Family Matters Lahrichi, Lahrichi, Shotte, 2014 Foster caring is as challenging as it is rewarding There is a school of thought that if one is interested in fostering then one can become a foster carer Considering the many problems that surface on a day to day basis in a given fostering environment it takes much more that interest in fostering to make fostering work Family Matters frankly discusses what fostering entails and clearly demonstrates how Mohammed and Sharon Lahrichi have had a reasonable degree of success in their fostering work It documents cases that tell how foster children as well as biological children interpret their lived experiences as children of the same household It is a book that foster carers social workers and all those who involve in care work should read In fact it will make an interesting read for all members of any given family Family Matters also advances the idea that fostering is a work of love which should be taken seriously but which also should be celebrated in spite of the range of emotions that foster caring is capable of evoking

Hello Chicago, Goodbye Pender Harbour Mary M. White, 2005 Testimonials This is a story of new beginnings after the heartache of a broken marriage and a single mother with children to raise on her own The courage to make a decision to leave her three children with trusted friends and go afar into the future to gain more education and training to improve the family income I felt the tearing of the heart strings and the pain of separation as she knew she could not afford to return often to visit them Only as children can be resilient trusting and accepting they patched the gaps with their faithful letters and their beautiful child like drawings telling their mother of their daily adventures and the happenings in their lives As I perused this journal I was full of emotion and I can never cease to be amazed by the power of the human spirit Elsie Moon retired nurse What a pleasure to spend the evening with your latest most inspiring and excellent read I couldn t put it down A beautifully written novel tender humorous revealing and honest A family pulling together an inspiration for all and a must for my library Thanks Mary M White is a writer to watch A Lisa Wilflingsider I really enjoyed reading your book Hello Chicago Goodbye Pender Island It was very interesting reading about nursing in the small coastal town of Pender Harbour in the 1950 s It was interesting how the nurses were also x ray technicians Some things don t change like the hospital boards and their budget constraints and different leadership styles This classic information doesn t change even today The sacrifices that you made in order to further your career goals were incredible leaving three young children for four months and moving all the way to Chicago is hard to imagine The letters from your children were an added touch that really personalized the story Your letters to them about your experiences in the big city hospitals the kinds of patients and their diagnosis really allowed the reader to get a grasp of what you were experiencing as a nurse I loved your book Sherry Tudge homecare nurse Mary I enjoyed hearing from you again and getting excerpts from your book I thought it might be appropriate to remind you of the busy interesting colourful and stressful days in Pender Harbour John and Mary Playfair Reader comments Thank you for sending your wonderful book and sharing a part of your amazing life with us W S I took 2 days reading your book This is unusual for me I truly enjoyed it R F This is a love story plain and simple between children and a parent There is a bond between mother and her children that time and absence cannot destroy D L I read your book twice and thoroughly enjoyed it That is a treasure and written to keep ones interest You are a wonderful person L G Thank you for the copy of your book It is making the rounds of the members of our group I asked the first one who took it to read to come back the following week with a review She did so and was most impressed with the way the book flowed and she especially enjoyed the section where your children s letters were included K B Thank you for the generous donation of your book My goodness what an interesting life you have led We appreciate you thinking of the Richmond Public Library and I am sure that readers will find your story fascinating I am so glad you chose to share your writing with us S C
