Russian Doll And Other Stories:

A Russian Doll & Other Stories Adolfo Bioy Casares, 1992-09-17 This collection of traditional and experimental stories by Argentinian novelist Bioy Casares The Adventures of a Photographer in La Plata offers sophisticated seamless prose as well as magical realism and biting political satire Publishers Weekly A Russian Doll and Other Stories is the ninth collection of short fiction by one of this century's premier Argentinian writers who with his fellow countrymen Julio Cortázar and Jorge Luis Borges helped change the world's perception of Latin American literature Bioy Casares's narratives are elegant and urbane his style precise and streamlined as he paces his characters through seriocomic traps of fate ensnared by love impelled by lust ambition or plain greed even metamorphosed by pharmaceuticals These are not stories in a psychological mode but like the image of the Russian doll of the title piece are carefully wrought congeries of intractable selves within selves

Lockhart,2004-03-30 Latin America has a rich literary tradition that is receiving growing amounts of attention The body of Latin American mystery writing is especially vast and diverse Because it is part of Latin American popular culture it also reflects many of the social and cultural concerns of that region This reference provides an overview of mystery fiction of Latin America While many of the authors profiled have received critical attention others have been relatively neglected Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 54 writers most of whom are from Argentina Mexico and Cuba Every effort has been made to include balanced coverage of the few female mystery writers Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a critical discussion of the writer's works and primary and secondary bibliographies The volume closes with a general bibliography of anthologies and criticism The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was Wendy Doniger,2005 Many cultures have myths about self-imitation stories about people who pretend to be someone else pretending to be them in effect masquerading as themselves This great theme in literature and in life tells us that people put on masks to discover who they really are under the masks they usually wear so that the mask reveals rather than conceals the self beneath the self In this book noted scholar of Hinduism and mythology Wendy Doniger offers a cross cultural exploration of the theme of self impersonation whose widespread occurrence argues for both its literary power and its human value The stories she considers range from ancient Indian literature through medieval European courtly literature and Shakespeare to Hollywood and Bollywood They illuminate a basic human way of negotiating reality illusion identity and authenticity not to mention memory amnesia and the process of aging Many of them involve marriage and adultery for tales of sexual betrayal cut to the heart of the crisis of identity These stories are extreme examples of what we common folk do unconsciously every day Few of us actually put on masks that replicate our faces but it is not uncommon for us to become travesties of ourselves particularly as we age and change We often slip carelessly across the permeable boundary between the un self conscious self indulgence of our most idiosyncratic mannerisms and the conscious attempt to give the people who know us personally or publicly the version of ourselves that they expect Myths of self imitation open up for us the possibility of multiple selves and the infinite regress of self discovery Drawing on a dizzying array of tales some fact some fiction The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was is a fascinating and learned trip through centuries of culture guided by a scholar of incomparable wit and erudition

Blood in Water 8 Short Stories Madeleine Watson, 2020-06-20 Between 2011 and 2014 I wrote eight short stories I had been writing stories since I was about six Weird scenarios would enter my head and I would feel compelled to write about them Blood in Water relates on Abby who makes an awful discovery about her family Dead Letter Room samples the life of lonely Finch at his workplace Outside enters the disturbed mind of an ex convict and What Goes Around considers the makings of a bully On the surface all appear to delve into diverse worlds and minds But this isn't quite so They are all about alienation My other stories are the same alienation It goes right back to my early children's mysteries of the Seventies How strange I hadn't noticed The reason is that I would make my own personal discovery in 2016 I was fifty one years old and living with my partner and two children Until then I was completely unaware of a vital truth about myself This truth has leaked into my stories and creations without my realisation This account is true Relevant diary entries have been included as well as illustrations Analyses and further dissections provides an insight into the force behind these stories and ventures into the strange phenomena I have discovered It's like a ghost language

No Jews Live Here John Lorinc, 2024-11-12 A stolen sign No Jews Live Here kept John Lorinc's Hungarian Jewish family alive during the Holocaust From pre war Budapest to post war Toronto journalist John Lorinc unspools four generations of his Hungarian Jewish family's journey through the Holocaust the 1956 Revolution and finally exodus from a country that can't rid itself of its antisemitic demons This braided saga centers on the writer's eccentric and defiant grandmother a consummate survivor who with her love of flashy jewelry and her vicious tongue was best appreciated from afar Lorinc also traces the stories of both his grandfathers and his father all of whom fell victim in different ways to the Nazis genocidal campaign to rid Europe of Jews

This is a deeply reported but profoundly human telling of a vile part of history told through Lorinc's distinctively astute and compassionate consideration of how cities and cultures work. Set against the complicated and poorly understood background of Hungary's Jewish community, No Jews Live Here is about family stories and how the narratives of our lives are shaped by our times and historical forces over which we have no control. John Lorinc weaves Hungarian history with the equally fascinating history of his own family to tell a deeply researched story with universal resonance: how events enormous and seemingly tiny, a genocidal war, foggy skies conspire to create outcomes with life and death implications through generations. Marsha Lederman, author of Kiss the Red Stairs: The Holocaust Once Removed. Sot-Weed Factor John Barth, 2023-10-10

This is Barth's most distinguished masterpiece. This modern classic is a hilarious tribute to all the most insidious human vices with a hero who is one of the most diverting to roam the world since Candide. A feast. Dense, funny, endlessly inventive, and OK, yes, long-winded, this satire of the eighteenth-century picaresque novel, think Fielding's Tom Jones or Sterne's Tristram Shandy, is also an earnest picture of the pitfalls awaiting innocence as it makes its unsteady way in the world. It's the late seventeenth century, and Ebenezer Cooke is a poet, dutiful son, and determined virgin who travels from England to Maryland to take possession of his father's tobacco or sot-weed plantation. He is also eventually given to believe that he has been commissioned by the third Lord Baltimore to write an epic poem, The Marylandiad. But things are not always what they seem. Actually, things are almost never what they seem. Not since Candide has a steadfast soul witnessed so many strange scenes or faced so many perils. Pirates, Indians, shrewd prostitutes, armed insurrectionists, Cooke endures them all, plus assaults on his virginity from both women and men. Barth's language is impossibly rich, a wickedly funny take on old English rhetoric and American self-appraisals. For good measure, he throws in stories within stories, including the funniest retelling of the Pocahontas tale revealed to us in the secret journals of Capt. John Smith that anyone has ever dared to tell. Time Science Fiction Cinema in the Twenty-First Century Pablo Gómez-Muñoz, 2022-12-27 Recent films are increasingly using themes and conventions of science fiction, such as dystopian societies, catastrophic environmental disasters, apocalyptic scenarios, aliens, monsters, time travel, teleportation, and supernatural abilities, to address cosmopolitan concerns such as human rights, climate change, economic precarity, and mobility. This book identifies and analyses the new transnational turn towards cosmopolitanism in science fiction cinema since the beginning of the twenty-first century. The book considers a wide selection of examples, including case studies of films such as Elysium, In Time, 2012, Andrew Niccol's The Host, Codependent Lesbian Space Alien Seeks Same, and Cloud Atlas. It also questions the seeming cosmopolitanism of these narratives and exposes how they sometimes reproduce social hierarchies and exploitative practices. Dealing with diverse interdisciplinary concerns represented in cinema, this book in the Studies in Global Genre Fiction series will be of interest to readers and scholars working in the fields of science fiction film and media studies, cosmopolitanism, border theory, popular culture, and cultural studies. It will also appeal to fans of science fiction cinema and literature.
