Sacred Spaces Powerful Places In Tibetan Culture:

Sacred Spaces and Powerful Places in Tibetan Culture Toni Huber, 1999 Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 9: The Mongolia-Tibet Interface, 2007-11-30 This volume focuses on the interface between Mongolian and Tibetan cultures and aims to create a platform to encourage the development of new forms of scholarship across geographical and disciplinary boundaries This forum lets new materials emerge and brings to the fore a variety of different approaches to studying Mongolian and Tibetan cultures and societies The papers in this volume deal not only with the substantial Mongolian contribution to and engagement with Tibetan Buddhism but also with multiple readings of shared history and religion reconstruction of traditions shifting ethnic boundaries and the broader political context of the Mongolian Tibetan relationship

When a Woman Becomes a Religious Dynasty Hildegard Diemberger, 2014-03-04 In the fifteenth century the princess Chokyi Dronma was told by the leading spiritual masters of her time that she was the embodiment of the ancient Indian tantric deity Vajravarahi known in Tibetan as Dorje Phagmo the Thunderbolt Female Pig After suffering a great personal tragedy Chokyi Dronma renounced her royal status to become a nun and in turn the tantric consort of three outstanding religious masters of her era After her death Chokyi Dronma's masters and disciples recognized a young girl as her reincarnation the first in a long powerful and influential female lineage Today the twelfth Samding Dorje Phagmo leads the Samding monastery and is a high government cadre in the Tibet Autonomous Region Hildegard Diemberger builds her book around the translation of the first biography of Chokyi Dronma recorded by her disciples in the wake of her death The account reveals an extraordinary phenomenon although it had been believed that women in Tibet were not allowed to obtain full ordination equivalent to monks Chokyi Dronma not only persuaded one of the highest spiritual teachers of her era to give her full ordination but also established orders for other women practitioners and became so revered that she was officially recognized as one of two principal spiritual heirs to her main master Diemberger offers a number of theoretical arguments about the importance of reincarnation in Tibetan society and religion the role of biographies in establishing a lineage the necessity for religious teachers to navigate complex networks of political and financial patronage the cultural and social innovation linked to the revival of ancient Buddhist civilizations and the role of women in Buddhism Four introductory stage setting chapters precede the biography and four concluding chapters discuss the establishment of the reincarnation lineage and the role of the current incarnation under the peculiarly contradictory communist system

Mindscaping the Landscape of Tibet Dan Smyer Yü, 2015-03-30 Based on the author's cross regional fieldwork archival findings and critical reading of memoirs and creative works of Tibetans and Chinese this book recounts how the potency of Tibet manifests itself in modern material culture concerning Tibet which is interwoven with state ideology politics of identity imagination nostalgia forgetting remembering and earth inspired transcendence The physical place of Tibet is the antecedent point of contact for subsequent spiritual imaginations acts of destruction and reconstruction collective nostalgia and delayed aesthetic and environmental awareness shown in the eco religious acts of native Tibetans Communist radical utopianism former military officers recollections Tibetan and Chinese artwork and touristic consumption of the Tibetan landscape By drawing connections between differences dichotomies and oppositions this book explores the interiors of the diverse agentive modes of imaginations from which Tibet is imagined in China On the theoretical front this book attempts to bring forth a set of fresh perspectives on how a culturally and religiously specific landscape is antecedent to simultaneous processes of place making identity making and the bonding between place and people

Buddhism and the Dynamics of Transculturality Birgit Kellner, 2019-10-08 For over 2500 years Buddhism was implicated in processes of cultural interaction that in turn shaped Buddhist doctrines practices and institutions While the cultural plurality of Buddhism has often been remarked upon the transcultural processes that constitute this plurality and their long term effects have scarcely been studied as a topic in their own right The contributions to this volume present detailed case studies ranging across different time periods regions and disciplines and they address methodological challenges as well as theoretical problems In addition to casting a spotlight on topics as diverse as the role of trade contacts in the early spread of Buddhism the hybrid nature of religious practices in Japan or Indo Tibetan relations in Tibetan polemical literature the individual papers jointly raise the question as to whether there might be something distinct about how Buddhism steers and influences forms of cultural exchange and is in turn shaped by modalities of cultural interaction throughout Asian as well as global history The volume is intended to demonstrate the need for investigating transcultural dynamics more closely in the study of Buddhism and to suggest new avenues for Buddhist Studies

Roaming Free Like a Deer Daniel Capper, 2022-03-15 By exploring lived ecological experiences across seven Buddhist worlds from ancient India to the contemporary West Roaming Free Like a Deer provides a comprehensive critical and innovative examination of the theories practices and real world results of Buddhist environmental ethics Daniel Capper clarifies crucial contours of Buddhist vegetarianism or meat eating nature mysticism and cultural speculations about spirituality in nonhuman animals Buddhist environmental ethics often are touted as useful weapons in the fight against climate change However two formidable but often overlooked problems with this perspective exist First much of the literature on Buddhist environmental ethics uncritically embraces Buddhist ideals without examining the real world impacts of those ideals thereby sometimes ignoring difficulties in terms of practical applications Moreover for some understandable but still troublesome reasons Buddhists from different schools follow their own environmental ideals without conversing with other Buddhists thereby minimizing the abilities of Buddhists to act in concert on issues such as climate change that demand coordinated large scale human responses With its accessible style and personhood ethics orientation Roaming Free Like a Deer should appeal to anyone who is concerned with how human beings interact with the nonhuman environment

