Colonial and Decolonial Linguistics Ana Deumert, Anne Storch, Nick Shepherd, 2020-11-30 This wide ranging volume offers a detailed exploration of coloniality in the discipline of linguistics with case studies drawn from Africa Southeast Asia Europe and the Caribbean Colonial meanings and legacies have returned to the forefront of many academic fields in recent years and linguistics like several other disciplines has had an ambivalent relationship with its own histories of practice in colonial and postcolonial worlds The implications of these histories are still felt today as colonial paradigms of knowledge production continue to shape both academic linguistic practices and non specialist discussion of language and culture The chapters in this volume adopt a range of different conceptual frameworks including postcolonial theory southern theory and decolonial thinking to provide a nuanced account of the colonality of linguistics at the level of knowledge and disciplinary practice crucially the contributors also expand their investigations beyond this ambivalent inheritance to imagine a decolonial linguistics The volume will be of interest to all linguists looking to critically assess their own practices and to engage with debates at the cutting edge of their discipline particularly in the areas of sociolinguistics field linguistics typology and linguistic anthropology as well as to those outside the discipline engaging with questions of colonality

Rocking Islam Fatma Sagir, 2021 Music has the universal power to move individuals peoples and societies Music is one of the most important signifiers of cultural change It is also most significant for youth movements and youth cultures While Islam has a historically and traditionally rich culture of music religious controversy on the topic of music is still ongoing However young Muslims in today's globalised world seek pop cultural tools such as music and particularly hip hop music as way of exploring and expressing their manifold identities whilst challenging Islamophobia stigma and racism on the one hand and traditional and religious challenges on the other hand In this volume following an international conference with the same title scholars and young academics from a variety of disciplines seek to explore and highlight the phenomena surrounding the two somewhat artificially separated realms of music and religion The contributions not only look into different genres of music from Tunisian metal over German female hip hop to Egyptian folk but take the reader on a journey from continent to countries to cities and rural areas and thus give space and time to a widely neglected area of research that of Muslim popular culture and young Muslims Language Planning and Policy Ashraf Abdelhay, Sinfree Makoni, Cristine Severo, 2020-02-13 language education Global and Local Televangelism P. Thomas,P. Lee,2012-07-30 An exploration of the many faces of televangelism in our world today including Christian Islamic and Hindu The collection analyses the correspondences and major differences between global and local televangelism focusing on the main individuals involved in televangelism their practices and the social and cultural impact of their ministries Clifford Geertz in Morocco Susan Slyomovics,2013-09-13 Between 1963 and 1986 eminent American anthropologists Clifford and Hildred Geertz together and alone conducted ethnographic fieldwork for varying periods in Sefrou a town situated in north central Morocco south of Fez This book considers Geertz s contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology Clifford Geertz made an immense impact on the American academy his interpretative and symbolic approaches reoriented anthropology analytically away from classic social science presuppositions while his publications profoundly influenced both North American and Maghribi researchers alike After his death at the age of 80 on October 30 2006 scholars from local national and international universities gathered at the University of California Los Angeles to analyze his contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology in relation to Islam ideas of the sacred Morocco s cityscapes notably Sefrou s bazaar or suq colonialism and post independence economic development gender and political structures at the household and village levels This book looks back to a specific era of American anthropology beginning in the 1960s as it unfolded in Morocco and at the same time the contributions examine new lines of enquiry that opened up after key texts by Geertz were translated into French and introduced to generations of francophone Maghribi researchers who sustain lively and inventive meditations on his Morocco writings This book was published as a special issue of Journal of North African Studies The Influence of Translation on the Arabic Language Mohamed Siddig Abdalla,2018-10-19 This book explores the influence of translation on the Arabic language with particular emphasis on the translation of English idioms by journalists working at Arabic satellite TV stations using a mixed method approach quantitative and qualitative It begins from a belief that the impact of broadcast media on Arabic speakers is more instant wider and farther reaching than that caused or triggered by any other branch of mass media as not all features of television appear in other media The book focuses on idioms because of the difficulties associated with translating them and also because the literature review revealed inadequacy in understanding this intriguing part of the development of the Arabic language In contrast to other similar titles the book examines the possible factors causing journalists to resort to idiom literalisation including those relating to demographic characteristics The main significance of this book is that it has practical implications for its potential audience both practitioners and professional peers It provides information to enable media translators and lexicographers to become more sensitive towards the logico semantic relationships present in idiomatic expressions and to improve their application of idiomatic expressions in their translations Overall the results presented here will serve to guide media translators and lexicographers choice in the usage of idioms to produce better quality translations and dictionaries This insight is important not only to translators and lexicographers but also to language teachers and students of translation Pedagogically the findings of the current book will encourage translation teachers to reconsider their strategies for teaching English idioms Students of translation and English language learners in general will also benefit from the results of this book Arab Cultural Studies Tarik

Sabry,2011-11-30 Arab Cultural Studies Mapping the Field is the first attempt to explore ways of conceptualising and theorising the nascent field of Arab Cultural Studies It reflects and engages in an interdisciplinary discussion on the different facets of Arab cultural studies including gender economy history epistemology language method politics literary and cultural criticism institutionalization popular culture creativity and much more The book presents a meta narrative about how scholars have thus far thought and re thought the field It brings together prominent and emerging experts writing from both Arab and Western academia to engage with key complex epistemic and methodological questions and to articulate in the meantime the new kinds of language and hermeneutics necessary for the appropriation of an historically conscious and coherent field of scientific enquiry into contemporary Arab media culture and society The Cambridge History of World Literature Debjani Ganguly,2021-09-09 World Literature is a vital part of twentieth first century critical and comparative literary studies As a field that engages seriously with function of literary studies in our global era the study of World literature requires new approaches The Cambridge History of World Literature is founded on the assumption that World Literature is not all literatures of the world nor a canonical set of globally successful literary works It highlights scholarship on literary works that focus on the logics of circulation drawn from multiple literary cultures and technologies of the textual While not rejecting the nation as a site of analysis these volumes will offer insights into new cartographies the hemispheric the oceanic the transregional the archipelagic the multilingual local that better reflect the multi scalar and spatially dispersed nature of literary production It will interrogate existing historical methodological and cartographic boundaries and showcase humanistic and literary endeavors in the face of world scale environmental and humanitarian catastrophes
