness height and width pest and disease susceptibility urban tolerance and tolerance to salt and drought The lists also include many criteria often overlooked such as growth rates overall messiness root systems minimal fall clean up maintenance levels soil PH and landscape value use and many visual characteristics such as texture foliage color and fall colors bloom colors and seasons shapes and forms attractive bark and foliage and more There is also a candid Pros Cons section covering some realistic considerations for each of the plant species groups From Ah Q to Lei

Feng Wendy Larson,2008-10-16 When Freudian sexual theory hit China in the early 20th century it ran up against competing models of the mind from both Chinese tradition and the new revolutionary culture Chinese theorists of the mind both traditional intellectuals and revolutionary psychologists steadily put forward the anti Freud a mind shaped not by deep interiority that must be excavated by professionals but shaped instead by social and cultural interactions Chinese novelists and film directors understood this focus and its relationship to Mao s revolutionary ethos and much of the literature of twentieth century China reflects the spiritual qualities of the revolutionary mind From Ah Q to Lei Feng investigates the continual clash of these contrasting models of the mind provided by Freud and revolutionary Chinese culture and explores how writers and filmmakers negotiated with the implications of each model
