The Rustication of Urban Youth in China Peter J. Seybolt, 1977 The Rustication of Urban Youth in China Peter Jordan Seybolt, 1977 The Rustication of Urban Youth in China. A Social Experiment. Ed. by P.J. Seybolt. Introd. by Th. P. Bernstein P. J. Seybolt, Th. P. Bernstein, 1977 China Under the Four Modernizations, 1982 China Under the Four Modernizations United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 1982 China's Sent-Down Generation Helena K. Rene, 2013-03-29 During China's Cultural Revolution Chairman Mao Zedong's rustication program resettled 17 million urban youths known as sent downs to the countryside for manual labor and socialist reeducation This book the most comprehensive study of the program to be published in either English or Chinese to date examines the mechanisms and dynamics of state craft in China from the rustication program's inception in 1968 to its official termination in 1980 and actual completion in the 1990s Rustication in the ideology of Mao's peasant based revolution formed a critical component of the Cultural Revolution's larger attack on bureaucrats capitalists the intelligentsia and degenerative urban life This book assesses the program's origins development organization implementation performance and public administrative consequences It was the defining experience for many Chinese born between 1949 and 1962 and many of China's contemporary leaders went through the rustication program The author explains the lasting impact of the rustication program on China's contemporary administrative culture for example showing how and why bureaucracy persisted and even grew stronger during the wrenching chaos of the Cultural Revolution She also focuses on the special difficulties female sent downs faced in terms of work pressures to marry local peasants and sexual harassment predation and violence The author's parents were both sent downs and she was able to interview over fifty former sent downs from around the country something never previously accomplished China's Sent Down Generation demonstrates the rustication program's profound long term consequences for China's bureaucracy for the spread of corruption and for the families traumatized by this authoritarian social experiment The book will appeal to academics graduate and undergraduate students in public administration and China studies programs and individuals who are interested in China's Cultural Revolution era The Fading of the Maoist Vision Rhoads Murphey, 2013-11-05 First published in 1980 This book analyzes Chinese society and evaluates the achievements and failures of the Maoist ideology The central theme is the urban and rural balance in China's development from the Revolution to the late twentieth century The Fading of the Maoist Vision shows how the original Revolutionary blueprint was altered and the ways in which China has steered a different course from that charted by Mao as the ideological vision encountered an increasingly pressing set of economic realities The book is particularly valuable in setting China's achievements in the larger context of global ideas about the problems of national development and by comparing them to the experience of India in its pursuit of the Gandhian ideal A Century of Student Movements in China Xiaobing Li, Qiang Fang, 2019-12-02 In this book the authors offer their unique perspectives on the important roles Chinese students and intellectuals played in the shaping of the twentieth century China Their answers to these pivotal questions explore new nationalistic spirit modern world views and willingness of self sacrifice which had attributed to the spontaneous actions of the students as a New Culture emerged during the May Fourth Movement These articles show how China nurtured these spontaneous student movements even though the Nationalist Party in the Republic of China and the Communist Party in the People s Republic had exerted tight control over schools Both governments established organizations as well as operations among students that effectively turned some of the student movements into a political instrument by the parties for their own agenda

1968: The World Transformed Carole Fink,Philipp Gassert,Detlef Junker,1998-10-28 1968 The World Transformed presents a global perspective on the tumultuous events of the most crucial year in the era of the Cold War By interpreting 1968 as a transnational phenomenon authors from Europe and the United States explain why the crises of 1968 erupted almost simultaneously throughout the world Together the eighteen chapters provide an interdisciplinary and comparative approach to the rise and fall of protest movements worldwide The book represents an effort to integrate international relations the role of media and the cross cultural exchange of people and ideas into the history of that year 1968 emerges as a global phenomenon because of the linkages between domestic and international affairs the powerful influence of the media the networks of communication among activists and the shared opposition to the domestic and international status quo in the name of freedom and self determination China's Road to Development N. Maxwell, 2014-06-28 China's Road to Development is a collection of papers by specialists on aspects of China's economy and society. It covers a wide range of subjects from development strategy to the specifics of small scale energy exploitation from the role of women in China's development to the greening of China through great efforts in afforestation. Commenting on the limited issue original edition a special issue of the journal World Development from which this volume has been greatly expanded Dr Knowles President of the Rockefeller Foundation wrote A magnificent collection of essays by very astute and experienced observers covering everything from population control health economic planning trade city planning and rural development to Chinese aid in building the Tanzania Zambia railway. If I could only afford two books on modern China I would get this one Higher Education, Meritocracy and Inequality in China Ye Liu, 2016-10-08 This book investigates the changing opportunities in higher education for different social groups during China's transition from the socialist regime to a market economy. The first part of the book provides a historical and comparative analysis of the development of the idea of meritocracy since its early origins in China and in more recent western thought. The second part then explores higher education reforms in China the part played by supposedly meritocratic forms of selection and the implications of these for social mobility. Based on original empirical data Ye Liu sheds light on the socio economic gender and geographical inequalities behind the meritocratic facade of the Gaokao. Liu argues that the Chinese philosophical belief in education based meritocracy had a modern makeover in the Gaokao and that this ideology induces working class and rural students to believe in upward social mobility through higher education. When the Gaokao broke the promise of status improvement for rural students they turned to the Chinese Communist Party and sought political connections by actively applying for its membership. This book reveals a bleak picture of visible and invisible inequality in terms of access to and participation in higher education in contemporary China. Written in an accessible style it offers a valuable resource for researchers and non specialist readers alike Social Welfare in Socialist Countries John Dixon, David Macarov, 2016-03-17 First published in 1992 this book analyses social welfare in eight socialist countries at that time Czechoslovakia China Cuba Hungary Poland Yugoslavia North Korea and the Soviet Union. For each country it considers the ideological framework underlying the social welfare system and describes the historical development of both the system and the political and socio economic context. Each chapter looks at the structure and administration of the systems in place and how these are financed. This is followed by a consideration of the nature of different parts of the welfare system a survey of social security personal social services and the treatment of the following key target groups the aged those with disabilities and handicaps children and youth disadvantaged families the unemployed and the sick and injured. Each chapter concludes with an assessment of the effectiveness of the system considered The A to Z of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Jian Guo, Yongyi Song, Yuan Zhou, 2009 There has never been anything quite like the Cultural Revolution which disrupted life in the People's Republic of China from 1966 to 1976. It wreaked havoc in the world's most populous country often turning life upside down and undermining the party government and army weakening the economy society and culture Tens of millions were hurt or killed during this period and relatively few benefited aside from Mao Zedong and temporarily the Gang of Four The A to Z of the Chinese Cultural Revolution provides an extensive chronology that traces the events of the revolution and the introduction puts those events in context and explains them The bulk of the information is provided in numerous dictionary entries on important persons places institutions and movements The bibliography points to further resources and the glossary helps those researching in Chinese Book Jacket Economic Growth and Employment in China Thomas G. Rawski, 1979 Investigating the relation between growth and employment in China this report shows that over the past two decades the world's largest developing nation made significant strides towards the goal of full employment of its labor force by the ability of the agricultural sector to absorb the unemployed