Making the Invisible Real Catherine Hartmann, 2025-05-09 How can a person learn to see a mountain as a divine mandala especially when to the ordinary eye the mountain looks like a pile of rocks and snow This is the challenge that the

Tibetan pilgrimage tradition poses to pilgrims who are told to overcome their ordinary perception to see the hidden reality of the holy mountain Drawing on multiple genres of Tibetan literature from the 13th to 20th centuries including foundational narratives of holy places polemical debates about the value of pilgrimage written guides to holy sites advice texts and personal diaries this book investigates how the pilgrimage tradition tries to transform pilgrims perception so that they might experience the wondrous sacred landscape as real and materially present Catherine Anne Hartmann argues that the pilgrimage tradition does not simply assume that pilgrims experience this sacred landscape as real but instead leads pilgrims to adopt deliberate practices of seeing ways of looking at and interacting with the world that shape their experience of the holy mountain Making the Invisible Real explores two ways of seeing the pilgrim s ordinary perception of the world and the fantastic vision believed to lie beyond this ordinary perception As pilgrims move through the holy place they move back and forth between these two ways of seeing weaving the ordinary perceived world and extraordinary imagined world together into a single experience Hartmann shows us how seemingly fantastical religious worldviews are not simply believed or taken for granted but actively constructed and reconstructed for new generations of practitioners Landscape, Ritual and Identity among the Hyolmo of Nepal

Davidson, 2008-01-01 How did a society on the edge of collapse and dominated by wandering bands of armed men give way to a vibrant Buddhist culture led by yogins and scholars Ronald M Davidson explores how the translation and spread of esoteric Buddhist texts dramatically shaped Tibetan society and led to its rise as the center of Buddhist culture throughout Asia replacing India as the perceived source of religious ideology and tradition During the Tibetan Renaissance 950 1200 C E monks and yogins translated an enormous number of Indian Buddhist texts They employed the evolving literature and practices of esoteric Buddhism as the basis to reconstruct Tibetan religious cultural and political institutions Many translators achieved the de facto status of feudal lords and while not always loyal to their Buddhist vows these figures helped solidify political power in the hands of religious authorities and began a process that led to the Dalai Lama s theocracy Davidson s vivid portraits of the monks priests popular preachers yogins and aristocratic clans who changed

Tibetan society and culture further enhance his perspectives on the tensions and transformations that characterized medieval Tibet

The Museum on the Roof of the World Clare E. Harris, 2012-10-30 For millions of people around the world Tibet is a domain of undisturbed tradition the Dalai Lama a spiritual guide By contrast the Tibet Museum opened in Lhasa by the Chinese in 1999 was designed to reclassify Tibetan objects as cultural relics and the Dalai Lama as obsolete Suggesting that both these views are suspect Clare E Harris argues in The Museum on the Roof of the World that for the past one hundred and fifty years British and Chinese collectors and curators have tried to convert Tibet itself into a museum an image some Tibetans have begun to contest This book is a powerful account of the museums created by for or on behalf of Tibetans and the nationalist agendas that have played out in them Harris begins with the British public's first encounter with Tibetan culture in 1854 She then examines the role of imperial collectors and photographers in representations of the region and visits competing museums of Tibet in India and Lhasa Drawing on fieldwork in Tibetan communities she also documents the activities of contemporary Tibetan artists as they try to displace the utopian visions of their country prevalent in the West as well as the negative assessments of their heritage common in China Illustrated with many previously unpublished images this book addresses the pressing question of who has the right to represent Tibet in

Yeh, 2013-10-25 The violent protests in Lhasa in 2008 against Chinese rule were met by disbelief and anger on the part of Chinese citizens and state authorities perplexed by Tibetans apparent ingratitude for the generous provision of development In Taming Tibet Emily T Yeh examines how Chinese development projects in Tibet served to consolidate state space and power Drawing on sixteen months of ethnographic fieldwork between 2000 and 2009 Yeh traces how the transformation of the material landscape of Tibet between the 1950s and the first decade of the twenty first century has often been enacted through the labor of Tibetans themselves Focusing on Lhasa Yeh shows how attempts to foster and improve Tibetan livelihoods through the expansion of markets and the subsidized building of new houses the control over movement and space and the education of Tibetan desires for development have worked together at different times and how they are experienced in everyday life The master narrative of the PRC stresses generosity the state and Han migrants selflessly provide development to the supposedly backward Tibetans raising the living standards of the Han s little brothers Arguing that development is in this context a form of indebtedness engineering Yeh depicts development as a hegemonic project that simultaneously recruits Tibetans to participate in their own marginalization while entrapping them in gratitude to the Chinese state The resulting transformations of the material landscape advance the project of state territorialization Exploring the complexity of the Tibetan response to and negotiations with development Taming Tibet focuses on three key aspects of China s modernization agrarian change Chinese migration and urbanization Yeh presents a wealth of ethnographic data and suggests fresh approaches that illuminate the Tibet Question
